Hold Oil Price Line, Saudi Arabians Urge

By NICK LUDINGTON
Associated Press Writer
DOHA, Qatar (AP) — The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) opened a price-fixing meeting today with only conservative Saudi Arabia, the cartel's biggest producer, opposed to an increase in the price of crude oil.

The Saudi oil minister, Sheikh Ahmed Zaki Yamani, said on his arrival in Doha that his country favors postponing the increase for six more months because the world economy is still too shaky. The Saudis previously said they would agree to a "reasonable increase" of less than 10 per cent in the price of $11.51 for a barrel of benchmark crude.

"We hope to convince the members of OPEC of our views," Yamani said. "We believe we have a strong view, but we never come with a position we can't change."

The ministers of the 13 nations who supply 80 per cent of the oil imported by the world's non-Communist nations met behind bulletproof shutters in the banquet hall of a luxurious hotel beside the Persian Gulf.

Carter To Announce More Cabinet Choices Thursday

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Having filled three Cabinet posts, President-elect Carter is expected to announce Thursday his choice for at least one more post, probably secretary of agriculture.

Rep. Bob Bergland, D-Minn., a farm operator and political ally of Vice President-elect Walter Mondale, was widely seen as the likely choice to head the Agriculture Department.

Another possibility was an announcement of Carter's reported decision to name Charles Schulze, budget director in the Johnson administration, as chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers.

Meanwhile, Rep. Andrew Young, D-Ga., said he has been offered the post as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations but that he hasn't made up his mind about whether to take the job. "I was asked to think about it, and I am," Young said.

Carter and several top aides cautioned reporters again Tuesday against advance speculation about choices for top appointments after the President-elect disclosed at a nationally-broadcast news conference that Jaime Cahill Pfeiffer, a former IBM vice president, had asked that she not be considered for the job of secretary of commerce.

Mrs. Pfeiffer later said in a statement that she had asked Carter "to withdraw my name from consideration" because a Washington job would have parted her from her husband, a senior IBM vice president, and because she had undergone a thyroid cancer operation less than a year ago that left her without "confidence in my own sustained energy level that such an assignment would require."

Chief U.S. District Judge Damon J. Keith of Detroit, a black, is one of the final three or four candidates under consideration for the job of U.S. attorney general, according to the Detroit Free Press.

John Dunlop, who resigned as labor secretary in the Ford administration, is seen as a leading candidate to return to that position under Carter.

Earlier, Carter chose Wall Street lawyer Cyrus Vance as secretary of state and Atlanta banker Thomas B. Lance as director of the Office of Management and Budget.

Carter's newest cabinet appointments are likely to reassure two communities where the President-elect still is viewed warily: Congress and commerce.

Carter selected corporate executive W. Michael Blumenthal of Michigan to be Treasury secretary and Rep. Brockman Adams, D-Wash., to be transportation secretary.

Blumenthal, chairman of the Southfield-based Bendix Corp., told reporters his selection was certain to be "a positive signal" to the business community, but he pledged to represent no specific interest group as the Treasury secretary. Some businessmen have been concerned about the impact of the Carter administration on business, with particular worry that inflation might surge because of increased government spending.

Adams, a leading congressional Democrat by virtue of his chairmanship of the new House Budget Committee, brings to the Carter administration 10 years of experience as a member of Congress, where some Democrats are expecting stiff competition with the Democratic President-elect.

Adams is the first member of Congress to join the Carter administration. Blumenthal is the third figure from the corporate world to sign up, joining Secretary of State-designate Cyrus Vance, a Wall Street lawyer, and budget director-designate Thomas B. Lance, an Atlanta banker.

Pepsi Chief On Whirlpool Board

Victor A. Bonomo, president and chief executive officer of Pepsi-Cola Company, a major division of PepsiCo, Inc., was elected a director of Whirlpool corporation at the Whirlpool board meeting in Chicago this week, according to Whirlpool Chairman John H. Platts.

VICTOR A. BONOMO
On Whirlpool board

Platts said the election of Bonomo to the Whirlpool board of directors brings added marketing expertise to the board, as reflected in Bonomo's consumer-oriented background with Pepsi-Cola company. Through its franchise system, Pepsi-Cola Metropolitan Bottling company, and its distributors, Pepsi-Cola company is responsible for the sales development of all the company's soft drinks in the United States.

Bonomo is also a director of PepsiCo, Inc. and a vice president of the U.S. Beverage Operation of PepsiCo, Inc. Prior to joining Pepsi-Cola Company in 1970, Bonomo was president of United Vintners, Inc., a major wine producing corporation. His previous 12 years were with General Foods corporation, with his last assignment as vice president and general manager of the Maxwell House division.

Bonomo is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, where he majored in economics, and the Harvard Business School advanced management program.

South Berrien Tavern Robbed

NILES — An armed robber last night made off with an estimated $100 in cash in the holdup of Kubak's tavern south of Niles at 318 State line road, state police here said.

Troopers said a man wearing a ski mask and carrying a handgun entered the tavern shortly before midnight and demanded cash. Employee Josephine McFadden gave the man money from a cash register, police said.

Two customers and the employee were forced to lay on the floor when the gunman fled, police said. No shots were fired and no one was hurt, Police said.

Police said they believe the man fled south across the state line into Indiana on US-31 in a van-type truck.

Lake Ships Racing To Reach Seaway

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — Ocean vessels are trying to avoid a Great Lakes winter, but Coast Guard officials say some may not see the Atlantic Ocean until spring.

The St. Lawrence Seaway is scheduled to close to shipping Saturday. QM 1 David Embury of the Cleveland Coast Guard station said closing dates have been delayed in the past to allow for late passage.

But an extended deadline may not be enough for some ships, especially the 550-foot Liberian cargo vessel Unimar, one of two vessels that ran aground Monday night near the Soo Locks.

Since Thursday, three ships have gone aground near Sault Ste. Marie. A fourth — the 1,000-foot vessel Stewart Cort, largest on the Great Lakes — spent 12 hours Monday squeezing through the Soo Locks.

No injuries were reported in the incidents, but shipping was thrown into a turmoil. At midnight Monday, 50 ocean-going vessels were reported on the Lakes, compared to 36 for the same date last year.

CPO Jere Bennett of the Sault Ste. Marie Coast Guard station said workers were removing cargo from the other grounded boat — the laker Thomas Wilson, with a cargo of taconite — Tuesday night. He said attempts to free the Unimar may start today. The ship is carrying grain, officials said.

If inspection shows the Liberian vessel is seaworthy after its ordeal, the Coast Guard said, it will take it at least three days to reach the Seaway — with good weather.

"I would say she's stuck," Bennett said.

The Coast Guard said a Greek freighter stuck in 1962 was the last vessel to miss the closing date.

Several boats are now racing to reach the Seaway. The Brazilian freighter Amalia, the last foreign ship of the season to depart Duluth, Minn., cleared the Soo Locks Tuesday bound for Brazil. Authorities said the Amalia should beat Saturday's 8 a.m. deadline.

The Amalia was one of more than 60 vessels delayed for two days after the 714-foot ore carrier CMT's Victory grounded in the St. Mary's River Thursday. After causing the worst shipping jam in 50 years, the Victory was finally pulled off a rocky shoal Saturday, but it suffered rudder damage.

The Cliff's Victory was in Lake Munuscong Tuesday night, awaiting tow to drydock facilities in Chicago for repairs.

The Cort bogged traffic early Monday when large chunks of ice repeatedly jammed the 105-foot-wide ore carrier in its attempts to enter the 118-foot-wide locks. Workers had to flush ice from the locks four times before the mammoth vessel could pass through Monday night.

Before any other vessels could follow the Cort through the locks, the Unimar was reported aground. Shipping was again delayed because the Coast Guard felt passing the stalled Liberian ship would be hazardous in the darkness.

After daylight Tuesday, Bennett said, the Cort passed the stranded Unimar and traffic again began moving.

OIL SPILL CLEANUP: Oil spill detected Monday afternoon in St. Joseph river by Napier bridge, St. Joseph, was being cleaned up Tuesday, and no wildlife damage was reported. Oil believed of heavy grade is displayed by Robert Rowe (left) and Norman Jacobs of A-1 Disposal, commercial cleanup firm from Plainwell. Spill described as "medium," was believed accidental and possibly from nearby Memorial hospital, said Coast Guard L. (J.G.) Doug Perkins, Muskegon. Memorial Administrator Robert Bradburn said oil possibly came from malfunctioning valve at boiler pump. Bradburn said oil could have been forced out vent on boiler building roof and into storm drain. Hospital architect and consulting engineer have been contacted. Bradburn said he understands hospital would have to pay for cleanup under law (Staff photo)

AHMED SAKI YAMANI
Favors oil price freeze

Hold Oil Price Line, Saudi Arabians Urge

By NICK LUDINGTON
Associated Press Writer

DOHA, Qatar (AP) — The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) opened a price-fixing meeting today with only conservative Saudi Arabia, the cartel's biggest producer, opposed to an increase in the price of crude oil.

The Saudi oil minister, Sheikh Ahmed Zaki Yamani, said on his arrival in Doha that his country favors postponing the increase for six more months because the world economy is still too shaky. The Saudis previously said they would agree to a "reasonable increase" of less than 10 percent in the price of $11.51 for a barrel of benchmark crude.

"We hope to convince the members of OPEC of our views," Yamani said. "We believe we have a strong view, but we never come with a position we can't change."

The ministers of the 13 nations who supply 80 percent of the oil imported by the world's non-Communist nations met behind bulletproof shutters in the banquet hall of a luxurious hotel beside the Persian Gulf.

Indonesian Oil Minister Mohammed Sadli, the current chairman of OPEC, opened the conference with a reminder to the ministers that their decisions would "affect the state of health of the world, not only now but for some time to come."

Their host, Sheikh Khalifa Bin Hamad al Thani of Qatar, told them, "All we ask for is a fair balance between the price of oil and imported industrial goods."

Yamani said his government has found that the trend of international economic recovery "is not as strong as we hoped to have." He noted that Saudi Arabian light crude is the benchmark oil on which OPEC's price structure is based, and he commented, "I don't think OPEC will be in position to raise the price of Saudi crude without the consent of Saudi Arabia."

Saudi Arabia, OPEC's leading moderate as well as its largest producer, is under heavy pressure from the United States to hold the oil price line. President-elect Carter told a news conference Tuesday that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and his successor, Cyrus R. Vance, both talked with representatives of the oil nations, and Carter said he felt "very good about their attitude."

Most of the other 12 members of the international oil cartel are anxious for a price increase, contending that it is needed to offset the erosion of international inflation on the purchasing power of their oil income. Although some nations demanded a 25 percent hike, an increase in the 8 to 15 percent range was predicted before Yamani called for a freeze.

The U.S. State Department said this week that each 5 percent increase in the price of crude oil would mean a rise of 8 of one cent in the price of gasoline in the United States, now averaging 60 cents a gallon.

The new Saudi position was certain to touch off heated debate among the ministers, who can raise OPEC prices only by a unanimous decision. Most members of the group have been insisting on a price boost despite the contention of the industrialized nations that it would worsen inflation, hamper recovery from the worldwide economic slowdown and work more hardship on the underdeveloped nations than on the industrialized countries.

Leaving Tehran early today for Qatar, Jamshid Amouzegar, Iran's OPEC envoy, reiterated that his government considers a 15 percent price hike to be "reasonable." Iran is OPEC's second biggest oil exporter, and Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi needs more income to finance his huge programs of military expansion and industrial development.

Jimmy Carter's Economic Game Plan

Until he announces more appointments to key posts in strategic areas and his State of the Union message is sent to Congress, the odds change daily on what Jimmy Carter may recommend for the domestic economy.

While some diehards, ourselves included, believe the economy should be left alone, the 8.1 percent unemployment rate is a political seedbed crying to be planted.

It is a contributive factor in his defeat of Jerry Ford.

Consequently, Carter is forced to take some kind of action.

The question is what variety he will propose.

Until this past weekend, those supposedly within his inner circle were saying a tax cut will be a certainty next year.

Carter, while not countermarching that speculation, reduced its velocity by stating to the news media he believes jobs are more essential than sheer monetary policy.

Customary to his manner of putting an idea into orbit, the President-elect failed to specify how he would create more jobs.

One tactic which has received indirect attention is the voluntary type of wage-price control first enunciated by John F. Kennedy in 1962.

Carter and Ford have alluded to one phase of it, the jaw boning over the recently announced price increase in certain types of steel products.

Their implied appeals for a rollback have gone unanswered.

Lame duck Presidents are paid only courtesy visits until they depart the White House and a President-elect does have to be inaugurated before he can speak with true authority.

Carter's jaw boning was oblique at best.

He had his running mate, Walter Mondale, say how can American industry ask the OPEC cartel to go easy on raising crude oil prices if it is bumping prices on manufactured products being sold to OPEC and others.

Successful as was Kennedy and Johnson, after him, in holding the price-wage seesaw reasonably in balance for three years, Carter's chances with the same technique appear slimmer.

Big Labor already has made it perfectly clear to the President-elect it doesn't want any restraints on its bargaining power and those from the business community whom Carter has invited to chat have pointed out that wage-price restraint works best in a period of high employment and productivity and imperfectly when the pendulum has swung the other way.

The answer to both arguments is to look back to 1974's double digit inflation.

Presumably neither business nor labor would want to revive that experience.

A re-examination of the Kennedy-Johnson formula, however, might yield a clue or two for trying the voluntary system once again.

Kennedy-Johnson worked surprisingly well until LBJ stepped up the Vietnam war.

Johnson chose a course of guns and butter at the same time. The Vietnamese demands were such as to crumble the wage-price structure.

Carter, for the present at least, does not face the military buildup and its inflationary aftermath Johnson elected to ignore.

He does, though, come up against OPEC, similar agreements on other essential raw materials imported by the U.S., and even killing frosts in Brazil's coffee orchards.

For all the disturbance these outside developments create, they are easier to adjust to than a war which until pure physical pressure puts one of the combatants out of action is not, economically speaking, controllable by anyone.

The major complaint against the Kennedy-Johnson formula, one voiced equally by unions and management, was its sacrifice of flexibility to winning public understanding.

A 1977 version adjustable to the vagaries occasioned by OPEC and other foreign influences might perform better than the original model.

Basic to its success is the willingness of everyone not to forget 1974's erratic sleigh ride.

The Potential Is Great But Resources Fall Short

On every side it is apparent the expansion of knowledge continues unabated. The mountains of raw data produced by the single phenomenon of space research guarantee endless work for scientists and educators for many years, probably decades.

It has become an accepted fact that the thrust of the U.S. economy and particularly the field of research in the last two decades has produced far more knowledge than the huge combine of industry, science and government can absorb. The longer this trend continues, the greater the backlog of information utilization will become.

Gone are the days when a new material could be explored exhaustively for its greatest advantages before another new substance came along. New techniques and materials are produced with such rapidity many are scarcely noted and are almost immediately relegated to a state of limbo.

If industry and science are finding it difficult to cope with the volume of challenges opening to them, consider the plight of the educational institution. More than ever the old conflict between time spent on learning fundamentals necessary to more sophisticated knowledge and the pathways which follow is evident.

On all sides — the production line, the laboratory, the preparation required for the field of medicine and an expanding list of other professions — time is of the essence. The familiar complaint that there simply isn't time to do it all is born of the frustration which comes with realization that there isn't enough time to do any given task as well as it might be done.

This is the plight of many of the nation's private colleges and universities. The challenges and opportunities are enormous, but the resources to tackle them are falling short.

Those schools of renown which are attempting to maintain an ever-widening pace of intellectual interest are suffering from acute financial indigestion.

Even though the average annual tuition at major private institutions has been rising steadily, many schools are confronted by deficits well up in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Private universities have been among the leaders in the drive for knowledge expansion, but prolonged financial difficulties can act as an anchor on their future participation.

Retired School Workers Ask Increase In Income

Editor,

Enclosed is a copy of a letter from the Berrien County Retired Public School Employees Association sent to Attorney F.A. (Mike) Jones. We would like to have this included in the Letters to the Editor of The Herald-Palladium. Thank you. Paul Haring, Chairman Legislative Committee Berrien County Retired Public School Employees Association

Atty. F.A. Jones
227 N. Sunnybank
St. Joseph, Mich.

Dear Mr. Jones:

The purpose of this letter is not to question the wisdom of granting substantial salary increases to state elected officers but rather to solicit your considerable help in securing equitable treatment for Michigan retired public school employees.

Over the past several years the legislators have used $70 million of the money that belonged to the public school employees retirement fund. In the current year, they have appropriated an additional $34 million from the fund "to avoid a state deficit." Yet when respectable proposals are made to improve the lot of retired school employees (many of whom have incomes below the poverty level), these proposals are denied because it is said that there is no money.

Teachers and school districts have contributed to these funds and they should have the benefits of both the funds and the interest earned by these funds.

Substitute Senate Bill 122 is a weak attempt to appease the retired public school employees group. It offers but small improvement ranging from 1 per cent to 8 per cent for those who after years of important service retired some time ago. The maximum those retirees can receive is an 8 per cent improvement. If the retirement income for these people has fallen below subsistence level, an 8 per cent increase will do little for them. Any percent of near nothing yields near nothing.

Therefore, we ask two things of you. First, immediately urge Governor Milliken to sign Substitute Senate Bill 122, which is now on his desk.

Second, use your influence to have your friends in the legislature see that the retirement funds and the interest earned be kept for the retirees and that they immediately draft a new bill which will provide the adequate income for all retired public school employees.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Atty. Jones is chairman of the State Officers Compensation Committee, which last week approved salary increases of $5,000 for state legislators, $10,775 for the governor, $12,500 for the lieutenant governor and $9,500 for Supreme Court justices over the next two years.

Carter Victory Was Bare 2%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter's victory margin over President Ford was a bare 2 per cent of the more than $1.5 million votes cast in the presidential balloting Nov. 2.

Based on certified or official vote totals from all 50 states and the District of Columbia, Carter won 40,827,292 votes to Ford's 39,146,157 — a 1,681,135-vote edge.

Condor Missile Still Won't Die

PLAINS, Ga. — If we are to believe the opinions of his assistants, Jimmy Carter is spending the day inside his brick home (1) wrestling with brave plans to reorganize the efficiency of the federal establishment, or (2) playing blocks with Amy.

In either event, perhaps, he may reach the same end. Bringing order to government has been the dream of every new president, and his inevitable failure. The bees got their bureaucratic system together some time ago, as the wags say, but Americans are still groping. Or, as Justice Brandeis put it: government is not an exact science.

The Pentagon is as good a place as any to illustrate the problems Mr. Carter faces. There, where the generals spend some $300 million in tax revenues every 24 hours, the good purpose is corrupted by stupifying waste and chronic myopia. A sobering example is the 13-year-old mortification which is officially known as the Condor missile.

The Condor was conceived as the Navy's version of the weapon of tomorrow. A smart rocket, no less, guided to target by television technology. The idea was to develop the capability for a Navy airplane to stay a safe distance (up to 60 miles) from a heavily defended target objective, yet still destroy the bull's-eye with great dependability.

Sad for national security, however, there have been troubles along the way. For one thing the Condor's weight, about 600 pounds, is inadequate for fulfilling its full destruction mission. The Walleye I missile, by comparison, was junked years ago when the Pentagon determined that its 800 pound warhead could not even demolish a bridge.

Then too there is an environmental problem with the Condor. TV guided, it is thus a fair weather weapon which is crippled at night, during fog, or even when smoke or camouflage blurs the target on screen. It has failed test after test under where conditions, to the point where one congressional investigator finds it "useless."

And finally, say Condor critics, the missile's cost is unthinkable. The Pentagon originally planned to order 800 of them, at a cost of $500 million, plus $300 million more to modify the planes that would fire them. This works out to about $400,000 apiece. By contrast, an all weather glide bomb costs $70,000, a Walleye II $38,000.

In spite of these deficiencies, at least $250 million has doggedly been spent on Condor's development. No doubt to some extent because the Pentagon's research and acquisition chief, Dr. Malcolm Currie, has given it an extraordinary blessing. Though other executives in the defense department have pointedly criticized the reliability of the missile, Currie has promoted it without reservation.

Senate probes have suggested that Currie's enthusiasm for the Condor may well be tied to his fondness for the weapon's primary contractor, Rockwell International. Two of Currie's top aides are former Rockwell employees. And Rockwell has provided Currie and a lady friend with at least one expense paid vacation to the Bahamas.

Well, is it unusual for government officers to be so cozy with government contractors? If it is, the Pentagon rule book at least says it shouldn't be. The personnel "standards of conduct" forbid any conflict of interest, or even "the appearance of such a conflict." And so Dr. Currie was reprimanded for indiscretion; he was docked some pay. Weeks later, however, he was forgiven, and given a promotion.

Given all of this, even Congress has been unsettled by the intrigue and suspicion surrounding the Condor missile. Earlier this year it took one of its rare swipes at the Pentagon, both houses voting to terminate the Condor program. And why not? At this point in time even top naval officials whisper that the missile is ill-fated.

Jobs Big Topic In Washington

WASHINGTON — Jimmy Carter is going about his job-filling process in a systematic and responsible way, but there is still a great deal of guesswork involved.

John Kennedy, who knew personally many more of his potential recruits than does Carter, sighed about this problem during his own transition period. "I must make the appointment now," he said, "but a year from now I will know who I really want to appoint."

The subject of jobs is the big topic around here.

Democratic Senator-elect Edward Zorinsky of Nebraska hasn't arrived yet but already he is being put down as bad news. It seems he goes for guilt by association, which hasn't been popular since Joe McCarthy.

Several young women who worked in the offices of Ohio Rep. Wayne Hays and Arkansas Rep. Wilbur Mills applied for jobs in Zorinsky's office, since neither Hays nor Mills will be returning after explosive sex scandals.

Zorinsky's response was to say, "The only way I would even consider interviewing those applicants would be in broad daylight in the middle of Pennsylvania Avenue with 5,000 people looking on."

A sense of humor comes in handy midst all the job-jockeying. A Kennedy-era White House aide, who has been in oblivion since the Democrats moved out eight years ago, approached Mac Kilduff in a restaurant recently. Kilduff was Kennedy's deputy press secretary and announced the President's death in Dallas in 1963.

After a variety of jobs, Kilduff wound up doing advance work for President Ford this year. "Don't expect to get a job in our administration after your disloyalty," the Kennedy aide said sarcastically. "What disloyalty?" Kilduff shot back. "I'm still an American."

Luci Nugent, youngest child of the late President Lyndon Johnson, demonstrated she is truly her father's daughter during the campaign. She campaigned for Carter in Texas despite Carter's remark in Playboy magazine that he would never lie, cheat or distort the truth as Richard Nixon and Johnson had done. Carter apologized, but the comparison with Nixon remained less than flattering.

Luci agreed to stick with Carter, she told Democratic National Committee Chairman Robert Strauss, because she remembered a letter her father had sent to her at summer camp. It was the day after he had accepted the vice presidential nomination in 1960 much to everyone's surprise and considerable criticism in Texas.

Johnson wrote that he had done it because the Democratic Party is bigger than Truman, Roosevelt or even himself — "Because it is the people." It was in that spirit she put party above her own hurt.

Mail Keeps Coming In

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has been trying in vain for two years to halt an avalanche of mail urging it not to do something it has never considered doing or been asked to do.

"The letters are still coming in at the rate of 6,000 to 7,000 a day," pleading with the FCC not to ban religious broadcasting from the airwaves, Robert Nelson, chief of the FCC's mail room, told a reporter.

Jimmy Carter's Economic Game Plan

Until he announces more appointments to key posts in strategic areas and his State of the Union message is sent to Congress, the odds change daily on what Jimmy Carter may recommend for the domestic economy.

While some diehards, ourselves included, believe the economy should be left alone, the 8.1 percent unemployment rate is a political seedbed crying to be planted.

It is a contributive factor in his defeat of Jerry Ford.

Consequently, Carter is forced to take some kind of action.

The question is what variety he will propose.

Until this past weekend, those supposedly within his inner circle were saying a tax cut will be a certainty next year.

Carter, while not countermarching that speculation, reduced its velocity by stating to the news media he believes jobs are more essential than sheer monetary policy.

Customary to his manner of putting an idea into orbit, the President-elect failed to specify how he would create more jobs.

One tactic which has received indirect attention is the voluntary type of wage-price control first enunciated by John F. Kennedy in 1962.

Carter and Ford have alluded to one phase of it, the jaw boning over the recently announced price increase in certain types of steel products.

Their implied appeals for a rollback have gone unanswered.

Lame duck Presidents are paid only courtesy visits until they depart the White House and a President-elect does have to be inaugurated before he can speak with true authority.

Carter's jaw boning was oblique at best.

He had his running mate, Walter Mondale, say how can American industry ask the OPEC cartel to go easy on raising crude oil prices if it is bumping prices on manufactured products being sold to OPEC and others.

Successful as was Kennedy and Johnson, after him, in holding the price-wage seesaw reasonably in balance for three years, Carter's chances with the same technique appear slimmer.

Big Labor already has made it perfectly clear to the President-elect it doesn't want any restraints on its bargaining power and those from the business community whom Carter has invited to chat have pointed out that wage-price restraint works best in a period of high employment and productivity and imperfectly when the pendulum has swung the other way.

The answer to both arguments is to look back to 1974's double digit inflation.

Presumably neither business nor labor would want to revive that experience.

A re-examination of the Kennedy-Johnson formula, however, might yield a clue or two for trying the voluntary system once again.

Kennedy-Johnson worked surprisingly well until LBJ stepped up the Vietnam war.

Johnson chose a course of guns and butter at the same time. The Vietnamese demands were such as to crumble the wage-price structure.

Carter, for the present at least, does not face the military buildup and its inflationary aftermath Johnson elected to ignore.

He does, though, come up against OPEC, similar agreements on other essential raw materials imported by the U.S., and even killing frosts in Brazil's coffee orchards.

For all the disturbance these outside developments create, they are easier to adjust to than a war which until pure physical pressure puts one of the combatants out of action is not, economically speaking, controllable by anyone.

The major complaint against the Kennedy-Johnson formula, one voiced equally by unions and management, was its sacrifice of flexibility to winning public understanding.

A 1977 version adjustable to the vagaries occasioned by OPEC and other foreign influences might perform better than the original model.

Basic to its success is the willingness of everyone not to forget 1974's erratic sleigh ride.

The Potential Is Great But Resources Fall Short

On every side it is apparent the expansion of knowledge continues unabated. The mountains of raw data produced by the single phenomenon of space research guarantee endless work for scientists and educators for many years, probably decades.

It has become an accepted fact that the thrust of the U.S. economy and particularly the field of research in the last two decades has produced far more knowledge than the huge combine of industry, science and government can absorb. The longer this trend continues, the greater the backlog of information utilization will become.

Gone are the days when a new material could be explored exhaustively for its greatest advantages before another new substance came along. New techniques and materials are produced with such rapidity many are scarcely noted and are almost immediately relegated to a state of limbo.

If industry and science are finding it difficult to cope with the volume of challenges opening to them, consider the plight of the educational institution. More than ever the old conflict between time spent on learning fundamentals necessary to more sophisticated knowledge and the pathways which follow is evident.

On all sides — the production line, the laboratory, the preparation required for the field of medicine and an expanding list of other professions — time is of the essence. The familiar complaint that there simply isn't time to do it all is born of the frustration which comes with realization that there isn't enough time to do any given task as well as it might be done.

This is the plight of many of the nation's private colleges and universities. The challenges and opportunities are enormous, but the resources to tackle them are falling short.

Those schools of renown which are attempting to maintain an ever-widening pace of intellectual interest are suffering from acute financial indigestion.

Even though the average annual tuition at major private institutions has been rising steadily, many schools are confronted by deficits well up in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Private universities have been among the leaders in the drive for knowledge expansion, but prolonged financial difficulties can act as an anchor on their future participation.

Retired School Workers Ask Increase In Income

Editor,

Enclosed is a copy of a letter from the Berrien County Retired Public School Employees Association sent to Attorney F.A. (Mike) Jones. We would like to have this included in the Letters to the Editor of The Herald-Palladium. Thank you. Paul Haring, Chairman Legislative Committee Berrien County Retired Public School Employees Association

Atty. F.A. Jones
227 N. Sunnyside
St. Joseph, Mich.

Dear Mr. Jones:

The purpose of this letter is not to question the wisdom of granting substantial salary increases to state elected officers but rather to solicit your considerable help in securing equitable treatment for Michigan retired public school employees.

Over the past several years the legislators have used $70 million of the money that

Editor's Mailbag

pectable proposals are made to improve the lot of retired school employees (many of whom have incomes below the poverty level), these proposals are denied because it is said that there is no money.

Teachers and school districts have contributed to these funds and they should have the benefits of both the funds and the interest earned by these funds.

Substitute Senate Bill 122 is a weak attempt to appease the retired public school employees group. It offers but small improvement ranging from 1 per cent to 8 per cent for those who after years of important service retired some time ago. The maximum those retirees can receive is an 8 per cent improvement. If the retirement income for these people has fallen below subsistence level, an 8 per cent increase will do little for them. Any percent of near nothing yields near nothing.

Therefore, we ask two things of you. First, immediately urge Governor Milliken to sign Substitute Senate Bill 122, which is now on his desk.

Second, use your influence to have your friends in the legislature see that the retirement funds and the interest earned be kept for the retirees and that they immediately draft a new bill which will provide the adequate income for all retired public school employees.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Atty. Jones is chairman of the State Officers Compensation Committee, which last week approved salary increases of $5,000 for state legislators, $10,775 for the governor, $12,500 for the lieutenant governor and $9,500 for Supreme Court justices over the next two years.

Carter Victory Was Bare 2%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter's victory margin over President Ford was a bare 2 per cent of the more than 81.5 million votes cast in the presidential balloting Nov. 2.

Based on certified or official vote totals from all 50 states and the District of Columbia, Carter won 40,827,292 votes to Ford's 39,146,157 — a 1.681,135-vote edge.

LMC Auditorium Rises To $6 Million

By RALPH LUTZ

Staff Writer

Lake Michigan college trustees learned that a proposed federally-financed $5 million community center on the campus is now expected to cost more than $6 million, according to preliminary architectural plans presented last night.

The board, however, voted unanimously to authorize its architect to proceed with center plans, including site surveys just east of the main building on the Napier avenue campus.

LMC President James Lehman predicted the extra $1 million could be raised. He said it could come from state sources, an additional federal grant, or possibly from local funding. Lehman did not elaborate, but said any future decisions for raising the money would have to be approved by the board.

Lehman said LMC must now wait to see if its application for a $5 million grant is approved. He said word will come on or before Jan. 1.

An application was filed last month for the grant with the U.S. Office of Economic Development under the federal Public Works Employment Act for regions of high unemployment. It was reported that the $5 million sought is the maximum allowed.

Lehman after last night's special board meeting, said additional funds under the new act look promising, according to what he has heard about future plans of president-elect Jimmy Carter.

Detailing the additional cost factors for the community center was Architect Malcolm Williams of Warren Holmes Co. and Kenneth Black Associates, Inc., Lansing.

Williams said to build a $5 million community center, plans will have to be trimmed to a maximum of 80,000 square feet. Williams said preliminary plans currently total 106,000 square feet. He said the 26,000 square-foot difference would boost the cost to over $6 million, including a half million dollars for site work.

Williams said the square footage includes the center building, let-out areas for vehicles and a second story bridge between the main campus buildings and the center. He said the bridge area would include 37 offices and conference rooms. Lehman suggested that some of these could be rented to local agencies.

Williams said preliminary plans were drawn to meet known basic needs, but more work is to be done. He said questionnaires still are to be sent for suggestions to LMC faculty members and various local agencies that would use the center.

The heart of the center is a 2,050-seat auditorium which would have 1,300 seats on the main floor, 450 in the first balcony and 300 in the second balcony.

Other planned features include a smaller theater of 300 seats, entered from the second level bridge at the top row; three multi-use rooms totaling 7,300 square feet and clustered around a central kitchen; and rehearsal rooms for vocal and instrumental groups.

Williams said it's too early to present an exterior drawing of the center. He did say the roof would be low at the eaves and rise modernistically to various heights, giving the appearance of a two-story structure in some areas and a three-story building in others. This is to accommodate entry to the smaller theater from the second level bridge and the third balcony of the main theater from the ground floor.

BH Exchange Club Set For Yule Sale

Benton Harbor Exchange club Newsies will have to make a lot of sales Friday if the Benton Harbor Area Good Fellow fund is to fulfill its mission.

Don Peters, Exchange president, told club members Tuesday the Good Fellow fund is committed to provide Christmas gift checks to 435 needy elderly people and gift certificates to 195 deserving families.

Exchange Newsies will be on the streets Friday selling mini-editions of The Herald-Palladium. All proceeds from the sale go to the Good Fellow fund.

Peters spoke at an Exchange luncheon hosted by W. J. Banyon, editor and publisher of The Herald-Palladium, at Berrien Hills Country club.

Banyon exhorted the Newsies to get out Friday and "Give it the old college try... whether it be in the spirit of Notre Dame, U of M, MSU or whatever your favorite."

Atty. James Straub, sale chairman, told Banyon there will be such an effort, but alumnus Straub prefers Notre Dame while Banyon's affections are in Ann Arbor.

Musical inspiration for the sale was provided some 70 Exchange members and guest Newsies by the Lake Michigan college Madrigals and concert choir, directed by Mrs. Barbara Born, and the LMC brass ensemble, directed by Dr. Donald Moody.

BENTON HARBOR AREA
Good Fellow FUND

Although looking ahead to the sale, Santa Claus welcomes Good Fellow contributions made at The Herald-Palladium office.

From Decatur came $5 today from Emmett and Elizabeth Adams. There was $10 "in memory of Sean, a wire-haired Terrier too adventurous for his own good."

The Good Fellow fund total today is $2,465.17.

"Remember our job," Santa said, "435 needy elderly and 195 deserving families."

BHHS Bands Give Concert Thursday

The annual winter concert of Benton Harbor high school bands will be Thursday at 8 p.m. in the performing arts center at BHHS. Charles Bullard, director of instrumental music, said freshman, concert and symphony bands will perform. Each band will play three numbers ranging from symphonic to march to Christmas music. There is no admission charge.

Judge Hears 4 In Laity Case

By NICK SMITH

Staff Writer

Visiting Judge James D. Hayne heard testimony Tuesday in Berrien Fifth District court from four witnesses in the preliminary examination of Mrs. Frances Laity, 76, on a charge of negligent homicide. Hayne, of Hillsdale, then adjourned the hearing, saying it probably will resume in January.

None of the witnesses yesterday identified Mrs. Laity as the driver of the car which struck Wanda Davis, 12, Nov. 15 at Colfax and Empire avenues, Benton Harbor. Wanda died about three and a half hours after being hit. Mrs. Laity is the wife of retired Berrien District Judge Harry Laity.

The witnesses testified they were in other cars near the intersection.

Miss Vicki Provost, of 767 Pasadena avenue, Benton Harbor, said the girl had a green traffic light and was in the crosswalk when she was struck by "a shiny car" driven by "a blond lady." The girl had just begun running from the southwest to the southeast corner of the intersection when she was hit by the car. Miss Provost told Judge Hayne.

Under questioning by St. Joseph Atty. George Keller, defense counsel, Miss Provost testified she covered her eyes when the girl was struck and saw nothing more. Miss Provost said she left the scene of the 3:35 p.m. accident because "I was on my way to get food stamps at the food stamp office and it closed at four o'clock." She contacted police the next day.

The only other witness who testified definitely about seeing a child struck was Mrs. Myrna Nordine, 1838 Broadway, Benton township.

Her testimony put initial impact at a different location. Mrs. Nordine testified the girl was one or two car lengths south of the crosswalk when she was struck.

The first thing Mrs. Nordine saw, she testified, was the girl being hit by "a blue car."

She and her daughter, Trudy, who also testified, told the court they watched the girl being dragged under the car.

The other witness was Elwood Jacobs, 3612 Lake Shore Drive, St. Joseph. At the time of the accident he was stopped in his car on Colfax, heading south, waiting for the light.

Jacobs told the court his view of the accident was almost completely blocked by cars

CLUB'S TOP MEMBER: Jeffery Spitzer, 17, Berrien Springs (center) displays Alyce and Barden Borst trophy awarded him as outstanding senior club member last night at annual dinner for members of Al-Bar Ranch 4-H club at Tom's restaurant. Spitzer, member of club 8 years and its president 2 years, won 8 gold medals, 5 silver and 2 bronze in state competition as horseman during his career in 4-H. He also won numerous county honors, and was member of Berrien county 4-H horse judging team that participated in National Youth Horse Congress at Waco, Tex., this year. ## SJ 'Team' Gets Santa Pep Talk

"It's time for the big push. We're like a team with a few minutes left in a big game. We've got to give all we've got now," Old St. Nick said.

Santa made the comment after comparing this year's total with the corresponding total the same time last year. A worried look crept over the old saint's face as he noted the St. Joseph Area Good Fellow fund is $322.78 down from last year on the same date.

"There are only 10 days left till Christmas. We've got to get going," he said.

The Good Fellow fund received four contributions today totaling $61. A $15 contribution came "in memory of Vaughn Butzbach and Ruth and Roy Butzbach."

Also received was a $6 gift "in memory of Bill Tousain." Rounding out the day's gifts were a $15 "anonymous" donation and $25 from the Womens Service League.

The Good Fellow fund presently has $1,277.06 with

$3,722.94 to be collected if the goal of $5,000 is to be reached.

Ford Decision Waits 2nd Hearing

Testimony ended yesterday in Berrien Fifth District court in a preliminary examination of Mrs. Helen Ford on a charge of obtaining a $3,500 loan from Inter-City bank under false pretenses.

Another preliminary examination for Mrs. Ford was to continue today on a charge of fraudulently obtaining $5,900 from Berrien County Action, Inc., when she was executive director of BCA.

Mr. Ford, 43, a former Benton Harbor city commissioner now living in Chicago, was indicted on the two charges by the Berrien citizens' grand jury.

Prosecutor John Smietanka said he expects all prosecution testimony to be completed today in the second examination. District Judge Ronald J. Taylor said he would rule on both cases as soon as all the evidence is in. The prosecution contends Mrs. Ford obtained money from ICB on Dec. 10, 1975, by claiming a 1973 Cadillac was free of any encumbrances, but a lien was held on the car by a car dealer at the time.

Victor Greer, owner of Greer's Used Car Sales, testified he sold a 1973 Cadillac to Mrs. Ford.

Greer testified that Mrs. Ford in August, 1975, gave him a $750 deposit for the car, and when she picked it up paid another $2,300, leaving a balance of $2,618 which was to be paid in 90 days. Greer said the balance was not paid within the 90 days, but on Jan. 2, 1976, Mrs. Ford's husband, Charles, paid the balance.

He said he still did not discharge the lien he held on the car because Mrs. Ford owed a repair bill, and when that bill was settled in June, 1976, he discharged the lien.

Robert Brewitz, branch manager of the ICB office on Wall street in Benton Harbor, said he approved Mrs. Ford's

LMC Auditorium Rises To $6 Million

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

Lake Michigan college trustees learned that a proposed federally-financed $5 million community center on the campus is now expected to cost more than $6 million, according to preliminary architectural plans presented last night.

The board, however, voted unanimously to authorize its architect to proceed with center plans, including site surveys just east of the main building on the Napier avenue campus.

LMC President James Lehman predicted the extra $1 million could be raised. He said it could come from state sources, an additional federal grant, or possibly from local funding. Lehman did not elaborate, but said any future decisions for raising the money would have to be approved by the board.

Lehman said LMC must now wait to see if its application for a $5 million grant is approved. He said word will come on or before Jan. 1.

An application was filed last month for the grant with the U.S. Office of Economic Development under the federal Public Works Employment Act for regions of high unemployment. It was reported that the $5 million sought is the maximum allowed.

Lehman after last night's special board meeting, said additional funds under the new act look promising, according to what he has heard about future plans of president-elect Jimmy Carter.

Detailing the additional cost factors for the community center was Architect Malcolm Williams of Warren Holmes Co. and Kenneth Black Associates, Inc., Lansing.

Williams said to build a $5 million community center, plans will have to be trimmed to a maximum of 80,000 square feet. Williams said preliminary plans currently total 106,000 square feet. He said the 26,000 square-foot difference would boost the cost to over $6 million, including a half million dollars for site work.

Williams said the square footage includes the center building, let-out areas for vehicles and a second story bridge between the main campus buildings and the center. He said the bridge area would include 37 offices and conference rooms. Lehman suggested that some of these could be rented to local agencies.

Williams said preliminary plans were drawn to meet known basic needs, but more work is to be done. He said questionnaires still are to be sent for suggestions to LMC faculty members and various local agencies that would use the center.

The heart of the center is a 2,050-seat auditorium which would have 1,300 seats on the main floor, 450 in the first balcony and 300 in the second balcony.

Other planned features include a smaller theater of 300 seats, entered from the second level bridge at the top row; three multi-use rooms totaling 7,300 square feet and clustered around a central kitchen; and rehearsal rooms for vocal and instrumental groups.

Williams said it's too early to present an exterior drawing of the center. He did say the roof would be low at the eaves and rise modernistically to various heights, giving the appearance of a two-story structure in some areas and a three-story building in others. This is to accommodate entry to the smaller theater from the second level bridge and the third balcony of the main theater from the ground floor.

BH Exchange Club Set For Yule Sale

Benton Harbor Exchange club Newsies will have to make a lot of sales Friday if the Benton Harbor Area Good Fellow fund is to fulfill its mission.

Don Peters, Exchange president, told club members Tuesday the Good Fellow fund is committed to provide Christmas gift checks to 435 needy elderly people and gift certificates to 195 deserving families.

Exchange Newsies will be on the streets Friday selling mini-editions of The Herald-Palladium. All proceeds from the sale go to the Good Fellow fund.

Peters spoke at an Exchange luncheon hosted by W. J. Banyon, editor and publisher of The Herald-Palladium, at Berrien Hills Country club.

Banyon exhorted the Newsies to get out Friday and "Give it the old college try... whether it be in the spirit of Notre Dame, U of M, MSU or whatever your favorite."

Atty. James Straub, sale chairman, told Banyon there will be such an effort, but alumnus Straub prefers Notre Dame while Banyon's affections are in Ann Arbor.

Musical inspiration for the sale was provided some 70 Exchange members and guest Newsies by the Lake Michigan college Madrigals and concert choir, directed by Mrs. Barbara Born, and the LMC brass ensemble, directed by Dr. Donald Mooley.

Judge Hears 4 In Laity Case

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Visiting Judge James D. Hayne heard testimony Tuesday in Berrien Fifth District court from four witnesses in the preliminary examination of Mrs. Frances Laity, 76, on a charge of negligent homicide. Hayne, of Hillsdale, then adjourned the hearing, saying it probably will resume in January.

None of the witnesses yesterday identified Mrs. Laity as the driver of the car which struck Wanda Davis, 12, Nov. 15 at Colfax and Empire avenues, Benton Harbor. Wanda died about three and a half hours after being hit. Mrs. Laity is the wife of retired Berrien District Judge Harry Laity.

The witnesses testified they were in other cars near the intersection.

Miss Vicki Provost, of 767 Pasadena avenue, Benton Harbor, said the girl had a green traffic light and was in the crosswalk when she was struck by "a shiny car" driven by "a blond lady." The girl had just begun running from the southwest to the southeast corner of the intersection when she was hit by the car, Miss Provost told Judge Hayne.

Under questioning by St. Joseph Atty. George Keller, defense counsel, Miss Provost testified she covered her eyes when the girl was struck and saw nothing more. Miss Provost said she left the scene of the 3:35 p.m. accident because "I was on my way to get food stamps at the food stamp office and it closed at four o'clock." She contacted police the next day.

The only other witness who testified definitely about seeing a child struck was Mrs. Myrna Nordine, 1858 Broadway, Benton township.

Her testimony put initial impact at a different location. Mrs. Nordine testified the girl was one or two car lengths south of the crosswalk when she was struck.

The first thing Mrs. Nordine saw, she testified, was the girl being hit by "a blue car."

She and her daughter, Trudy, who also testified, told the court they watched the girl being dragged under the car.

The other witness was Elwood Jacobs, 3612 Lake Shore Drive, St. Joseph. At the time of the accident he was stopped in his car on Colfax, heading south, waiting for the light.

Jacobs told the court his view of the accident was almost completely blocked by cars

CLUB'S TOP MEMBER: Jeffery Spitzer, 17, Berrien Springs (center) displays Alyce and Barden Borst trophy awarded him as outstanding senior club member last night at annual dinner for members of Al-Bar Ranch 4-H club at Tosi's restaurant. Spitzer, member of club 8 years and its president 2 years, won 8 gold medals, 5 silver and 2 bronze in state competition as horseman during his career in 4-H. He also won numerous county honors, and was member of Berrien county 4-H horse judging team that participated in National Youth Horse Congress at Waco, Tex., this year. Dr. John Welser, (right) dean of College of Veterinary Medicine at Michigan State university, was speaker at awards banquet. Dr. Michael Chaddock, club leader, is at left. (Staff photo)

SJ 'Team' Gets Santa Pep Talk

"It's time for the big push. We're like a team with a few minutes left in a big game. We've got to give all we've got now," Old St. Nick said.

Santa made the comment after comparing the total with the corresponding total the same time last year. A worried look crept over the old saint's face as he noted the St. Joseph Area Good Fellow fund is $322.78 down from last year on the same date.

"There are only 10 days left till Christmas. We've got to get going," he said.

The Good Fellow fund received four contributions today totaling $61. A $15 contribution came "in memory of Vaughn Butzbach and Ruth and Roy Butzbach."

Also received was a $6 gift "in memory of Bill Tousain." Rounding out the day's gifts were a $15 "anonymous" donation and $25 from the Womens Service League.

The Good Fellow fund presently has $1,277.06 with

Although the roasted goose has been the traditional Christmas fare for over 800 years, today's domestic geese have far less fat with more flavor and meat than those of Grandmother's day. They are grown on modern farms to be moist inside with a golden crispy skin outside when roasted properly.

The skin, which many connoisseurs regard as the best part of the goose, crisps even more and takes on a slightly sweet flavor as the warmed brandy burns softly around it. It is a fine taste of luxury served with a flair. And, it costs less than you probably think.

Kugel And Latkes Are Traditional For Joyous Jewish Holiday

The Jewish holiday of Hanukkah, which is celebrated every year for eight nights and eight days, begins Thursday night, Dec. 17.

Candles will be lighted in every Jewish home — one on the first night, two on the second, three on the third — and so on up to the eighth night when eight candles will be lighted. The Menorah, a special nine-branched candelabrum, will be used for the occasion. The ninth branch holds an extra candle from which the others will be lighted.

The significance of the candle ceremony is that it recalls the rekindling of the lights of the Temple when the holy place was rededicated after the Maccabean warriors had recaptured it from the Syrians.

Hanukkah is one of the most joyous Jewish holidays with customs similar to those of Christmas — giving gifts, lighting candles, decorating the home — yet distinctly Jewish in flavor. Unlike the red and green of Christmas decorations, blue and white are the Jewish colors for Hanukkah gift wrappings and decorations.

Games are very popular for Hanukkah. Card and dice games are played during the holiday season, but gambling for money is not allowed. The stakes usually are candles, nuts, raisins or other edible treats. The draw-off or spinning top is traditional at this time of year and children play this game of chance for sweet rewards.

Food is an important part of any holiday celebration and Hanukkah is no exception. There are no food restrictions during this season and Jewish cooks serve festive meals.

Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Cold Shower Theory Rapped

Dear Ann Landers: Your agreeing with the high-school student who believed it should be legal for him to purchase contraceptives (he lives in Massachusetts) was shocking. People expect you, Ann Landers, to uphold the moral standards. Instead you go along with the weaklings who will surely destroy our civilization by their hedonism and decadence.

You ought to be telling high school kids to pay more attention to their studies. Young boys should be advised to treat girls with respect. Young girls should be instructed to think of their bodies as holy temples. Our teenagers need to be told sexual promiscuity begets disgust, disease, unhappiness and misery.

When I was growing up only the crudest boys and the cheapest girls (we called them "tramps") had sex just for the fun of it. All this looseness has come about since World War II, thanks to advertising, pornography, trashy movies and the affluent society.

I think you could do a lot to stem the tide if you had the courage to speak out and didn't worry so much about being called a square.

Tell your young male readers that self-control is a wonderful thing and when they have the urge, a cold shower can do wonders to get their minds up above the belt and back on the books where they belong. — Another Voice From Massachusetts (Warechester)

Dear Voice: I agree that self-control is a wonderful thing. I also believe that virginity is beautiful — if a girl can hang on to it. But to tell a high school senior who is trying to buy contraceptives in a drugstore that he should take a cold shower and forget about it is ridiculous.

Once a teenager (male or female) has crossed the line and experienced sex, he or she is not about to stop just because contraceptives are illegal. What they are apt to do is go ahead and take a chance on disease, pregnancy and a whole host of unfortunate events — such as a sudden end to their education, a too-early marriage, an unwanted child or an abortion.

The drive to reproduce is second only to the instinct for survival. It is inborn, demanding, persistent, compelling, and it will not go away.

I say it is far better to permit sexually active young people to buy protection than to deny it to them and let them (and us) suffer the consequences.

Pot Peere Dept.

Dear Ann: Another for your "Pot Peere Dept." I've been huggled by this for ages. I wonder how many others feel as I do.

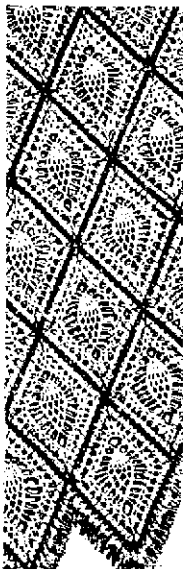

My husband and I both work. I earn as much money as he does. Whenever we take a widowed or unmarried friend to dinner, she invariably turns to my husband and says, "Thank you, Norman. It was thoughtful of you to have

OVER ICE CREAM

Canned cling peach slices are delicious over ice cream. Try an all fruit sundae with strawberry ice cream topped with golden peach slices.

I can take only so many of these Christmas bazaar with their homemade counters of cleverness and creativity — then I start to regress.

Walking through the rows of homemade cookies, bottle cap abstracts, crocheted hats, and disguised styrofoam. I ask myself, "What are you doing with your life that is meaningful?" "Have you ever finished anything you started including your children?" "You're nothing but a piece of lint in a black wool coat world!"

Eventually, I snap out of my self-pity and become like most women who go to bazaars — not to buy, but to copy the idea and reproduce it myself.

This month, I looked at a wine bottle that had the neck cut off and the edges sanded and was instantly converted to a votive candle holder and I said to myself, "I can do that."

The stitches in my hand come out the 18th of this month.

I looked at a little needlepointed doorknob warmer

with a picture of Santa Claus with a little cotton beard and a bell on his little cap and said to myself, "I can do that." What the heck! How many doorknobs do you know personally who complain of the cold?

I looked at an angel where the head was a styrofoam ball and all you had to do was dip your husband's old underwear in a heavy paste and drape it gracefully over the cone and spray paint it gold and I said to myself, "I can do that."

A lot of men wear gold underwear, especially during the holidays when they don't have to sit a lot.

I looked at a great big old log that someone had just picked up in the woods and there was virtually a jungle of green plants trailing out of every opening and I said to myself, "I can do that."

The exterminator is coming out Tuesday to give me an estimate on how much it will cost to get the pregnant worms out of my woodwork.

I looked at a calico map of the United States that you just run up on your sewing machine out of scraps of material you have around the house and I said to myself, "I can do that."

Eighteen more payments and the sewing machine is mine. The dog ate Colorado which makes a heckuva hole between Utah, Wyoming, Nebraska, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. I lied. I can't do any of that!

THE MANY CAUSES OF HOARSENESS

I've been told that hoarseness is one of the signs of cancer. I've been hoarse for more than three months and even though a throat specialist hasn't found any trouble with my voice box, I'm still concerned. — Mr. J. L., Ohio

Dear Mr. L.: You have been "told" wrong. Whoever it was who told you that hoarseness is always a sign of cancer did you an injustice by introducing this idea in your head.

Let me see if I can't set you straight. Hoarseness, like pain or fever, is the body's way of calling attention to special needs for help.

Not all hoarseness is caused by cancer. In fact, not more than a small fraction of cases of hoarseness are attributed to any serious trouble.

The vocal cords are two strands of muscle tissue about an inch long. They lie in the voice box, or larynx, in the neck. When one speaks, the vocal cords come together. They separate while breathing. One cannot speak and breathe at the same time.

Anything that interferes with the vocal cords coming together in tight contact can cause hoarseness. Temporary swelling during a cold, allergic reactions, vocal abuse, nodules, polyps and tumors can all produce hoarseness.

Tobacco, especially cigarette smoking, is a particular offender.

Examination of the larynx, known as "laryngoscopy," can readily establish the presence or absence of any disease or impaired motion of the vocal cords. This apparently was done for you. Therefore you should feel reassured.

Certainly, if the hoarseness persists you should be examined at regular intervals for the added assurance you obviously need.

Can a severe fright turn the hair suddenly white? — Mrs. G. W., Iowa Dear Mrs. W.:

Every doctor has been told by some patient that fright, or a calamity, or a severe emotional upset has been responsible for suddenly turning the hair white.

Perhaps it is true, but there is no real scientific basis for it. Some drugs can hurry the graying process and give the impression of suddenness. Severe illnesses and malnutrition can give the same impression. The pigment-producing cells at the root of the hair can, perhaps, be affected by fright. Even if this did happen the hair itself would not suddenly lose all its pigment and turn white.

Invite Senior Citizens

All senior citizens of Sodus township are invited to a get-together Friday, Dec. 17, at 7 p.m. at the Sodus township library.

Chester Cutha will speak on the metric system. Refreshments will be served.

The event is being sponsored by the library board.

Cold Shower Theory Rapped

Dear Ann Landers: Your agreeing with the high-school student who believed it should be legal for him to purchase contraceptives (he lives in Massachusetts) was shocking. People expect you, Ann Landers, to uphold the moral standards. Instead you go along with the weaklings who will surely destroy our civilization by their hedonism and decadence.

You ought to be telling high school kids to pay more attention to their studies. Young boys should be advised to treat girls with respect. Young girls should be instructed to think of their bodies as holy temples. Our teenagers need to be told sexual promiscuity begets disgust, disease, unhappiness and misery.

When I was growing up only the crudest boys and the cheapest girls (we called them "tramps") had sex just for the fun of it. All this looseness has come about since World War II, thanks to advertising, pornography, trashy movies and the affluent society.

I think you could do a lot to stem the tide if you had the courage to speak out and didn't worry so much about being called a square.

Tell your young male readers that self-control is a wonderful thing and when they have the urge, a cold shower can do wonders to get their minds up above the belt and back on the books where they belong. — Another Voice From Massachusetts (Worcester)

Dear Voice: I agree that self-control is a wonderful thing. I also believe that virginity is beautiful — if a girl can hang on to it. But to tell a high school senior who is trying to buy contraceptives in a drugstore that he should take a cold shower and forget about it is ridiculous.

Once a teenager (male or female) has crossed the line and experienced sex, he or she is not about to stop just because contraceptives are illegal. What they are apt to do is go ahead and take a chance on disease, pregnancy and a whole host of unfortunate events — such as a sudden end to their education, a too-early marriage, an unwanted child or an abortion.

The drive to reproduce is second only to the instinct for survival. It is inborn, demanding, persistent, compelling, and it will not go away.

I say it is far better to permit sexually active young people to buy protection than to deny it to them and let them (and us) suffer the consequences.

Pet Peeve Dept.

Dear Ann: Another for your "Pet Peeve Dept." I've been bugged by this for ages. I wonder how many others feel as I do.

My husband and I both work. I earn as much money as he does. Whenever we take a widowed or unmarried friend to dinner, she invariably turns to my husband and says, "Thank you, Norman. It was thoughtful of you to have me as your guest."

Those women are our guests. Why don't they realize it? Lately I have been tempted to tell them so. Should I? — Ticked Off

Dear T.O'd: If it will make you feel better, go ahead, but I believe the guest knows she was treated by you both. In fact, it's usually the wife's idea to invite the singleton. Since the husband is the one who pays the check, the guest is inclined to say thank you to him.

Planning a wedding? What's right? What's wrong? Ann Landers' completely new "The Bride's Guide" will relieve your anxiety. To receive a copy, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (13 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

South as declarer had a really good chance to make it. He ducked the king of spades lead and if West had shifted to any other suit or had led a low spade everything would have come up roses for South. After long study West decided that his only chance would be to continue with the queen of spades and hope to pick South's jack so West led the queen and ended South's chance for success.

South's two-notrump rebid ought to have shown a better spade holding than jack-small, but South just wanted to discourage any slam ideas his partner might have. North was discouraged and settled for three notrump.

Three notrump played by North would be the normal contract for his hand and it would

'I Can Do That'

I can take only so many of these Christmas bazaars with their homemade counters of cleverness and creativity — then I start to regress.

Walking through the rows of homemade cookies, bottle cap abstracts, crocheted hats, and disguised styrofoam. I ask myself, "What are you doing with your life that is meaningful?" "Have you ever finished anything you started including your children?" "You're nothing but a piece of lint in a black wool coat world!"

Eventually, I snap out of my self-pity and become like most women who go to bazaars — not to buy, but to copy the idea and reproduce it myself.

This month, I looked at a wine bottle that had the neck cut off and the edges sanded and was instantly converted to a votive candle holder and I said to myself, "I can do that."

The stitches in my hand came out the 18th of this month.

I looked at a little needlepointed doorknob warmer

with a picture of Santa Claus with a little cotton beard and a bell on his little cap and said to myself, "I can do that."

What the heck! How many doorknobs do you know personally who complain of the cold?

I looked at an angel where the body was a simple cone and the head was a styrofoam ball and all you had to do was dip your husband's old underwear in a heavy paste and drape it gracefully over the cone and spray paint it gold and I said to myself, "I can do that."

A lot of men wear gold underwear, especially during the holidays when they don't have to sit a lot.

I looked at a great big old log that someone had just picked up in the woods and there was virtually a jungle of green plants trailing out of every opening and I said to myself, "I can do that."

The exterminator is coming out Tuesday to give me an estimate on how much it will cost to get the pregnant worms out of my woodwork.

I looked at a calico map of the United States that you just run up on your sewing machine out of scraps of material you have around the house and I said to myself, "I can do that."

Eighteen more payments and the sewing machine is mine. The dog ate Colorado which makes a heckuva hole between Utah, Wyoming, Nebraska, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. I lied. I can't do any of that!

Michigan Getting Ford Papers

By HOWARD BENEDET
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's papers and historical material gathered during his 28 years in service to the federal government will be preserved in Michigan, the White House said Tuesday.

This letter of donation directed that the papers and related material be stored in a Gerald Ford library to be built at his alma mater, the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, and that the memorabilia be exhibited in a museum to be situated in his home town of Grand Rapids.

Included are all papers, documents, correspondence, notes, books, photographs, films, recordings, works of art and other related material gathered during his years in Congress, as vice president and as President.

James Rhoads, archivist of the United States, told reporters the material will fill 11,335 cubic feet of space and contain between 25 and 30 million pieces of paper.

The President's offer to convey his "rights, title and interest" in the material was made in a letter signed Monday and addressed jointly to Rhoads and University of Michigan President Robben Fleming. Ford is a 1935 graduate of the U-M.

Under the terms of the offer, the federal government will receive the material and administer the twin facilities. The library is to be constructed and owned by the University of Michigan and a "suitable building" is to be provided for the Grand Rapids museum by an appropriate organization — possibly the Gerald R. Ford Commemorative Committee.

Rhoads, who heads the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration which administers presidential libraries, accepted the papers and other materials Monday night. He also agreed to the library and museum plan.

Fleming received his copy of the letter Tuesday morning in Ann Arbor and accepted the university's role in the arrangement "with the understanding that the university will use its best efforts to raise the necessary funds for, and to accomplish the design and construction of, the contemplated archival facility."

The university already houses Ford's congressional papers. In anticipation of receiving the vice presidential and presidential papers, it already has selected a site on its North Campus next to the Bentley Historical Library for the Ford library.

Rhoads said several sites for the museum are being considered in Grand Rapids, including existing buildings that could be renovated.

He said no federal money will be used to construct the facility.

Senate Leader Showdown Vote Expected Today

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A showdown vote for the post of state Senate majority leader is expected today as Senate Democrats meet to select leaders for the next two years.

The caucus will determine whether any of the 24 Democratic senators have enough backing to oust current Majority Leader William Fitzgerald of Detroit.

Fitzgerald's prime opponent is Sen. William Faust of Westland, currently chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee. Faust is, by all reports, the compromise candidate of several lawmakers who oppose Fitzgerald.

Critics claimed Fitzgerald, 54, had been using the majority leader's post to further his gubernatorial ambitions, had ignored their bills or referred them to the wrong committees and had restricted their office spending and travels. Some found Fitzgerald's aggressive style abrasive.

Michigan Getting Ford Papers

By HOWARD BENEDICT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's papers and historical material gathered during his 28 years in service to the federal government will be preserved in Michigan, the White House said Tuesday.

His letter of donation directed that the papers and related material be stored in a Gerald Ford library to be built at his alma mater, the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, and that the memorabilia be exhibited in a museum to be situated in his home town of Grand Rapids.

Included are all papers, documents, correspondence, notes, books, photographs, films, recordings, works of art and other related material gathered during his years in Congress, as vice president and as President.

James Rhoads, archivist of the United States, told reporters the material will fill 11,355 cubic feet of space and contain between 25 and 30 million pieces of paper.

The President's offer to convey his "rights, title and interest" in the material was made in a letter signed Monday and addressed jointly to Rhoads and University of Michigan President Robben Fleming. Ford is a 1935 graduate of the U-M.

Under the terms of the offer, the federal government will receive the material and administer the two facilities. The library is to be constructed and owned by the University of Michigan and a "suitable building" is to be provided for the Grand Rapids museum by an appropriate organization — possibly the Gerald R. Ford Commemorative Committee.

Rhoads, who heads the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration which administers presidential libraries, accepted the papers and other materials Monday night. He also agreed to the library and museum plan.

Fleming received his copy of the letter Tuesday morning in Ann Arbor and accepted the university's role in the arrangement "with the understanding that the university will use its best efforts to raise the necessary funds for, and to accomplish the design and construction of, the contemplated archival facility."

The university already houses Ford's congressional papers. In anticipation of receiving the vice presidential and presidential papers, it already has selected a site on its North Campus next to the Bentley Historical Library for the Ford library.

Rhoads said several sites for the museum are being considered in Grand Rapids, including existing buildings that could be renovated.

He said no federal money will be used to construct the facility.

ties. But he said once they are built, taxpayers will have to pay an estimated $800,000 a year to staff and maintain them.

President and Mrs. Ford will visit the U-M Sunday for winter commencement exercises. Mrs.

Ford will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree in ceremonies at Crisler Arena. It will be the President's first visit to his home state since he lost the November presidential election to Jimmy Carter.

Senate Leader Showdown Vote Expected Today

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A showdown vote for the post of state Senate majority leader is expected today as Senate Democrats meet to select leaders for the next two years.

The caucus will determine whether any of the 24 Democratic senators have enough backing to oust current Majority Leader William Fitzgerald of Detroit.

Fitzgerald's prime opponent is Sen. William Faust of Westland, currently chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee. Faust is, by all reports, the compromise candidate of several lawmakers who opposed Fitzgerald.

Critics claimed Fitzgerald, 34, had been using the majority leader's post to further his gubernatorial ambitions, had ignored their bills or referred them to the wrong committees and had restricted their office spending and travels. Some found Fitzgerald's aggressive style abrasive.

Fitzgerald said Tuesday he would adopt a new "modified" approach to running the Senate if he won reelection. He promised to increase the participation of individual senators and to work for consensus on key legislation.

But he stressed he would continue to try and speak for Senate Democrats on major issues.

"The Senate doesn't need just a manager," Fitzgerald said. "If nobody takes the leadership role ... something is lacking in the chamber."

Faust, 47, is confined to a wheelchair after being injured in an auto accident. Mild-mannered and well liked by his colleagues, he promised to abide by the wishes of the Democratic caucus and to end the internal fighting over the operation of the Senate.

Opposition to Fitzgerald reached its peak this fall when Senate Democrats voted to hold new leadership elections two years earlier than expected. Fitzgerald was elected leader two years ago, before ever serving a day in the Senate.

Gilmore Hopes 3rd Time Is A Charm

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Gary Mark Gilmore hopes the third time will prove the charm when he gets his latest date with death from the judge who has sentenced him twice before.

The 36-year-old Death Row inmate, eating again and pleased that the U.S. Supreme Court lifted his stay of execution, was to appear today before District Judge Robert J. Bullock, who previously sentenced him to face a firing squad on Nov. 13 and Dec. 7.

But Gilmore's mother and at least one group opposed to capital punishment hoped legal action would once again keep him from fulfilling his wish to die swiftly rather than spend his life in jail for killing a Provo motel clerk last July.

Lawyers for Bessie Gilmore of Milwaukee, Ore., on Tuesday asked the U.S. Supreme Court to reconsider its Monday decision lifting its stay.

Shirley Pedler, executive director of the Utah American Civil Liberties Union, said the ACLU was considering court action to stop the execution.

Attorney Tom Jones, fired last month by Gilmore, is seeking a stay of execution in the state Supreme Court. The ACLU has asked to intervene in that action as friend of the court.

Gilmore, who has spent 18 years in penal institutions, asked his lawyers to drop a motion filed last week seeking his release on a legal technicality — that the state didn't execute him within 60 days of sentencing as required by Utah law.

Attorney Ronald Stanger said Gilmore told him he broke a fast he had started on Nov. 19 because he was happy about the court ruling and because "I got a little hungry."

Gilmore stopped eating when authorities wouldn't allow him in telephone his girlfriend, Nicole Barrett. Prison officials told him they would try to get information on Mrs. Barrett, who was admitted to a state mental hospital after the lovers took sleeping pills in a suicide pact on Nov. 16, one day after he was to have died.

That execution order had been stayed by the state Supreme Court on Nov. 8, rescinded two days later at Gilmore's request, and then stayed again on Nov. 11 by outgoing Gov. Calvin Rampton.

Rampton issued his stay so the Utah Board of Pardons could review the case. After Gilmore pleaded for death at a Nov. 30 appearance, the board voted 2 to 1 not to commute his sentence.

Bullock, who had presided over Gilmore's trial, then ordered him to be shot at sunrise on Dec. 6. But three days before that date, the U.S. Supreme Court issued the stay which it lifted on Tuesday.

Senate Okays Comp Bill

LANING, Mich. (AP) — The state Senate has given final approval to a bill revising the Worker's Compensation Bureau, despite Gov. William Milliken's promise to veto the measure.

The bill was passed 21-12 Tuesday, with majority Democrats giving the measure the necessary margin for victory. The bill now goes to the governor.

The measure would levy a fee on insurance companies that write worker's compensation policies. The money would be used to increase the staff of the Worker's Compensation Bureau to erase a two-year backlog of cases. The bureau is now funded from the state general fund.

Milliken said he would veto the bill because it represents a "piecemeal" approach to reforming the Worker's Compensation program.

Republicans want enactment of a comprehensive revision in one bill that would increase and extend benefits and also cut down abuses in the benefit program for injured workers.

Negotiations over such a sweeping revision have long since broken down in the Senate over disputes on the cost to Michigan employers. Another attempt to pass a comprehensive bill is expected next year.

Republican lawmakers argued the current bill is another burden on Michigan businesses and would drive them out of the state. Sen. John Welborn, R-Kalamazoo, said it was a "tax increase to the employers of this state."

The extra fee, equal to two per cent of the total benefits paid by the insurance company in the previous year, would probably be passed on to employers.

Senate Minority Leader Robert Davis, R-Gaylord, said Republicans are ready to begin bargaining again on comprehensive worker's compensation reform. But he repeated this measure will be vetoed.

Democrats have hailed it as the first step toward solving problems with the worker's compensation system, and urged Milliken to reconsider his veto pledge.

Arrested

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A foreman originally praised by his employers for "averting a major disaster" by finding a bomb in a western Kentucky coal mine pit has been indicted on charges of planting the device.

U.S. Atty. George Long said John William Ford, 31, was held on $50,000 cashed pending arraignment today. He was indicted by a federal grand jury in Louisville late Tuesday.

The measure would levy a fee on insurance companies that write worker's compensation policies. The money would be used to increase the staff of the Worker's Compensation Bureau to erase a two-year backlog of cases. The bureau is now funded from the state general fund.

Milliken said he would veto the bill because it represents a "piecemeal" approach to reforming the Worker's Compensation program. Republicans want enactment of a comprehensive revision in one bill that would increase and extend benefits and also cut down abuses in the benefit program for injured workers.

Negotiations over such a sweeping revision have long since broken down in the Senate over disputes on the cost to Michigan employers. Another attempt to pass a comprehensive bill is expected next year.

Republican lawmakers argued the current bill is another burden on Michigan businesses and would drive them out of the state. Sen. John Welborn, R-Kalamazoo, said it was a "tax increase to the employers of this state."

The extra fee, equal to two per cent of the total benefits paid by the insurance company in the previous year, would probably be passed on to employers.

Senate Minority Leader Robert Davis, R-Gaylord, said Republicans are ready to begin bargaining again on comprehensive worker's compensation reform. But he repeated this measure will be vetoed.

Democrats have hailed it as the first step toward solving

House: Cancel U.P. Deer Season

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — House lawmakers have approved a resolution urging the Natural Resources Commission to scrap plans for a special Upper Peninsula deer hunt that local residents call a "slaughter."

But state senators refused to consider the resolution Tuesday and instead sent it to be reviewed by the Senate Business Committee, where it is expected to die.

The 90-day season in Alger County was unanimously approved by the commission two months ago. The Department of Natural Resources said there were 300 deer which, if not killed, would starve this winter in the Beaver Basin area northeast of Munising.

But the House resolution, approved on a voice vote Tuesday, urged the season be "postponed" indefinitely. Instead, it said, the DNR and Alger County sportsmen can conduct a feeding program to keep the deer alive this winter, and worry later about how to solve the problem permanently.

House Appropriations Chairman Rep. Dominic Jacobetti of Negaunee has threatened to begin nitpicking over the DNR's budget if the commission does not reverse its decision. He even vowed to erase a proposed $7,500 raise for DNR Director Howard Tanner.

The special deer season is slated to run from Jan. 16 to March 1 or until 300 deer are killed. Alger County residents dispute the DNR's figures on the deer population, and say the state should come up with a better solution to the problem.

They have threatened to close their grocery stores, gas stations and motels to hunters if the season goes as scheduled.

Foster Care Package Wins Final Passage

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan legislators gave final approval Tuesday to bills to prevent local governments from keeping foster care homes out of residential neighborhoods.

But the state Senate narrowly defeated — and killed for this year — a consumer protection bill to help people who buy defective cars.

In the House Tuesday, a fivebill package on foster care homes won final approval. The measures would require that any facility that provides 24-hour care to no more than six people would have to be classified as a residential dwelling, and be allowed in a residential neighborhood.

Some local governments have used zoning regulations in the past to keep out foster care homes, which provide treatment for mentally and physically handicapped adults and children.

In an attempt to prevent the growth of "foster care ghettos," the bill also limits how close the homes can be. Under the measure, homes must be at least 1,500 feet apart unless they are in Detroit, where the limit is 3,000 feet. That is slightly more than a half-mile.

Local governments could challenge the license of a poorly run home with the Department of Social Services and take it into the courts if necessary.

The consumer protection bill killed in the Senate by one vote would have repealed the holder in due course doctrine for auto sales. That would have allowed car buyers to defend themselves in court if they stopped payment on a lemon.

Lawrence Votes Sewage Revision

LAWRENCE — The Lawrence village council last night voted to revise official plans for future improvements to the village sewage system. The revision calls for digging a storage lagoon and treatment ponds on a 15-acre site somewhere near the village. The lagoon and treatment ponds would cost about $620,000 to build and would cost about $8,700 a year to operate, according to Dan Romes, a representative of the Kalamazoo engineering firm of Gove and Associates. Romes, who was present to outline the revised plan last night, said the lagoon system would result in a savings of about $600,000 over the previous plan of building a new sewage treatment plant. The monthly use fee to sewer customers would be about $6.90, Romes said. The lagoon would discharge

Pleads Guilty To Murder

COLDWATER, Mich. (AP) — A 33-year-old Coldwater man has pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of second-degree murder in the slaying of a restaurant owner. Fred Harter entered the plea at his arraignment in Branch County Circuit Court. Harter was originally charged with first-degree murder in the death of Wesley Macklin, 56, last month. The Branch County prosecutor's office said the reduced charge resulted from a plea bargaining session. Harter also pleaded guilty to attempted armed robbery in the holdup of a Coldwater party store. The prosecutor's office said first-degree murder charges stemming from the Macklin death were dropped against a 31-year-old Coldwater woman. Two armed robbery charges against her were also dismissed, authorities said. Officials said another adult and a 16-year-old youth are also being held in Macklin's death pending further legal hearings.

Ethics Bill Path Clear

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Senate sponsor of a political regulation bill has approved a House version of the measure, clearing the way for quick Senate action on the legislation, Sen. Patrick McCollough, D-Deerborn, who had earlier expressed doubts about the bill's constitutionality, said Tuesday he would urge it be sent to a House-Senate conference committee. Instead, he said, he will push for its prompt approval by the Senate. The bill regulates state and local campaign financing and provides for partial public funding of gubernatorial campaigns. McCollough said Monday he was not sure both topics could be included in one bill. The state Supreme Court overturned a sweeping 1975 political ethics law because it contained too many issues in one measure. But McCollough said after studying the subject, he was reasonably sure the campaign and gubernatorial funding issues could be written into one bill.

It's The Law Now

LANSING (AP) — A bill signed this week by Gov. William Milliken requires the name and location of the manufacturer and distributor on the prescription label of a drug. The measure is intended to reduce confusion about various drugs with the same generic composition. Also signed into law were bills to replace a 108-year-old law on animals running at large. The new law makes it illegal for cattle, horses, swine, sheep, mules, burros and goats to run free and makes owners liable for damage caused by the animals. Clear up language in a tax law to make it clear that persons subject to the single business tax are not subject to the intangibles tax.

Tow Truckers Boycott AAA

By ASSOCIATED PRESS The Automobile Club of Michigan is being boycotted by some angry tow truck drivers who say the AAA does not pay enough. Bob Grant, a board member of the Downriver Towing Association, said the boycott has spread to 42 stations and garages in communities downriver from Detroit. The tow truck operators are refusing to honor AAA cards. They insist on cash payments from motorists they do go to help. AAA pays operators $4.50 for each service call and $7.50 if they tow a member's car to another garage or station. The towing association says AAA should pay $7 for a service call and $12 for a tow between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. on weekdays and Saturdays, with an extra charge on Sundays and holidays.

Payoff After The 'Burial'

DETROIT (AP) — A pizza firm that had to bury 40,000 of its products three years ago because they were suspected of containing deadly botulism has been awarded $211,000 in damages. Fabrinetti Family Foods of Ossineke in Alpena County won the award last week from a jury after suing United Cannery Corp. and the Solberg Corp. in Wayne County Circuit Court. United Cannery of East Palestine, Ohio, supplied the mushrooms that forced the pizza recall, according to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. The FDA reported finding botulism in part of the same lot of mushrooms shipped to Fabrinetti for its pizza. The suit contended Solberg, a New Jersey firm, made the packaging equipment suspected of causing the contamination which triggered botulism in the mushrooms. Mario Fabrinetti, 44, founder of the pizza-making firm, gained widespread publicity in 1973 when he buried the suspect food in a mass grave. During the burial, Fabrinetti served untainted pizza to spectators, including Gov. William Milliken

Mrs. Ford Faces 2nd Hearing

(Continued From Page Three) bank loan on Dec. 10, but testified Mrs. Ford did not mention she had already received possession of the car nor did she mention she already had a financing agreement with Greer for the same car. Brewitz said when the loan was transferred to the Ford checking account, he asked Mrs. Ford to see that ICB's lien was added to the title. He noted it is not standard policy to ask the person receiving the loan to have the lien added, since the bank or the seller usually does so. But he said he asked Mrs. Ford to do so "because I trusted her." Greer had testified he was not asked to add ICB's lien, and didn't know about the bank loan until just before he testified before the grand jury, which was a number of months after Mr. Ford had paid for the car. "Would you have approved the loan if you knew anything on the application (for a loan) was false?" Smietanka asked Brewitz, who replied "No."

Paralysis Cases Are Investigated

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State and federal health officials are trying to determine whether there is any connection between swine flu shots and four Michigan paralysis cases. Dr. Kenneth Wilcox, chief of the bureau of disease control and laboratory services of the Michigan Department of Public Health, said four state residents are suffering from the so-called Guillain-Barre syndrome. Wilcox said, however, that three of the Michigan victims never were immunized against swine flu and that officials weren't sure whether or not the fourth victim received the shot. The health officials emphasized there was no immediate link between the flu shots and the paralysis cases. The federal Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, however, reports that 54 persons — including the four in Michigan — in 10 states have developed paralysis and that 30 of those victims were believed to have received swine flu inoculations. "Nevertheless," a CDC spokesman in Atlanta said, "the center has initiated a full investigation to assure itself that no relationship exists between the vaccination and the illness."

Deputies Probe Two Burglaries

Berrien sheriff's deputies from the Galien substation investigated burglaries at a machine shop and a private residence in south Berrien county yesterday. Dennis Kosta, co-owner of the H & K Machine Co., US-12 West, Three Oaks, told deputies that a tool box containing tools valued at $2,500, $100 in cash and a .22 automatic pistol valued at $50 was taken from the shop. Entry was made by breaking the glass in a door, deputies said. Tim Cavey, Glendora road, Buchanan, told deputies yesterday afternoon that $123 in cash and eight wood carving chisels valued at $120 were taken from his home. Deputies said Cavey discovered the cash and tools missing yesterday, and that the house could have been entered through an unlocked door sometime in the past several days. "The Guillain-Barre syndrome is a little-known disease, a spokesman for the center said. It is poorly understood but usually non-fatal; the spokesman said. There is no particular treatment for the ailment. Dr. Wilcox said most victims fully recover but, in severe cases, death can occur. "It usually goes away after a few weeks," he said. "Nobody really knows what causes Guillain-Barre, but many people confuse it with polio. We're keeping an eye on it and are attempting to determine if there are any more cases in Michigan. We're aware of the situation as it has been developing," Dr. Wilcox added.

Car Ignites Fire In Pile Of Leaves

Benton Harbor firemen said gasoline leaking from a car's gas line was ignited by heat from the manifold, starting a fire in a pile of leaves under the car. Owner of the 1966 Chevrolet, Len Goody, 255 Lake street, said he started the car to warm it up and when he returned a short time later found the leaves ablaze. Firemen reported the alarm was turned in at 5:32 p.m. and there was no damage to the car.

I-196 Death Blamed On Heart Attack

SOUTH HAVEN — The death of an elderly Grand Rapids man yesterday afternoon when his car ran off I-196 near here has been attributed to a heart attack, according to state police. Francis Thompson, 64, was pronounced dead on arrival at South Haven Community hospital at 2 p.m. after his car left the interstate near M-140 and went into a ditch. Dr. O.T. Lorenz, deputy Van Buren county medical examiner in South Haven, attributed the death to cardiac arrest. Police said there was only minor damage to the car and it did not appear that Thompson had any injuries caused by the accident. Ward S. Hamlin, Van Buren prosecutor, said an autopsy would not be performed as relatives advised him that Thompson was a diabetic and in poor health. Police said his death would not be counted as a traffic fatality.

Is Charged Drug Act Violation

BUCHANAN — Ricky David Thomas, 20, Terre Coupe road, Buchanan, was arrested by Berrien sheriff's deputies yesterday on a warrant charging him with violation of the controlled substance act, possession of the drug "phenitrene." Deputies said the warrant stemmed from the arrest of Thomas on Nov. 5 on an unrelated charge. While he was being searched in the county jail after the arrest, deputies said two capsules of the suspected drug were confiscated. The warrant was sought after laboratory testing of the capsules, deputies said.

Malpractice Insurance Idea

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state has proposed closer scrutiny of companies that sell medical malpractice insurance following a request by doctors for tighter regulation of the firms. Insurance Commissioner Thomas Jones said he has adopted new administrative rules to make the insurance rate-setting process more fair, though they will not necessarily lower the rates. The rules must be approved by the Legislative Service Bureau, the attorney general and the Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules before they can take effect. Jones said the proposed rules would hold insurance companies to a higher standard of fairness on malpractice policies than in any other state. Rules would make rates conform to actual losses by insurance companies and reduce disparities in rates charged to high-risk and low-risk medical specialists. Jones said the differences in rates are inequitable and unsupported by actuarial studies. Enable a physician to know why he is denied insurance; assure that rates are based on all sources of insurance companies' income, including investment income; and prevent premiums paid by Michigan doctors from subsidizing doctors in other states.

Post-Accident Illness Rule

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Court of Appeals has upheld an award of $6,200 in personal damages to a man who got pneumonia 12 days after a car accident. The appeals court reversed a Macomb County Circuit Court ruling that threw out the damages because the pneumonia was not directly caused by the accident. Instead, the appeals court said that a party can be held liable for negligent injury to another person when that person's health condition is impaired so he gets a disease. Richard Selewski and member of his family were involved in the accident with Roderick Williams, who was found guilty of negligence by a Roseville jury. Selewski suffered gashes in his arm and hip and complained of aches and pains in his head, chest and back. Selewski's son was severely injured and placed in the intensive care unit of a local hospital. Selewski spent eight hours a day at the hospital with his son and ate irregularly. He contacted pneumonia soon after that.

Ambulance Bill Signed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — All ambulances must be inspected twice a year beginning in April and have a licensed attendant in the passenger compartment under a bill signed into law this week. The measure is the third of a three-bill emergency medical services package to be signed by Gov. William Milliken. In addition to the requirements that go into effect April 1, the bill also says that by Jan. 1, 1979, ambulances must have a licensed emergency medical technician. Ambulances that go into operation after April 1 must also meet certain equipment standards. Existing ambulances are exempt from that provision, although they must meet the lesser standards of a 1968 law. The other two bills in the package create a coordinated statewide ambulance system and license and regulate emergency medical service personnel.

Lottery Buffs Beat Odds

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Lottery customers beat the odds last week on the "Winter Wonderland" game, the state Lottery Bureau said. The mathematicians at the bureau who determine the odds say they expected only one, perhaps two, winners. But three tickets worth $100,000 each were sold. Two winners — Wilford Wood, 45, of Drayton Plains, and Ricky Steimpost, 30, of Grand Rapids — have claimed their winnings. The third winner hasn't turned in his ticket but is believed to be an Escanaba accountant, the bureau said. More than 1.2 million of the new $1 tickets were sold for the first of six weekly drawings last Thursday.

Ohio Man Is Accused Of Sawyer Break-In

By JOHN DYE South Berrien Bureau SAWYER — An Oxford, Ohio man was scheduled to be arraigned in Berrien Fifth District court today on a charge of malicious destruction in connection with windows being broken at the gun shop and residence of Carl Peterson, Wolcott avenue, Sawyer, early today. Tpr. Henry Lingle of the Benton Harbor state police post said Theron F. Steinger, 25, was originally taken into custody on a charge of breaking and entering after Peterson's son, Art, held a man at bay with a shotgun until police arrived about 3:30 a.m. today. Lingle said the Berrien prosecutor's office authorized the reduced charge this morning. Lingle said that a window to the gun shop was broken out, but entry to the building was prevented by a wire mesh screen guard. Peterson was then awakened by a window in his home being broken and his son was summoned, police said. Lingle said the arrested man told police he broke the two windows in order to seek shelter from the cold. A second man taken into custody at a nearby truckstop and questioned in connection with the broken windows was not charged, Lingle said.

Lawrence Votes Sewage Revision

LAWRENCE — The Lawrence village council last night voted to revise official plans for future improvements to the village sewage system.

The revision calls for digging a storage lagoon and treatment ponds on a 15-acre site somewhere near the village.

The lagoon and treatment ponds would cost about $620,000 to build and would cost about $8,700 a year to operate, according to Dan Romes, a representative of the Kalamazoo engineering firm of Gove and Associates.

Romes, who was present to outline the revised plan last night, said the lagoon system would result in a savings of about $660,000 over the previous plan of building a new sewage treatment plant.

The monthly use fee to sewer customers would be about $6.90, Romes said.

The lagoon would discharge into the Paw Paw river only during high water times in the spring and fall.

The original plans for future sewer improvements were adopted by the council in September.

If the state Department of Natural Resources approves the village's plan, the next step would be to apply for a grant to fund the preparation of detailed engineering plans.

In other areas last night, the council agreed to pay full-time village employees one week's salary and part-time employees $25 for Christmas bonuses.

The council appointed Mrs. Ruth Durbin to the library board as a replacement for Laureale Duncan who moved out of Lawrence.

The council agreed to have a second telephone installed in the village hall. At present, both village officials and police use the same phone.

Baghdad Airport Blast Kills 3

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iraq accused the Syrian secret service today of planting a bomb that exploded in Baghdad airport's customs section. The Iraqis said three persons were killed and many injured, including 10 requiring hospital treatment.

Syria and Iraq are governed by rival factions of the Arab Baath socialist party and have a long history of bitter quarrels.

The Iraqi casualty count contrasted with earlier reports abroad of six killed in the blast Tuesday evening.

A government statement broadcast by the Iraqi state radio identified the dead as one Saudi Arabian and two Iraqis. It said West Germans and Japanese were among the wounded.

Pleads Guilty To Murder

COLDWATER, Mich. (AP) — A 33-year-old Coldwater man has pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of second-degree murder in the slaying of a restaurant owner. Fred Harter entered the plea at his arraignment in Branch County Circuit Court. Harter was originally charged with first-degree murder in the death of Wesley Macklin, 56, last month. The Branch County prosecutor's office said the reduced charge resulted from a plea bargaining session. Harter also pleaded guilty to attempted armed robbery in the holdup of a Coldwater party store. The prosecutor's office said first-degree murder charges stemming from the Macklin death were dropped against a 31-year-old Coldwater woman. Two armed robbery charges against her were also dismissed, authorities said. Officials said another adult and a 16-year-old youth are also being held in Macklin's death pending further legal hearings.

Ethics Bill Path Clear

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Senate sponsor of a political regulation bill has approved a House version of the measure, clearing the way for quick Senate action on the legislation. Sen. Patrick McCollough, D-Deerborn, who had earlier expressed doubts about the bill's constitutionality, said Tuesday he would not urge it be sent to a House-Senate conference committee. Instead, he said, he will push for its prompt approval by the Senate. The bill regulates state and local campaign financing and provides for partial public funding of gubernatorial campaigns. McCollough said Monday he was not sure both topics could be included in one bill. The state Supreme Court overturned a sweeping 1975 political ethics law because it contained too many issues in one measure. But McCollough said after studying the subject, he was reasonably sure the campaign and gubernatorial funding issues could be written into one bill.

It's The Law Now

LANSING (AP) — A bill signed this week by Gov. William Milliken requires the name and location of the manufacturer and distributor on the prescription label of a drug. The measure is intended to reduce confusion about various drugs with the same generic composition. Also signed into law were bills to replace a 109-year-old law on animals running at large. The new law makes it illegal for cattle, horses, swine, sheep, mules, burros and goats to run free and makes owners liable for damage caused by the animals. Clear up language in a tax law to make it clear that persons subject to the single business tax are not subject to the intangibles tax.

Tow Truckers Boycott AAA

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Automobile Club of Michigan is being boycotted by some angry tow truck drivers who say the AAA does not pay enough. Bob Groat, a board member of the Downriver Towing Association, said the boycott has spread to 42 stations and garages in communities downriver from Detroit. The tow truck operators are refusing to honor AAA cards. They insist on cash payments from motorists they do go to help. AAA pays operators $4.50 for each service call and $7.50 if they tow a member's car to another garage or station. The towing association says AAA should pay $7 for a service call and $12 for a tow between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. on weekdays and Saturdays, with an extra charge on Sundays and holidays.

Payoff After The 'Burial'

DETROIT (AP) — A pizza firm that had to bury 40,000 of its products three years ago because they were suspected of containing deadly botulism has been awarded $211,000 in damages. Fabrinetti Family Foods of Ossineke in Alpena County won the award last week from a jury after suing United Canning Corp. and the Solberg Corp. in Wayne County Circuit Court. United Canning of East Palestine, Ohio, supplied the mushrooms that forced the pizza recall, according to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. The FDA reported finding botulism in part of the same lot of mushrooms shipped to Fabrinetti for its pizza. The suit contended Solberg, a New Jersey firm, made the packaging equipment suspected of causing the contamination which triggered botulism in the mushrooms. Mario Fabrinetti, 44, founder of the pizza-making firm, gained widespread publicity in 1973 when he buried the suspect food in a mass grave. During the burial, Fabrinetti served untainted pizza to spectators, including Gov. William Milliken

First LaSalle Expedition Was Dramatic Adventure

EDITOR'S NOTE: LaSalle Expedition II is on its way to Berrien county, scheduled to reach New Buffalo Saturday and the mouth of the St. Joseph river Sunday. The following article by A. Edward Brown, of St. Joseph, is on the original LaSalle Expedition. It was written at request of David Upton, chairman of the Berrien county LaSalle Expedition II welcoming committee. Brown, retired chief executive officer of Michigan Fruit Cannery, is a student of Michigan history.

By A. EDWARD BROWN

On a cold gray 3rd day of December, 1673, a party of 31 men in eight canoes, led by the great French explorer, soldier and trader Rene Robert Cavalier, Sieur de LaSalle, left Ft. Miami at the mouth of the St. Joseph river and paddled upstream in search of a portage which would lead them to the Kankakee river and thence to the Illinois and the Mississippi. The expedition was part of a grand plan conceived by LaSalle and approved by Governor Frontenac of Quebec and King Louis XIV to seize control of the entire Mississippi Valley.

It was planned to build forts at the mouth of the river as it entered the Gulf of Mexico and at other strategic locations along its entire length, thus denying England and Spain access to this vast region so that it could be developed and exploited for the benefit of France and, if the truth be known, for the benefit of LaSalle and Frontenac.

Second in command of the expedition was Henry de Tonti, an Italian soldier of fortune in the service of LaSalle. Although handicapped by the loss of a hand, he was possessed of great talents and a high degree of courage and resourcefulness. The iron hook which served in place of his lost hand was considered by the Indians to be very potent medicine. Representing the church was Fr. Louis Hennepin, a Franciscan friar who acted as the chaplain and historian of the expedition. The story of that December day began the previous summer when on August 7, 1769, the expedition set out from Ft. Niagara in the Griffin, the first ship to sail the Upper Lakes. A vessel of 45 tons displacement, it was built by LaSalle on the Niagara river above the falls. For three days they sailed westward on the uncharted waters of Lake Erie and on the fourth day entered a straight which we now call the Detroit river.

Passing through Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair river, the Griffin sailed north on Lake Huron and anchored at St. Ignace, which Fr. Marquette had founded 10 years earlier. St. Ignace was then an important village and a center of the fur trade. From here the Jesuits administered their missions to the Indians of the Upper Lakes. LaSalle was openly welcomed by the inhabitants of the village, but secretly many of the fur traders feared — with considerable reason — that with the backing of the governor and the king he had come to seize control of the fur trade from the courrier du bois. The coming of the fur traders was later to create serious difficulties for the expedition.

LaSalle had expected to rendezvous at St. Ignace with a group of traders he had sent out the previous year. Unfortunately many had deserted and stolen the goods and furs entrusted to them. Early in September the Griffin sailed west into Lake Michigan, then known as Lac des Illinois, and a few days later entered Green Bay. On the islands at the mouth of the bay they found several traders who had remained loyal to LaSalle and had collected a large store of furs. These he loaded into the Griffin and dispatched the ship back to Ft. Niagara with instructions to sell the furs and use the proceeds to satisfy his creditors. This need for money was an ever-present problem for LaSalle. While he was a son of the wealthy Cavalier family of Rouen, France, he did not inherit much of the family fortune and was constantly driven by the necessity of raising money for his various projects and expeditions. The funds promised by Governor Frontenac and King Louis were slow in coming, since in those days, as now, the promises of potentates and politicians were seldom matched by their performance.

Leaving Green Bay, LaSalle and Fr. Hennepin with 14 men and four canoes set off down the Wisconsin shore and around the bottom of Lake Michigan. After many hardships they reached the mouth of the St. Joseph river, then called the River of the Missisippi. They spent the first three weeks of November, 1679, erecting Ft. Miami on the bluff overlooking the lake while they waited for deTonti and his group who had set out in canoes along the Michigan shore of the lake. The Griffin had been ordered to rejoin the expedition at the mouth of the St. Joseph with equipment and rigging for a ship LaSalle proposed to build to navigate the Mississippi. After some delay, deTonti and his party appeared, but the Griffin never arrived. With winter fast approaching, the expedition to the Mississippi could not be postponed and LaSalle, filled with forboding as to the fate of his ship, sent two men north up the lake to meet the Griffin and pilot her to Ft. Miami to await his return the following year.

As the expedition ascended the chill waters of the St. Joseph they came to the great bend in the river which marks the site of the present day City of South Bend. According to the best information available, this was the location of the portage to the Kankakee. LaSalle's Mohegan Indian scout had gone ahead to hunt for game, and in his absence the party missed the landing place. After some difficulty the portage was found and the men shouldered their canoes and trudged five miles through the frozen countryside to the marsh which forms the head waters of the Kankakee. They descended that stream to its junction with the Illinois river south of present day Joliet and made their way down-stream to an Illinois Indian village near what is now Peoria, where they built Ft. Crevecoeur as an advance base. LaSalle, who was an expert in dealing with the Indians, soon established good relations with the chiefs of the Illinois and arranged for food to see his men through the winter. Soon, however, a fur trader by the name of Monso and a party of Miami Indians appeared at the Illinois village and denounced LaSalle as a friend of their ancient foes, the Iroquois. This created a serious problem, since the safety of the fort and the success of the expedition would be jeopardized if the Illinois became hostile. LaSalle, however, with his sure knowledge of Indian psychology, was able to convince the Illinois chiefs that he was indeed their friend and their protector and that Monso was an enemy who wished to steal their furs.

With the completion of Fr. Crevecoeur and his food supply for the winter secure, LaSalle turned his attention to building a ship to sail the Mississippi. Without rigging and gear, however, he knew he could not hope to navigate the great river, and in the spring of 1680 he returned with a small group to Ft. Miami, leaving deTonti in command of Ft. Crevecoeur and sending Fr. Hennepin to explore the upper Mississippi river.

On March 24, 1680, he arrived at Ft. Miami to learn from his scouts that the Griffin had indeed been lost. It was essential that he return to Canada for supplies and ship's gear at once. Knowing that the northern straits were choked with ice, he and his party set out on foot across the untracked wilderness of southern Michigan. After untold hardships they reached the Huron River and a water route to Port Frontenac on Lake Ontario. Arriving there LaSalle found that his agents had embezzled his funds and his creditors had seized his property. In addition to the loss of the Griffin and her cargo, several of his canoes laden with furs had been lost in the rapids of the St. Lawrence.

Undaunted, he set out for Montreal where he was able to borrow the funds he needed to continue his work. On his return to Ft. Frontenac he found a messenger waiting with the news that some of the men at Ft. Crevecoeur had mutinied and destroyed the fort. LaSalle finally arrived back at the mouth of the St. Joseph in November 1680. Leaving five men at Ft. Miami, he pushed on with six companions to Ft. Crevecoeur, which he found in ruins. The Iroquois Indians on a great western raid had destroyed the Illinois village, killing many of its inhabitants and stealing their food supply. The only remaining vestige of his winter's work was the vessel he had begun, which stood undamaged on its stocks. LaSalle's first concern was the fate of deTonti and Fr. Hennepin. He pushed on down the Illinois to its junction with the Mississippi, which he saw for the first time, but failed to locate them. He then retraced his route and spent the winter of 1680-81 at Ft. Miami where he recruited a band of New England Indians who had fled to southern Michigan following his defeat in King Philip's war. That same year he negotiated a treaty with the Indians at Council Oak located on the portage between the St. Joseph and the Kankakee. The oak still stands today in a cemetery on the west side of Portage road north of South Bend. At Ft. Miami he received word that Fr. Hennepin and his group had successfully ascended the Mississippi to the falls of St. Anthony, the location of present day St. Paul. Following the destruction of Ft. Crevecoeur by the mutineers, deTonti and those who had remained loyal were forced to retreat. They were captured by the Iroquois, but escaped and made their way to Green Bay.

With courage and determination LaSalle regrouped his forces during the summer and fall of 1681. Another hurried trip in Ft. Frontenac produced additional funds and supplies. With the help of deTonti, who rejoined him at Ft. Miami, he recruited 50 men and on December 21, 1681, he left the fort for the last time, paddling west across Lake Michigan to the Chicago River, which was to be the route of his later explorations. On February 8, 1682, the expedition reached the Mississippi, and on April 9th of that year reached the mouth of the great river. Here he formally claimed the entire region watered by the Mississippi and all of its tributaries for the French crown, naming it Louisiana.

ASKS CADET READMISSION Report Hits West Point

By MALCOLM N. CARTER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 91-page report by a special commission says the U.S. Military Academy responded inadequately to West Point's biggest cheating scandal, according to Pentagon sources.

The report, written by a commission headed by former astronaut Frank Borman, recommends the readmission as soon as possible of the West Point cadets ousted in connection with widespread collaboration on graded homework last March.

The Borman report is to be made public today, along with a second report that is critical of the way the academy handled Army lawyers who defended the accused cadets.

A total of 151 cadets have been caught up in the scandal, including 139 who have left the academy, four who had been expelled for other reasons before their cases were decided and eight who have stayed there with appeals pending.

Last August, Army Secretary Martin R. Hoffmann virtually guaranteed readmission at the beginning of the next academic year to the cadets, who were among 823 members of the 1977 graduating class given the homework for Electrical Engineering 304.

Hoffmann appointed the Borman commission in September and favors reconvening the body this spring to assess the situation again.

The commission also recommended that:

—The mandatory single sanction of expulsion for honor code violators be abolished in favor of discretionary punishment. This, however, comes after the cadet corps voted last week to keep the expulsion rule.

—The term of the superintendent be extended beyond the usual three years to keep policies from periodically changing in a way that makes cadets cynical.

—The selection of a superintendent be based on his respect among academicians.

—The academy cease using the honor code — which states that "a cadet will not lie, cheat, or steal, nor tolerate those who do" — TO ENFORCE REGULATIONS.

—The tenure system, which protects 11.6 per cent of the faculty from removal before age 64 or the completion of 30 years' service, be altered.

Racing to meet a Dec. 15 deadline set by Hoffmann, a commission staff headed by Chicago lawyer Arthur M. Sussman labored nights, days and weekends.

And the commission members, who extensively interviewed cadets and officers at West Point, spent a 10-hour day at the Pentagon last week going over a final version. It wasn't completed, typed and proofread until the weekend.

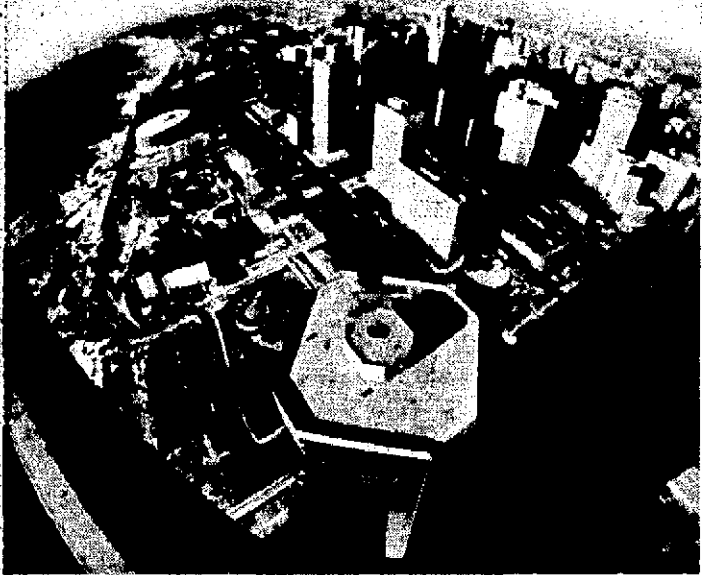

Lights also have been burning late into the night in the offices of high-level officers and Army officials as they sought to come up with a response that would counter the criticism in the reports.

Among those who visited the Pentagon this week were West Point Superintendent Lt. Gen. Sidney B. Berry, and its commandant of cadets, Brig. Gen. Walter F. Ulmer Jr.

The Defense Department announced Monday that Ulmer was being reassigned from the academy, at least six months early without his expected promotion, to become an assistant division commander at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Spanish Expected To OK Parliamentary Elections

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Long lines formed at polling places early today as the Spanish people decided in a referendum whether their government should hold free elections for a new parliament next year for the first time in 41 years.

Officials said they anticipated a 60-65 per cent approval of the government's political reform program. About 70 per cent of the 23 million eligible voters were expected to cast ballots by the time the polls closed (at 2 p.m. EST).

Authorities feared referendum-day violence due to tensions between leftists and rightists heightened by the abduction last weekend of a leading conservative.

More than 200 policemen swept through a Madrid suburb Tuesday night looking for Antonio Maria de Oriol, whose ultra-leftist kidnappers demanded the release of 15 political prisoners. Apparently no trace of him was found, and the government rejected the kidnappers' demand.

In an attempt to head off trouble, police closed bars and shops in the Basque region of northwest Spain, where an independence movement is strong. In northeast Spain, a special army unit was alerted in Barcelona for use if Catalan nationalists made trouble.

The conservative government also ordered police protection for leading Communists, Socialists and Christian Democrats after they received death threats attributed to rightists. Extra security was also ordered for King Juan Carlos and the cabinet.

The referendum was the Spanish people's first chance to register their wishes since the death of dictator Francisco Franco 13 months ago.

It was a key element in the 38-year-old king's plans for an orderly transition to democracy after four decades of dictatorship. The new, freely elected parliament would replace the ultraconservative Cortes, most of whose members were appointed by Franco.

Both the left and the ultraright opposed the referendum.

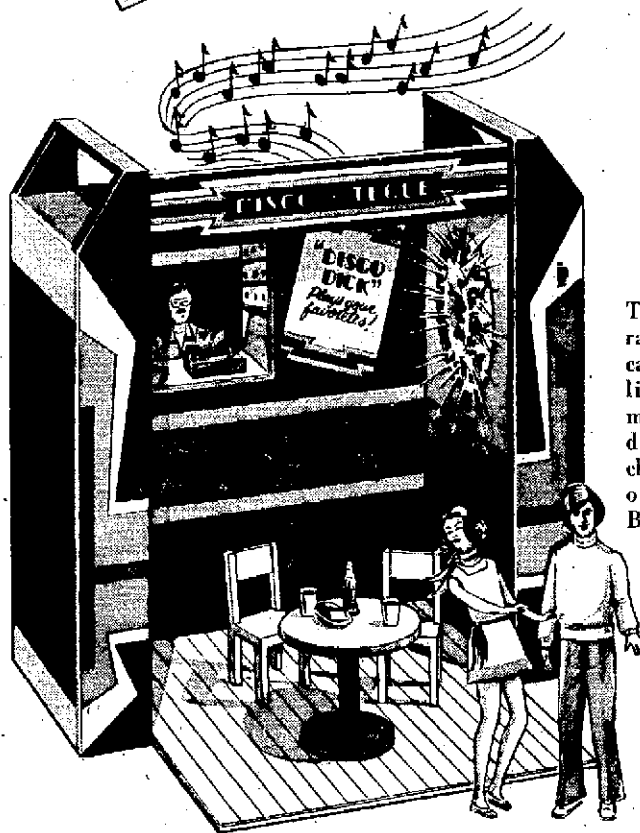

The leftists urged the voters to abstain because the left did not have a hand in drawing up the proposed reforms and because the government refuses to legalize the Communist party.

ASKS CADET READMISSION

Report Hits West Point

By MALCOLM N. CARTER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 91-page report by a special commission says the U.S. Military Academy responded inadequately to West Point's biggest cheating scandal, according to Pentagon sources.

The report, written by a commission headed by former astronaut Frank Borman, recommends the readmission as soon as possible of the West Point cadets ousted in connection with widespread collaboration on graded homework last March.

The Borman report is to be made public today, along with a second report that is critical of the way the academy handled Army lawyers who defended the accused cadets.

A total of 151 cadets have been caught up in the scandal, including 139 who have left the academy, four who had been expelled for other reasons before their cases were decided and eight who have stayed there with appeals pending.

Last August, Army Secretary Martin R. Hoffmann virtually guaranteed readmission at the beginning of the next academic year to the cadets, who were among 823 members of the 1977 graduating class given the homework for Electrical Engineering 304.

Hoffmann appointed the Borman commission in September and favors reconvening the body this spring to assess the situation again.

The commission also recommended that:

—The mandatory single sanction of expulsion for honor code violators be abolished in favor of discretionary punishment. This, however, comes after the cadet corps voted last week to keep the expulsion rule.

—The term of the superintendent be extended beyond the usual three years to keep policies from periodically changing in a way that makes cadets cynical.

—The selection of a superintendent be based on his respect among academicians.

—The academy cease using the honor code — which states that "a cadet will not lie, cheat, or steal, nor tolerate those who do" — TO ENFORCE REGULATIONS.

—The tenure system, which protects 11.6 per cent of the faculty from removal before age 64 or the completion of 30 years' service, be altered.

Racing to meet a Dec. 15 deadline set by Hoffmann, a commission staff headed by Chicago lawyer Arthur M. Sussman labored nights, days and weekends.

And the commission members, who extensively interviewed cadets and officers at West Point, spent a 10-hour day at the Pentagon last week going over a final version. It wasn't completed, typed and proofread until the weekend.

Lights also have been burning late into the night in the offices of high-level officers and Army officials as they sought to come up with a response that would counter the criticism in the reports.

Among those who visited the Pentagon this week were West Point Superintendent Lt. Gen. Sidney B. Berry, and its commandant of cadets, Brig. Gen. Walter F. Ulmer Jr.

The Defense Department announced Monday that Ulmer was being reassigned from the academy, at least six months early without his expected promotion, to become an assistant division commander at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Spanish Expected To OK Parliamentary Elections

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Long lines formed at polling places early today as the Spanish people decided in a referendum whether their government should hold free elections for a new parliament next year for the first time in 41 years.

Officials said they anticipated a 60-65 per cent approval of the government's political reform program. About 70 per cent of the 23 million eligible voters were expected to cast ballots by the time the polls closed (at 2 p.m. EST).

Authorities feared referendum-day violence due to tensions between leftists and rightists heightened by the abduction last weekend of a leading conservative.

More than 200 policemen swept through a Madrid suburb Tuesday night looking for Antonio Maria de Oriol, whose ultra-leftist kidnappers demanded the release of 15 political prisoners. Apparently no trace of him was found, and the government rejected the kidnappers' demand.

In an attempt to head off trouble, police closed bars and shops in the Basque region of northwest Spain, where an independence movement is strong. In northeast Spain, a special army unit was alerted in Barcelona for use if Catalan nationalists made trouble.

The conservative government also ordered police protection for leading Communists, Socialists and Christian Democrats after they received death threats attributed to rightists. Extra security was also ordered for King Juan Carlos and the cabinet.

The referendum was the Spanish people's first chance to register their wishes since the death of dictator Francisco Franco 13 months ago.

It was a key element in the 38-year-old king's plans for an orderly transition to democracy after four decades of dictatorship. The new, freely elected parliament would replace the ultraconservative Cortes, most of whose members were appointed by Franco.

Both the left and the ultraright opposed the referendum.

The leftists urged the voters to abstain because the left did not have a hand in drawing up the proposed reforms and because the government refuses to legalize the Communist party.

State Audit Asked Of Van Buren Health Department

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Van Buren county commissioners voted unanimously Tuesday to have the state conduct an audit of the financial records of the county health department.

According to Commissioner Edwin Twitchell, claims committee chairman, health department accounts were $68,283 "in the red" as of Nov. 30. He said the health department also showed deficits of about $24,000 at the end of 1974, and about $57,000 at the end of last year.

Finance Chairman Gerald Rendel said health board officials have told him the main reason for the deficits were delays in payments from programs reimbursed by the state.

"The accounts are in the red and we want to know exactly how much is coming back (from the state)," Twitchell said. Having the state conduct the audit, which is expected to cost $1,200, seemed to be the most impartial method, he added.

Both Twitchell and Commissioner Shirley Jackson said they were surprised to learn that the department's books had never been audited before. They both said there is no indication of any criminal wrongdoing.

In a related move, commissioners voted 5-3 not to authorize payment of $61,561 in monthly claims submitted by the health board. Approval of those bills is usually a routine matter.

Voting against authorization were Twitchell, Mrs. Jackson, Walter Sticksels, Donald Hanson, and Rendel, with George Fritz, Boyd Estes, and James Wellington in favor of payment. Commissioner Ronald DeCook was absent.

Mrs. Jackson said she voted against the claims because they included a $200 bill for 1977 dues to the Michigan

Dental association, which she felt was too much.

But other commissioners apparently felt the claims veto was one way of making the health board sit up and take notice of the deficit problem.

"I want a meeting with the health board, and this is one way to make sure we'll get it," Twitchell said.

Commissioners did not indicate when the audit might be completed.

In other areas, Rendel told the board that the county is expected to close out the year with a $178,000 budget surplus. He said the county had hoped to have about $200,000 to carry over into 1977.

The surplus is used to pay county bills until winter taxes start coming in.

With the smaller surplus, commissioners voted not to change any pay classifications until a new board takes office in January.

A hearing was scheduled for 1:30 p.m., Monday, Dec. 27 to air views on how the county should spend $46,361 in anti-recession funds it received under the federal Public Works act.

According to Sticksels, the funds are to be used basically for general administration, rather than new projects. The $46,361 is for the July-September and October-December quarters of this year. Funds are handed out based on a formula similar to revenue sharing, which takes into account an area's unemployment rate.

Commissioners received notice from Teamsters Local 214, Detroit, that it planned to drop any further pursuit of an unfair labor practices suit filed against the board and Sheriff Richard E. Stump.

The suit, which alleged that the sheriff encouraged supervisory personnel to undermine the Teamsters by soliciting deputies to join the Fraternal Order of Police, had been dismissed Nov. 10. The dismissal was made by Judge Joseph Bixler of the Michigan Employment Relations commission after Teamster attorneys failed to show at a hearing.

A letter from the Teamsters, read yesterday, indicated the union will not attempt to represent deputies after the present agreement expires Dec. 31.

Milliken Ex-Aide Is Fired

DETROIT (AP) — A suspended former aide to the governor has been fired after allegedly lying to officials about his involvement in selling information about welfare clients, state officials said.

Charles Brown, 61, was informed of his dismissal earlier this week by telegram. State officials told him his employment was being terminated "based upon additional information relating to the extent of your involvement with two Detroit retail firms in conflict with your state employment," the Detroit Free Press reported.

Investigators with the state attorney general's office found Brown collected more than $22,000 in four years from the two firms.

Brown told the governor's office earlier he worked for the firms for two years and was paid about $800.

Brown was suspended on Nov. 17 for one month without pay from his job as Gov. William Milliken's ombudsman in Detroit. He was ordered removed permanently from Milliken's staff.

The action against Brown came after aides to the governor charged Brown's part-time job as a "skip chaser" was unethical, a conflict of interest and in violation of state law. A skip chaser is a person who locates individuals with unpaid bills for collection agencies or businesses. Brown worked for Famous Furniture Stores Inc. of Detroit and Good Housekeeping Shops, an appliance chain.

As ombudsman, Brown had investigated citizen complaints about state government.

He had told the Free Press he used contacts in the welfare department to help locate welfare clients who owed money to the furniture firm.

Tills Will Tell Tale

WASHINGTON (AP) — The way Americans spend this Christmas may determine the amount of taxes they pay next year.

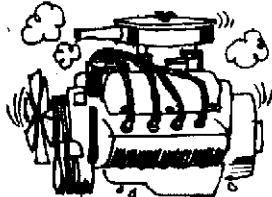

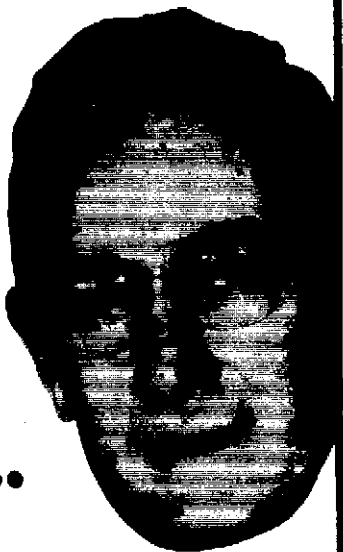

President-elect Carter and his advisers have put Christmas retail sales at the top of the list of economic statistics that will influence the decision on whether to recommend a tax break.

Retail sales have been disappointing since early in the year. And when Americans stop buying, businesses stop producing and that means fewer jobs on production lines.

Carter and his advisers will also be looking at November figures on industrial production, housing starts and personal income.

Sodus Supports Ambulance Move

SODUS — The Sodus township board last night cast a vote of confidence for the recent decision by the Community Emergency Service (CES) ambulance corporation not to renew its contract with Action ambulance for 1977. The board voted to notify CES that it supports the decision to terminate the contract with Action ambulance on Feb. 23.

Sodus township and four other member municipalities belonging to the CES have been sharing the payment of a monthly subsidy of $3,007 to Action for ambulance service. However, the CES governing board last week decided to terminate the contract with Action because the ambulance firm is reportedly in financial difficulties.

CES officials said they will find an alternative way of providing ambulance service to the five municipalities. Supervisor Clarence Steinke said the CES had requested a vote of confidence on the ambulance decision.

In other areas, the board voted to pay a $54 tuition fee so Steinke can attend a 14-week assessors course at Southwestern Michigan college, Dowagiac. The course meets for three hours, one night a week. Board members agreed they would attend the annual convention of the Michigan Townships Association Jan. 12 through 14 at Grand Rapids with the township paying expenses.

Bangor Twp. OKs Hall Rental

BANGOR — The Bangor township board last night voted to make the township hall available for rental to residents. The board set a rental fee of $25. A $75 deposit would be required and would be returned after a proper cleanup. Treasurer Eileen Nutting is to be in charge of rentals.

In other areas, the board announced the township had received $74 in anti-recession funds from the federal government. It was announced that Van Buren Sheriff Richard Stump would attend a township meeting to explain the use of increased patrols in the county.

The board voted not to endorse or join the Van Buren credit union. Named to the board of review for the two-year terms were William Nutting, Russell T. Piper and Charles Simpson.

The board tabled until spring a decision on whether to repair a sinkhole on 36th avenue between CR-487 and School Section lake. Repairs were estimated to cost $3,300 by the road commission. Mrs. Nutting announced she would be at the West Michigan Savings bank, Bangor, Dec. 19 and on Feb. 19 and 26 from 9 a.m. to noon to collect 1978 property taxes. She said she will also accept tax payments each Friday at her home.

It was announced that the transfer station dump box will be open on Friday before Christmas and New Year's day. It is normally open Saturdays.

Ambulance, Fire Budgets Are Set

HARTFORD — Hartford city councilmen and township board members met jointly last night to set a $38,149 fire department budget and a $13,510 ambulance budget for 1977.

Officials from both municipalities agreed they would equally share the cost of running the joint city-township services. Each municipality will pay $19,574 for the fire department and $6,755 for the ambulance operations.

HER BABY NOW: Mary Westphal of Aurora, Ill., hugs newly-adopted son, Timothy John, at O'Hare International Airport in Chicago this week at close of three-year battle with adoption agencies and social workers. Mr. and Mrs. Westphal were rebuffed by officials who maintained a person confined to wheelchair by polio couldn't be a good mother. They finally were successful in adopting Timothy, a 15-month-old Korean orphan, through Lutheran social service organization. (AP Wirephoto)

Board members agreed to set aside $6,000 of the ambulance money for the eventual purchase of a replacement ambulance. This will be added to $1,000 set aside in 1975.

Officials said they hope to be able to make the purchase in another year or 18 months. Included in the fire budget was $3,785 to be used to blacktop the parking area around the fire station on east Main street.

The officials voted to instruct the joint fire board to hire a certified public accounting firm to audit the fire and ambulance books from Nov. 13, 1973, when the unit was formed, through Dec. 31, 1978.

The officials also instructed the joint fire board to prepare a monthly statement comparing expenses to the budget.

It was announced that the city of Hartford has scheduled a public hearing Dec. 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall on the proposed 1977 city budget.

Councilmen said copies of the proposed budget would be available for inspection 10 days before the meeting.

Cass Joins New Council Despite 'Monster' Warning

CASSOPOLIS — The Cass county board of commissioners yesterday voted to join the new tri-county Human Resources Commission despite warnings the HRC could be a fiscal and administrative "monster."

The HRC which will provide a wide range of services for families and individuals, replaces the Southwest Michigan Council on Aging for Berrien, Cass and Van Buren counties.

"You should watch carefully what this commission does," warned Commissioner Marjorie Federowski of Vandalia. Mrs. Federowski, defeated in the November elections, said "sometimes you can create a monster, and I hope this is not true here. I hope we can control it," she added.

Cass is the last of the three counties to join HRC. Its representatives to the commission will be four members appointed by the county board and will include one county commissioner.

In other areas yesterday, the board awarded a construction contract of $83,000 to Roger Boughton of Cassopolis to make the upper floor of the new courthouse addition into offices for the county social services department. Initially, the cost had been estimated at $64,000.

When completed, the Michigan Department of Social Services will rent the area from the county for $4,225 monthly.

An annexation of 50 to 60 acres proposed by the village of Marcellus was denied by the county board after a board committee reported there was not sufficient justification to approve annexation.

A number of Marcellus area residents attended a November board meeting and voiced objections to the annexation. The county board has the power to approve or deny, in part or in whole, a village annexation proposal.

A Borgess (Kalamazoo) hospital bill of $24,150 for care of a sheriff's prisoner who died at the hospital in October, 1974, was approved by the board. Payment had been delayed more than a year. Dick Skatvold of Elkhart, Ind., was a sheriff's prisoner when he became ill and died at the hospital after three months of treatment for a brain tumor.

The board voted to spend $15,000 over the next 15 years to develop the 10-acre Russ Forrest park near the Decatur road and Marcellus highway. The project is in cooperation with the county parks and recreation commission and Michigan State university.

The board voted certificates of appreciation to several county employees, including Mrs. Margaret Murray, director of the county social services department, who is retiring at the end of this year after 34 years with the department.

Decatur VFW Granted Township Building OK

DECATUR — The Decatur township board last night approved a building permit allowing the Decatur VFW to build a new hall on Phelps street just outside the north village limits.

The permit was awarded over the objections of two people who said they lived near the proposed site for the new hall.

Al Osmick and Mrs. Isadore Sterner said they felt the hall would increase traffic and noise in the area and would lower nearby residential property values.

The VFW post owns five acres on Phelps with a small portion inside the village limits.

The Decatur village council had refused to grant rezoning so the hall could be built inside the village with water and sewer hookups. That proposed rezoning had been opposed by nearby residents.

The VFW then changed the plans so the hall would be located in the township and sought a permit. The township zoning board recommended that the permit be approved.

The VFW's present hall is on Delaware street in a remodeled church.

In other areas, the board accepted the resignation of Gwen Lipkeas from the board of review.

Named to the board of review were Bernard Sherburn, one-year term; Albert Kezerle, two-year term; and Patrick Redmond, three-year term.

The board approved building permits for Kay MacKellar for a beauty shop in her home on route 1, Lawton, and for Mert High of High's Marine on M-51 North for a boat storage house.

The board voted 25 cent an hour wage increases for the village employees. At present, one employee makes $2.50 an hour; one makes $2.75 an hour and one makes $704 a month. The board also agreed to buy Christmas turkeys for all three employees.

Supervisor Joseph Miller reported that 23 residents of the privately owned Gaertig subdivision west of the village had voted 13 to nine at a meeting Saturday against creating a special assessment district in the subdivision.

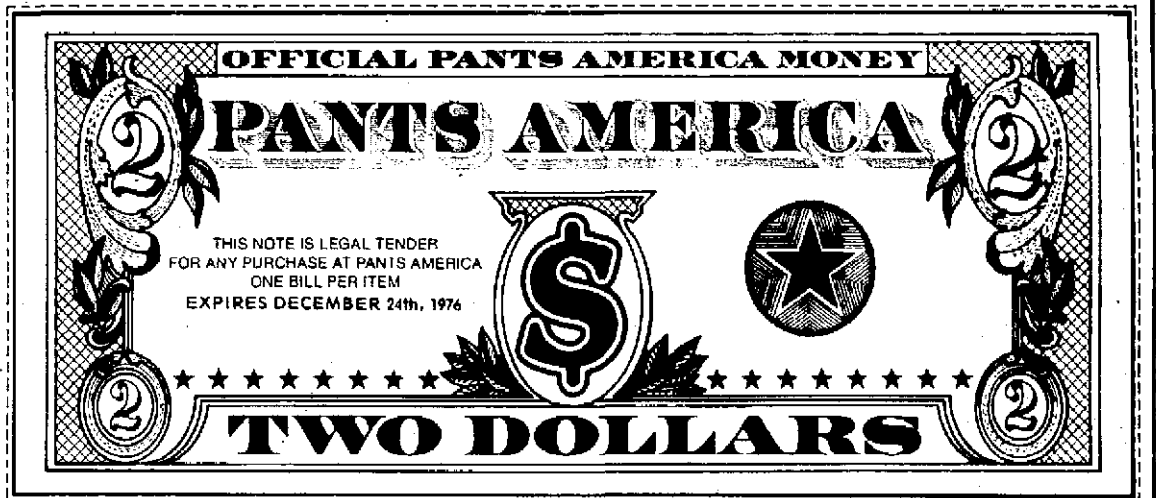

The assessment district was proposed as a way of raising money to pay the county road commission to maintain the private streets there. It was estimated it would cost about $1.50 per frontage foot per year for the maintenance which would have included grading and snowplowing.

Miller announced that a dog vaccination clinic is to be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 8, at the township hall. Dog licenses will be sold at the clinic. Dogs must have a current vaccination before a license can be purchased.

The board voted to hire the certified public accounting firm of Seidman and Seidman, Dowagiac, to perform an audit of the township's 1976 financial records.

The board agreed to contribute $500 toward the publication of a Decatur historical book. Miss Catherine Howland is the book's editor.

Four Prison Sites Listed In Allegan Game Reserve

ALLEGAN — State officials Tuesday listed four sites in the Allegan State Game Reserve that are under consideration by the state department of corrections as possible locations for a

$1 million minimum security prison work camp. Perry Johnson, director of the state department of corrections, told the Allegan county board of commissioners and some 50 county residents opposed to the controversial camp proposal, that two of the sites are in Heath township near Hamilton and two others are in Valley township, north and south of Lake Allegan.

But Johnson emphasized that "no specific site has been chosen. We still have to obtain an appropriation from the legislature and approval of the governor's office before a final decision is made."

He listed the proposed sites as at 130th avenue and 8th street, and 132nd avenue and 30th street, both in Heath township; and 122nd avenue and 40th street and 115th avenue and 40th street, both in Valley township.

He also assured more than 50 county residents on hand to protest the project, that a "public hearing will definitely be held, probably within two months," when the department has settled on a specific site.

Johnson said the Department of Natural Resources last Thursday gave him a list of four suggested sites, all within the borders of the 45,000-acre game reserve.

The department of corrections has had little chance to look the sites over, he added.

Many of the protesters who spoke during the morning board session at which Johnson appeared indicated they had moved to the area from large cities in Illinois and Indiana to "get away from all of this."

All expressed concern over possibility of danger to home and families and charged that establishment of a prison camp would have an adverse effect on tourism.

The game area is a major year-round attraction for visitors, hunters and fishermen.

Both Johnson and Raymond Kelley of the DNR indicated that little trouble had been experienced in connection with 12 honor camps already in operation throughout the state in areas similar to the state game area.

Johnson said the camps averaged from three to 21 walkaways per year, but he said

"there is no more likelihood of trouble for neighbors than if they lived near a fair-sized high school."

Commissioners expressed some uneasiness over the fact that the project apparently had gone a long way in the decision making process before local officials were aware of it.

Commissioner Dennis Nickels of Wayland complained that "we are getting involved in the semi-finals of it and a lot of adverse public reaction could have been avoided if you had come to us in the first place."

Johnson responded that "the possibility still exists that a camp will not be built in the Allegan area" adding that a site in the Pigeon River area is also under consideration.

He said the legislature had approved $130,000 in planning money for three new honor camps with a cost per camp estimated at $1 million.

Johnson promised that a public hearing would be held in Allegan county and residents would have plenty of advance notice if an area site is selected.

In their final full commission meeting of the year, commissioners waded through a large volume of business in the afternoon session.

One of few major items on the agenda was Sheriff-elect Robert Schra's request for a budget increase to cover the cost of a fulltime undersheriff.

The board increased the permanent wages line item from $177,000 to $184,500 to provide a $14,500 salary for an undersheriff, $300 less than the sheriff's own salary.

The additional funds will cover vacancies which Schra may fill in the department after he takes office.

Outgoing Sheriff Robert Whitcomb never employed a fulltime undersheriff. Schra indicated the job will go to Howard Hall, an unsuccessful 1976 candidate for sheriff in Kent county.

Oronoko Board Appoints Schug

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The Oronoko township board last night appointed David Schug to the trustee post on the board left vacant by the death of William Wilson Dec. 2.

Schug, owner of Schug's drug store in Berrien Springs, will serve until November, 1978.

In other action, the board accepted the low bid of $1,200 to $1,300 from Roberts and Merkel, accountants, for the 1976-77 audit of township financial records. The Berrien Springs firm was one of two bidders.

A letter was read from Gov. William Milliken thanking the board for its recommendation of Berrien Springs attorney Donald J. Dick for Berrien probate judge.

The governor promised to "seriously consider" Dick when he makes the appointment.

The township zoning ordinance was amended to require that every residential building in the township be constructed on a lot which abuts upon a public street.

Board members said the amendment was adopted to clarify the original ordinance.

— Board of appeals: Richard Schinkel and Walter Hildebrand.

— Board of review: John Prillwitz, Nicholas Fulbright and August Lange.

— Planning commission: David Ladd and Schinkel.

— Cemetery: Schug and Miskiewicz.

— Ambulance and fire: Robert Pagel and Schug.

— Roads and street lighting: Robert King and Ladd.

— Landfill: Pagel.

— Parks and recreation: Schinkel and Ladd.

Pay Raise Is Topic

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford can do his colleagues in Congress a big favor by granting them substantial pay raises before he leaves office. But backlogs are rising over the prospect that Ford will try to force Congress to accept a stringent new ethics code along with the bigger paychecks.

Pay scales for all three branches of government are the topics on the agenda for meetings President Ford has scheduled today with congressional leaders.

Ford has the authority to approve the raises or pass the recommendations on to his successor, President-elect Carter.

Many members of Congress believe that Carter would be politically unable to authorize early in his presidency the $37.5-million annual salary increase for some 2,500 officials who would be affected.

Planner Henkle Honored

C. WINSLOW HENKLE
Berrien planner honored

The Berrien county planning commission yesterday honored C. Winslow Henkle who is retiring from the county planning commission after serving 12 years.

Henkle, 75, was a charter member of the county planning commission when it was organized in January, 1965, and served as chairman in 1974 and 1975.

He and his wife, Virginia, live in Lakeside in Chikaming township and have two grown sons and five grandchildren.

The planning commission presented a plaque to Henkle at a luncheon meeting yesterday at the St. Joseph Holiday Inn in appreciation for his years of service.

In other areas, the planning commission recommended approval of a request before the Royallton township board of trustees to rezone eight acres of land on the south side of Niles avenue, between Glenford and Scottdale roads, from residential to commercial. The planning commission advised that the rezoning be limited to the area of the parcel fronting on Niles avenue.

The planning commission recommended approval of a request before the Buchanan township board to rezone 7.7 acres of land on the south side of Niles-Buchanan road, just east of the Buchanan city limits, from recreational to commercial. Rezoning of the site, adjacent to the Brookwood golf course, is being sought for the construction of a 30,000 square foot mini-mall shopping center.

Britain Moves To Get IMF Loan

By ED BLANCHE
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Chancellor of the Exchequer Denis Healey was expected to announce a second $1.6-billion cut in government spending and higher sales taxes today in order to get a $3.9-billion loan from the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

Along with his austerity interim budget, the Labor government's financial chief was also expected to tell the House of Commons that the government was selling a large part of its stock in British Petroleum (BP) to raise $800 million.

The government slashed public spending $1.6 billion five months ago, but this did little to halt Britain's economic slide. The new cuts will hit a wide range of government programs, including welfare, housing, health and transportation. Leftwing Laborites and the trade unions oppose the cuts, contending that they will mean more unemployment.

Britain is suffering its gravest economic crisis since the Great Depression of the 1930s. The country is deep in the red. There are about 1.2 million unemployed. Industry is stagnant. Inflation is still rampant, and the pound has been driven below $1.70.

The IMF originally told the government it would have to cut government spending about $4.8 billion to get the loan it wants. But Prime Minister James Callaghan and Healey insisted the British public would not put up with that much austerity.

The IMF agreed to scale down its demands but said Britain must try harder to balance its books, even if it means lower living standards. Political sources estimate that Healey aims to save up to $3.2 billion in the next year.

Callaghan told the House of Commons Tuesday that the new budget was unlikely to please many Britons. But he added:

"We think we have got to live through this particular period in order to see the country through to the other side, and that's what we intend to do."

Most economic experts believe the tough measures will worsen unemployment, which will anger the already-grumbling unions. That could endanger the so-called "social contract" between the government and the unions to keep pay increases low until the economy improves. That policy, the key to the government's economic strategy, is already showing signs of strain.

Financial sources said that unless Healey shows results soon, foreign confidence in Britain will wane further, and that will weaken the ailing pound still more.

"Time is running out," one observer commented.

Youth Dies Sawing Pole Down

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The teen-age son of an Indiana University-South Bend professor was electrocuted Tuesday while sawing off a utility pole on a primary power line, police said.

Authorities said 16-year-old Rex Risler was one of five youths using a chain saw about 1 a.m. to cut the pole supporting a 7,200-volt line along Indiana 23.

Risler was the son of Wall Risler, assistant professor in the IU-South Bend sociology department.

The government slashed public spending $1.6 billion five months ago, but this did little to halt Britain's economic slide. The new cuts will hit a wide range of government programs, including welfare, housing, health and transportation.

The IMF originally told the government it would have to cut government spending about $4.8 billion to get the loan it wants. But Prime Minister James Callaghan and Healey insisted the British public would not put up with that much austerity.

Most economic experts believe the tough measures will worsen unemployment, which will anger the already-grumbling unions. That could endanger the so-called "social contract" between the government and the unions to keep pay increases low until the economy improves. That policy, the key to the government's economic strategy, is already showing signs of strain.

Youth Dies Sawing Pole Down

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The teen-age son of an Indiana University-South Bend professor was electrocuted Tuesday while sawing off a utility pole on a primary power line, police said.

Authorities said 16-year-old Rex Risler was one of five youths using a chain saw about 1 a.m. to cut the pole supporting a 7,200-volt line along Indiana 23.

Risler was the son of Walt Risler, assistant professor in the IU-South Bend sociology department.

Leftwing Laborites and the trade unions oppose the cuts, contending that they will mean more unemployment.

Britain is suffering its gravest economic crisis since the Great Depression of the 1930s. The country is deep in the red. There are about 1.2 million unemployed. Industry is stagnant. Inflation is still rampant, and the pound has been driven below $1.70.

The IMF agreed to scale down its demands but said Britain must try harder to balance its books, even if it means lower living standards. Political sources estimate that Healey aims to save up to $3.2 billion in the next year.

Callaghan told the House of Commons Tuesday that the new budget was unlikely to please many Britons. But he added: "We think we have got to live through this particular period in order to see the country through to the other side, and that's what we intend to do."

Financial sources said that unless Healey shows results soon, foreign confidence in Britain will wane further, and that will weaken the ailing pound still more.

"Time is running out," one observer commented.

Foreign Movies Were Barred

Argentine Fans Await New Films

By ALFONSO CHARDY
Associated Press Writer
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — After a year of watching such oldies as the "Wizard of Oz," "Singing in the Rain" and the original "King Kong," movie-hungry Argentines are expected to flock to theaters on Christmas Day when fresh films from abroad finally will be released here.

They'll get the chance at last to see some of the newer movies from the United States, including "Barry Lyndon," "All the President's Men," and even "Jaws."

There is a backlog of 200 movies released in the United States between late 1975 and mid-1976 which have not yet been shown in Argentina. This happened because of a virtual embargo on new foreign movies imposed by the administration of President Isabel Peron, overthrown in a nonviolent military coup last March 24.

But last month the new military regime and international film distributors announced they had reached an agreement to end the embargo after five months of negotiations.

Late last year the populist and nationalistic Peronist government ordered foreign film distributors to stop importing films and told them that henceforth all films from abroad had to be copied in local laboratories.

The requirement, however, was not new in Argentina where it had been in effect for years until it was repealed by a previous military government in 1972.

What caused the embargo was not the requirement, but the sudden and repeated change in rules, as well as Argentina's economic and political crises, according to film distributors.

They say that Mexico, Brazil and Venezuela have had similar requirement for decades and no problems have cropped up.

After Christmas 1975 fresh foreign movies began to disappear from theaters here.

They were replaced by 1974 reruns, old movies from the 1930s and 1940s, documentaries and films from Socialist nations. Some new Argentine movies were shown, but local film production is much smaller than the number of U.S. releases.

Movies shown over and over again in the past year include "Young Frankenstein," "Earthquake," "The Sound of Music," "Midnight Cowboy," "The Graduate," "Rollerball," "Conquest of the Planet of the Apes," "The Magnificent Seven" and "Airport."

Among the new ones on tap for Christmas and thereafter are "The Fortune," "Taxi Driver," "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," "The Man Who Would Be King," "The Omen" and "Silent Movie," distributors say.

Movie attendance dropped 30 per cent in the last 12 months. It was usual to see movie theaters virtually empty even on weekends when they should have been packed. Some people even went to neighboring Uruguay to see new releases.

After Mrs. Peron was ousted, distributors began negotiating with military leaders on a new agreement. Although distributors wanted to eliminate the requirement to copy the films here, military leaders let it stand, but agreed to make it temporarily flexible.

Enilio Planchadell, the Argentine agent of Columbia Pictures and Twentieth Century-Fox, the two most important foreign distributors here, said in an interview that the government agreed to reduce local copies by 40 per cent.

Planchadell said, however, that the government wants all copies made here within two years, but film sources say that in two years this could be changed. Distributors do not like local copying because they say it is of low quality and more expensive, since they also have to pay for imported material not available here.

Planchadell said bringing in the copies from abroad costs $450 a movie, but local copying raises the price to $550 per movie.

Another problem is the price of movie tickets.

By Argentine standards it has increased quite a lot in the last 12 months of raging inflation, but by international standards, it is still below international levels.

Since 1975 the price has gone up from 50 to 250 pesos per ticket which is the equivalent of $1. In dollars, however, the price has remained more or less the same because of repeated peso devaluation. The average price elsewhere in Latin America is $3, while it is $4 in New York.

International film distributors reportedly want the local price increased to $2, but apparently they have struck a compromise with the government which may allow the price to rise to $1.50 when the new movies come.

For a country where the average monthly wage is barely $100, the new price may be just too steep, but if what Josefina Inchausti, a 23-year-old, $90-a-month secretary, plans to do is any indication, movie theaters here will have no problem.

"Even if I have to starve so I can save money to go see movies, I will do it because I haven't seen new movies in a long time," she said.

THAT'S POLITICS IN MICHIGAN HOUSE

'Branded' Republican Losing Job

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Democrats and Republicans say it's just the way partisan political life goes.

But to Gary Shinsky, it makes no sense that his $11,900-a-year job as manager of the state House press room should go down the drain simply because

By ALFRED E. SEYLER
D.D.S.
Q. I have a growth in the roof of my mouth. My dentist says he cannot fit any upper denture until it is removed, but since I am in poor health, my physician advises against this. Couldn't I have a denture made around this growth? N.Y.

A. The growth you describe is possibly a bony lump or projection in the middle of your hard palate. Such a growth is not unusual and ordinarily requires no surgical attention unless it will interfere with proper fitting of a denture. It is sometimes possible to construct a denture which is roofless, to avoid cutting away the excess bone in the roof of the mouth. Such a denture does not usually have as good retention as one which covers the entire roof of the mouth, but people learn to use them with great comfort and success.

If your dentist does not wish to construct such a denture for you, ask him to refer you to a denture specialist who can advise you properly, after personal examination, whether it is necessary to have an oral surgeon remove the growth.

Q. One of my front teeth is gradually moving or turning toward the back. I am 59, and my dentist tells me this comes with old age and there is nothing that can be done about it. Recently I have read of several cases of teeth being straightened and that age has nothing to do with the ability to have this work done. How would you advise me? M. T.

A. First of all I would say that 59 is not an "old age" — and that it is proper for you to seek treatment for your problem.

It is impossible to diagnose your problem properly without personal examination, for there may be several reasons for your tooth migrating from its previous position. It may be due to a periodontal condition which has caused the tooth to lose its bony support, or it could be the result of a habit centered around unusual movements of your lips or tongue.

I suggest you ask your dentist to refer you to an orthodontist for consultation. He will advise you whether your tooth can be moved safely to a better position and what expectation you could have for a lasting result.

LAW PROF DIES
BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — John Wilkins, former general counsel for the U.S. Agency for International Development and an expert in international law at the University of California at Berkeley, where he was the first black law professor at Boalt Hall, died Sunday of cancer. He was Democrats want to flex their political muscle.

Although he has gotten good marks for the five months he has held the job, Shinsky, 26, is branded. He is a Republican.

He was hired by that party four years ago "because I needed a job," he says. That's as deep as his Republican leanings seem to go, reporters who work with him agree.

But Shinsky is an example of how people occasionally lose out in the patronage sweepstakes in this state Capitol and others. His story also illustrates the saying: "It's not how you do, but who you know."

Earlier this year, Shinsky was named temporary press room manager when long-time manager Eddie Augenstein became seriously ill. He had substituted for Augenstein occasionally, and the 34-year veteran specifically asked that Shinsky take his place until he recovered.

But now, Augenstein has retired and House Speaker Bobby Crim wants to hire a permanent press room manager. Democrats hold the majority in the House, so Crim has the final word on appointments and salaries for all House staffers. Republicans are, however, allowed to name their share of pages, messengers, sergeants and janitors.

Crim says he will hire anyone the press corps endorses for the press room job — except a "ding-a-ling" or a Republican.

But Shinsky won't even be considered for the job, he says.

When asked why not, Crim sounds incredulous.

"Oh, come on! We have control of the House, more than a 60 per cent majority, and here's a job and we're going to give it to a Republican?" he asks. "That's doesn't make much sense."

Shinsky, who is married and has children aged 5 and 1, says he was "hired by Republicans because I needed a job and I knew Dale Warner," a former Republican lawmaker who was his "in."

Crim's insistence on filling the post with someone else will most likely mean Shinsky will return to his old Republican job as a House messenger, at a pay cut of $2,300 a year.

"Nobody has any quarrel with the quality of Gary's work. It's been excellent," says Crim.

"But we want to be the ones who select the permanent appointment there, and we're going to be. It's one of the prerogatives that falls to the majority party and we're going to exercise it," he says.

BH Woman Is Court Reporter

Sandra Yarbrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mosby Yarbrough, 1266 Union street, Benton Harbor, recently graduated from Ferris State college with an associates degree in court-conference reporting.

Miss Yarbrough, a 1974 graduate of Benton Harbor high school, is now working for R.L. Palmer and Associates, a court reporting agency in Detroit.

"It's a matter of principle. It's the way things happen in the Capitol. It's a fact of life."

The press corps has not gone to bat for Shinsky, although they say they have no complaints about the job he's doing distributing press releases and court opinions, and keeping track of each day's press conferences, hearings and legislative sessions.

Panay Bureau Chief Bob Berg, elected head of the press corps, says reporters would rather agree on a mutually-acceptable new manager than "try to fight a pitched battle" with Crim.

To Shinsky, the question is not partisan politics. It is the loss of a good-paying job for reasons he can't fully understand.

"I think I should at least have a chance at the interview," he says, pointing out that his job demands he distribute press releases from lawmakers of both parties.

When asked where his real political heart is, Shinsky refuses to say who got his vote for President. Either way, he can't win.

Carmen Seats, top aide to House Republican Leader Dennis Cawthorne, makes it clear what it will mean for Shinsky's future as a Republican appointee if he tries to prove he is "really a philosophical Democrat."

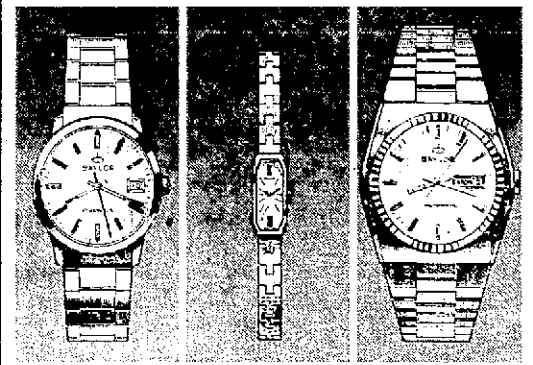

"I would not say he should be fired. But as far as me going out of my way to secure a job for him...if he's trying to get the best deal he can out of either party, then he's a true independent," Seats says.

"And independents can't expect partisan favors." That's politics.

'Branded' Republican Losing Job

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Democrats and Republicans say it's just the way partisan political life goes.

But to Gary Shinsky, it makes no sense that his $11,900-a-year job as manager of the state House press room should go down the drain simply because Democrats want to flex their political muscle.

Although he has gotten good marks for the five months he has held the job, Shinsky, 26, is branded. He is a Republican.

He was hired by that party four years ago "because I needed a job," he says. That's as deep as his Republican leanings seem to go, reporters who work with him agree.

But Shinsky is an example of how people occasionally lose out in the patronage sweepstakes in this state Capitol and others. His story also illustrates the saying: "It's not how you do, but who you know."

Earlier this year, Shinsky was named temporary press room manager when long-time manager Eddie Augenstein became seriously ill. He had substituted for Augenstein occasionally, and the 34-year veteran specifically asked that Shinsky take his place until he recovered.

But now, Augenstein has retired and House Speaker Bobby Crim wants to hire a permanent press room manager. Democrats hold the majority in the House, so Crim has the final word on appointments and salaries for all House staffers. Republicans are, however, allowed to name their share of pages, messengers, sergeants and janitors.

Crim says he will hire anyone the press corps endorses for the press room — except a "ding-a-ling" or a Republican.

But Shinsky won't even be considered for the job, he says.

When asked why not, Crim sounds incredulous.

"Oh, come on! We have control of the House, more than a 60 per cent majority, and here's a job and we're going to give it to a Republican?" he asks. "That's doesn't make much sense."

Shinsky, who is married and has children aged 5 and 1, says he was "hired by Republicans because I needed a job and I knew Dale Warner," a former Republican lawmaker who was his "in."

Crim's insistence on filling the post with someone else will most likely mean Shinsky will return to his old Republican job as a House messenger, at a pay cut of $2,300 a year.

"Nobody has any quarrel with the quality of Gary's work. It's been excellent," says Curt Hanes, a top Crim aide.

"But we want to be the ones who select the permanent appointment there, and we're going to be. It's one of the prerogatives that falls to the majority party and we're going to exercise it," he says.

BH Woman Is Court Reporter

Sandra Yarbrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mosby Yarbrough, 1266 Union street, Benton Harbor, recently graduated from Ferris State college with an associates degree in court-reporting.

Miss Yarbrough, a 1974 graduate of Benton Harbor high school, is now working for R.L. Palmer and Associates, a court reporting agency in Detroit.

"It's a matter of principle. It's the way things happen in the Capitol. It's a fact of life."

The press corps has not gone to bat for Shinsky, although they say they have no complaints about the job he's doing distributing press releases and court opinions, and keeping track of each day's press conferences, hearings and legislative sessions.

Panax Bureau Chief Bob Berg, elected head of the press corps, says reporters would rather agree on a mutually-acceptable new manager than "try to fight a pitched battle" with Crim.

To Shinsky, the question is not partisan politics. It is the loss of a good-paying job for reasons he can't fully understand.

"I think I should at least have a chance at the interview," he says, pointing out that his job demands he distribute press releases from lawmakers of both parties.

When asked where his real political heart is, Shinsky refuses to say who got his vote for President. Either way, he can't win.

Carmen Seats, top aide to House Republican Leader Dennis Cawthorne, makes it clear what it will mean for Shinsky's future as a Republican appointee if he tries to prove he is "really a philosophical Democrat."

"I would not say he should be fired. But as far as me going out of my way to secure a job for him... If he's trying to get the best deal he can out of either party, then he's a true independent," Seats says.

"And independents can't expect partisan favors." That's politics.

Ask Your Dentist

By ALFRED E. SEYLER
D.D.S.

Q. I have a growth in the roof of my mouth. My dentist says he cannot fit any upper denture until it is removed, but since I am in poor health, my physician advises against this. Couldn't I have a denture made around this growth? N.Y.

A. The growth you describe is possibly a bony lump or projection in the middle of your hard palate. Such a growth is not unusual and ordinarily requires no surgical attention unless it will interfere with proper fitting of a denture. It is sometimes possible to construct a denture which is roofless, to avoid cutting away the excess bone in the roof of the mouth. Such a denture does not usually have as good retention as one which covers the entire roof of the mouth, but people learn to use them with great comfort and success.

If your dentist does not wish to construct such a denture for you, ask him to refer you to a denture specialist who can advise you properly, after personal examination, whether it is necessary to have an oral surgeon remove the growth. . .

Q. One of my front teeth is gradually moving or turning toward the back. I am 59, and my dentist tells me this comes with old age and there is nothing that can be done about it. Recently I have read of several cases of teeth being straightened and that age has nothing to do with the ability to have this work done. How would you advise me? M. T.

A. First of all I would say that 59 is not an "old age" — and that it is proper for you to seek treatment for your problem.

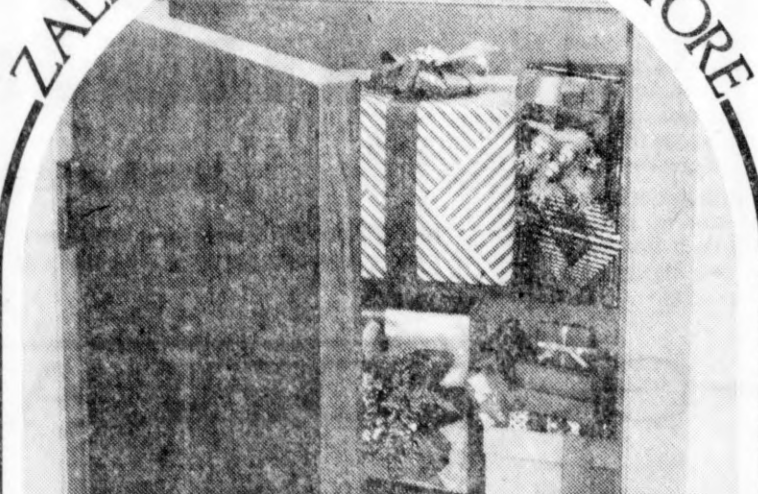

It is impossible to diagnose your problem properly without personal examination, for there may be several reasons for your tooth migrating from its previous position. It may be due to a periodontal condition which has caused the tooth to lose its bony support, or it could be the result of a habit centered around unusual movements of your lips or tongue.

I suggest you ask your dentist to refer you to an orthodontist for consultation. He will advise you whether your tooth can be moved safely to a better position and what expectation you could have for a lasting result.

REZONING APPROVED: Buchanan township board last night approved rezoning which will allow construction of $1 million shopping center east of Buchanan, represented above in artist's sketch. Board unanimously voted to rezone eight acres of Harry Kennedy property from recreational to commercial. Weatherford / Walker, Southfield, has announced plans to develop eight-store center on Niles-Buchanan road, adjacent to Brookwood golf course. In other areas last night, the board voted to purchase addi-

Lincoln Board Ponders Township-Wide Sewer Plans

By ALICE KOCH
Stevensville Correspondent

The Lincoln township board last night voted to delay for one week a decision on whether to award a $338,400 contract to its engineering firm to draw up plans for township-wide sewer service.

When completed, the plans would be submitted to state and federal officials along with an application for sewage construction grants that might cover up to 80 per cent of the estimated $7 million construction costs.

Board members approved the postponement to enable property owners more time to review the proposed plan and the costs for the project. A special meeting was set for Tuesday, Dec. 21, at 8 p.m. at which time the board expects to make a decision on the contract with Burger Engineering, St. Joseph.

Supervisor Bernice Tretheway said the engineering plans must be completed by June. That is the deadline for submitting sewage construction grant applications to the state.

She said that because the plans must be completed by that time, there probably would not be enough time for the township to go through the process of applying for a grant to help fund engineering costs.

Mrs. Tretheway, "Lincoln's

The area for which sewers are planned covers all portions of the township that have public water, except the village of Stevensville. Local funds for the project would be raised by special assessment.

"In the event the project is not funded," the supervisor said, "the plans can be used in the future. A large portion of the engineering costs would be borne by the districts petitioning for service and future districts which would most likely need the service."

The remaining cost of about $225,000 would be paid with township funds with no increase in taxes, she said. "As more districts petition for sewer, more of the engineering costs will come back into township funds."

The township has been given "at least" a 50 per cent chance of obtaining construction funding, according to state health department officials, Mrs. Tretheway stated.

In other business the board voted to participate with St. Joseph township in making temporary repairs on about 500 feet of the Hickory Creek Interceptor. The cost, estimated at $8,000 will be shared equally by both townships.

A one-year contract with Roberts and Merkel, accountants, Berrien Springs, to audit township books was approved. Cost is not to exceed $3,100 unless additions are approved by the board.

Final approval was given on the final plat for Oak Terrace subdivision No. 2 to developer Rudy Brunkel, Stevensville. Following a public hearing, a special assessment district for street lighting was approved for the subdivision at a cost of $16.10 per year per lot. A second district at $16.08 per year per lot was approved for Glenford subdivision No. 2.

The board voted to rescind its action of last month on the approval of a lot split in the Marquette Woods subdivision. Clerk Chris Welch reported William and Jane Corcoran, Palo Alto, Calif., who requested the lot split, would be notified of the board's action, noting it was in violation of the township's lot split ordinance because it created an unbuildable lot.

Permission was given to the supervisor to re-nominate the citizen's committee and appoint up to 25 interested citizens to study various needs and problems in the township.

Named to the various board committees were: Administrative, Mrs. Welch, Gerald Wahl and Mrs. Tretheway; finance, Wahl, Welch, Anthony Dlouhy, John Florian and Tretheway; liquor commission, Wahl, Fred Albrecht and Florian; building, grounds and township properties, Albrecht, Dlouhy and Welch; cemetery, Dlouhy, Welch, Albrecht and Tretheway.

Also, officials' salaries: Florian, Albrecht, Dlouhy and Donald Chapman; public safety, Chapman, Dlouhy and Florian; water and sewer authority, Chapman and John Lauck; Tri-

Unit fire board, Ernest Hauch and Dlouhy; planning commission, Albrecht; board of ap-

Columbia Recount Outcome Is Same

PAW PAW — Results of a recount of the Columbia township clerk's race in the Nov. 2 election failed to change the outcome. Charles E. McDonald, Van Buren county clerk, said today Republican incumbent Ronald Krieger received 431 votes, one more than he had been previously credited with. The total of Democrat Thomas Betz remained unchanged at 120 votes. McDonald said the additional vote Krieger gained apparently resulted from a county error election night.

Lincoln Board Ponders Township-Wide Sewer Plans

By ALICE KOCH
Stevensville Correspondent

The Lincoln township board last night voted to delay for one week a decision on whether to award a $338,400 contract to its engineering firm to draw up plans for township-wide sewer service.

When completed, the plans would be submitted to state and federal officials along with an application for sewage construction grants that might cover up to 80 per cent of the estimated $7 million construction costs.

Board members approved the postponement to enable property owners more time to review the proposed plan and the costs for the project. A special meeting was set for Tuesday, Dec. 21, at 8 p.m. at which time the board expects to make a decision on the contract with Barger Engineering, St. Joseph.

Supervisor Bernice Tretheway said the engineering plans must be completed by June. That is the deadline for submitting sewage construction grant applications to the state.

Mrs. Tretheway, "Lincoln's

The area for which sewers are planned covers all portions of the township that have public water, except the village of Stevensville. Local funds for the project would be raised by special assessment.

"In the event the project is not funded," the supervisor said, "the plans can be used in the future. A large portion of the engineering costs would be borne by the districts petitioning for service and future districts which would most likely need the service."

The remaining cost of about $225,000 would be paid with township funds with no increase in taxes, she said. "As more districts petition for sewer, more of the engineering costs will come back into township funds."

The township has been given "at least" a 50 per cent chance of obtaining construction funding, according to state health department officials, Mrs. Tretheway stated.

In other business the board voted to participate with St. Joseph township in making temporary repairs on about 500 feet of the Hickory Creek interceptor. The cost, estimated at $9,000 will be shared equally by both townships.

A one-year contract with Roberts and Merkel, accountants, Berrien Springs, to audit township books was approved. Cost is not to exceed $3,100 unless additions are approved by the board.

VACATION AT VAIL

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — President Ford and his family will spend a 10-day Christmas holiday here despite little snow and poor skiing.

Cybill Says Men Usually First To Do Nude 'Scene'

Q: Do you think movie stars like to play nude scenes or do they do them because they have to? — M.H., Burlington, Vt.

A: Well, Cybill Shepherd who had done it says she hates to appear nude. The actress told British reporter Roderick Mann that she wants to do a movie where she stays dressed and all the men strip. When Mann asked why, she explained "because that's the way it happens. In real life men have always had their clothes off before me. It's happened often. I'd turn around and there the man would be without his clothes."

Q: Has Christopher Lee, my favorite horror actor, given up his career? — K.S., Richmond, Va.

A: Not at all. He's just moved to Hollywood after making more than 130 fright flicks in England and Europe. A good role in "Airport 77" may signal the start of a renewed career in Lotus Land.

LEE: Coming up — 'Airport 77'

Q: I saw Groucho Marx on Merv Griffin's TV show this year and he seems quite feeble. Is he aging? — A.Z. Chicago

A: At 80, Groucho is amazing. But besides being hard of hearing now, he has suffered a series of strokes which have really taken their toll.

Q: What about Johnny Carson's second wife? Doesn't she live in Las Angeles, too? — V.M., Atlanta

A: Yes, and living a very interesting life. First of all, the fortyish ex-Mrs. Carson has been seeing a lot of Scot Newman, Paul Newman's son, and has been providing him with much welcome guidance. Joanne has also devised a new kind of therapy using warm water baths which is reported to have helped Jennifer Jones, the wife of Norton Simon. Jennifer has been deeply depressed since her daughter's suicide last August. The therapy involves swimming exercises in a pool heated to more than 80 degrees.

Q: Everyone talks about the Mafia controlling the porno movie industry, but does that make the kind of profits that would attract the underworld? — D.L., Orlando, Fla.

A: Hard-core movies can be extremely profitable, but more than that, they are a way for organized crime to wash hot money. We hear that box office receipts at some hard-core movie houses are reported at two and three times more than they really are. These fake profits (the money actually comes from other illegal businesses) can then be invested legally.

Q: We're intrigued with Rita Hayworth's daughter, Princess Yasmin. Is she a swinging jet-setter like her late father, Aly Khan? — D.D., Ann Arbor, Mich.

A: Yasmin is very popular and she gets around to all the big Manhattan parties, but she certainly isn't a compulsive jet-setter, or for that matter, a publicity hound. She lives in an apartment overlooking Central Park and is a serious opera student.

Q: I saw the recent NBC 50th anniversary show and wonder why they didn't have a better selection of top performers of the past like the Beatles, Elvis, etc. — N.J., Irving, Tex.

A: NBC tried, but ran into problems getting clearances. Some of the stars wanted either too much money or final approval of how their film clips would be used. Ginger Rogers, Joan Sutherland, Mitzie Gaynor, the Carpenters, Mike Nichols, Elaine May, Tony Bennett, and yes, Elvis and the Beatles, flat-out refused to cooperate, for one reason or another.

Q: How did that young fellow make out who was heir to the famous Krupp steel and munitions empire in Germany but was kicked out of the company awhile back? — F.Z., Jacksonville, Fla.

A: Arndt von Bohlen und Halbach wasn't exactly kicked out, but pensioned at age 28 on some $800,000 per annum, nine years ago. Arndt gave up the name of Krupp because he didn't like the sound and took to tinting his hair and wearing mascara and green eye shadow. He recently separated from his wife of seven years and is now complaining that because of inflation his pension might be increased. Life is just not as simple as it used to be.

Lib Stealing Christmas, Dane Claims

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Christmas no longer is a family affair and the women's liberation movement and fancy resort areas are to blame, a Danish Lutheran pastor claimed Tuesday. He said people locked themselves away from aunts, uncles and friends. "I believe that women's fight for equality has contributed in a high degree to making Christmas difficult," said the Rev. Peter Michaelson, vicar of St. Andrew's Parish Church, in an interview with the independent newspaper B.T. "Women's craving to liberate themselves has replaced responsibility for husband and child. ... Family festivities, which are the foundation of Christmas, have disappeared. The children's Christmas has become awfully meager and poor," said the 41-year-old vicar and father of two children. Michaelson said that with both parents working, or in families with only one parent, no one had time to get into the Christmas spirit and celebrate properly.

Lib Stealing Christmas, Dane Claims

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Christmas no longer is a family affair and the women's liberation movement and fancy resort areas are to blame, a Danish Lutheran pastor claimed Tuesday. He said people locked themselves away from aunts, uncles and friends.

"I believe that women's fight for equality has contributed in a high degree to making Christmas difficult," said the Rev. Peter Michaelson, vicar of St. Andrew's Parish Church, in an interview with the independent newspaper B.T. "Women's craving to liberate themselves has replaced responsibility for husband and child."

"Family festivities, which are the foundation of Christmas, have disappeared. The children's Christmas has become a poorly-meager and poor," said the 41-year-old vicar and father of two children.

Michaelson said that with both parents working, or in families with only one parent, no one had time to get into the Christmas spirit and celebrate properly.

'GIRL NEXT DOOR' NOW PORN QUEEN

MSU Coed Makes Own X-Rated Film

COLLEGE PORN QUEEN: Gail Palmer, a 21-year-old junior at Michigan State University, has written, directed and arranged financing for a profitable X-rated movie. (AP Wirephoto)

By HARRY ATKINS
Associated Press Writer
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gail Palmer, a 21-year-old Michigan State University junior, was repulsed after seeing an X-rated movie for the first time, so she did something about it: She made one of her own.

She doesn't appear in "Hot Summer in the City," a film about the abduction and rape of a young woman by four men just before the 1967 Detroit riots. But she wrote it, directed it and found the money to finance it — all with no prior experience.

Miss Palmer's credentials read more like those of the venerable "girl next door" than of a porn queen. She was raised a Catholic on the East Side of Detroit and her father today is superintendent of a small school district in Michigan's Thumb region. For that reason, she uses the surname Palmer rather than her real name.

She saw her first X-rated film in Kalamazoo where she was a freshman — and a cheerleader — at Western Michigan University.

"I had a girl friend who was dating a guy who managed an adult theater in Kalamazoo," Miss Palmer said. "He was supposed to have had the star of a film on hand to sign autographs one day."

with her business sense and offered her a job managing his firm's theater in Lansing.

Miss Palmer accepted, and transferred to Michigan State where she currently carries 22 quarter hours and maintains a B-plus average in her physical education major.

"My dad couldn't believe it, and my mother was really mad," Miss Palmer said. "She said, 'Oh, I don't want you working in one of those places.'"

But I told her it was really a nice place and that I'd be getting a lot of good business experience."

When Miss Palmer first took over the Cinema X, it was doing about $150 worth of business a day and she thought she knew why. Within six months she had business up to about $33,000 a month, where it remains today.

She tried innovative things, like having a sidewalk sale featuring slow-selling sex novelty items from the theater's bookstore.

"When I came here, the Cinema X complex had a theater and a book store," Miss Palmer said. "And the films were awful. I put in a game room and took a survey. I asked the customers what they would like to see. Nobody had ever bothered to take a survey before. But I did, and we got rid of those awful films and started getting in good stuff."

She said the surveys indicated customers wanted to see better-quality sexually explicit movies with stories and plots. She said that's when she first started thinking of making her own.

After she had finished the book and the screenplay, Miss Palmer finally got the money to finance her film from an outfit in the Bahamas called Caribbean Films. And that's when the fun really started.

"I convinced these guys to give me the money on faith alone," Miss Palmer said. "I had never made a movie before in my life. All I had was an idea. Now, I had the money and I had to go out and find the performers, the equipment, the cameramen, everything."

Most of the performers were Michigan State students, a mistake Miss Palmer said she would never make again.

"The things they would tell me, just to let them be in my movie, you wouldn't believe," she said. "One guy promised me he could do what had to be done. So we had all of this general footage of him already shot and then when it came time for him to perform in the sex scenes, he couldn't do it. But I was stuck with him."

"I couldn't afford to go back and shoot all that general footage again. So we got a stand-in for the waist-down shots."

She said other members of the cast — male and female — grew to dislike one another in the five-week span of the shooting, further inhibiting their attempts at love-making before the camera.

"I've got three more movies coming up," Miss Palmer said. "and I'm making them all in California, and I'm using professionals. No more amateurs."

The 70-minute film, which cost about $100,000, has played most major U.S. cities this year. The backers have recouped all of their money.

"I know they're making profit now," said Miss Palmer, who took a straight salary of $7,000 for the deal, which included her promise to tour the country promoting the film. She said she would work for a percentage of the profit on future films.

Miss Palmer said she has no qualms about performing in an X-rated movie, but insisted it would have to be a screenplay "even Catherine Deneuve couldn't turn down — a big budget, big costume picture."

"From what I'm doing, I'll make enough money to go in business for myself in something I really enjoy," she said, indicating she would like to open a health spa and dancing school. "And I feel this is just a stepping stone, you know? A way for me to make money. And, still, I enjoy it."

Township Curfew Sought

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — Clinton Township officials want to impose a juvenile curfew to help stem what they describe as a rising tide of criminal activity by youths. Kenneth Bobcan, township supervisor, said he will submit a curfew proposal to Clinton Township trustees Wednesday. Bobcan said the curfew idea was triggered by a recent incident when a 15-year-old girl stole her father's pickup truck. In a resulting chase, she forced a township police car off the road and into a tree. An officer, Richard Pruchniewski, was seriously injured and is still hospitalized. The supervisor also said party store owners in the area frequently complain about youths loitering on their property.

Contempt Convictions Reversed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Attorneys must zealously represent their clients, the Michigan Court of Appeals said this week in reversing two contempt convictions against a Detroit lawyer.

The court said another judge should decide the question when a judge's personal feelings may play a part in his decision to hold someone in contempt.

Attorneys are obligated to represent clients vigorously, the court said. Unless the lawyer willfully creates an obstruction to the administration of justice, actions on behalf of a client do not constitute contempt, it said.

Attorney Sheldon Meizlish was twice convicted of contempt of court by Detroit Recorder's Court Judge William Hague for remarks the lawyer made during a trial before Hague.

The appeals court said the trial was peppered with "heated exchanges" and "repetitive personal animosity" between the two

One-Two Buck Scoring Punch Knocks Out Lancers

By JACK WALKDEN

Staff Sports Writer

BUCHANAN — Buchanan's one-two punch may have delivered the knockdown punch to Lakeshore's Blossomland conference title hopes here Tuesday night.

Gerald Busby tossed in 22 points and Greg Frazier added 21 as the Bucks held off the Lancers 77-65. Though the loss was just the second in three league games for Lakeshore, Lancer coach Lloyd MacTavish believes his team can not afford to lose anymore.

"We are in a must-win situation Friday to stay in conference for the conference," MacTavish said. "We're going to have to execute and make the transition better from offense to defense."

MacTavish is hoping the Lancers, 1-4 overall, can avoid the knockout punch Friday at River Valley.

Buchanan also got double figures scoring from Kevin Vanderbush with 12 points and Mo Kyles with 11. The Bucks have now beaten Lakeshore six straight times.

Center Tom Jager topped the Lancer scoring attack with 16 points. Larry Toth clipped in with 14. Odell Brister had 12 and Mike Mason came off the bench for 10 points.

The win was the second straight for Buchanan after a pair of season-opening setbacks. And first-year Buck coach Jon Bohannon can see improvement in his team with every game.

"We're improved but man do we have a long way to go," Bohannon said. "Better shot selection is the main thing we're working on. Still we got super shooting. It's hard to find fault with a ballplayer when the shot goes in."

Buchanan, now 2-1 in Blossomland conference play, hit the nets on 31 of 66 shots from the floor for 47 per cent. The Bucks were uncanny in the second half, finding the range on 16 of 26 attempts from the field (62 per cent).

Though yielding 65 points, Bohannon was also pleased with the Buck defense. Lakeshore needed 71 shots for its 25 baskets, a poor 35 per cent.

"It was our best defensive effort all year," he explained. "It was a very physical game and the kids maintained their composure very well. We played defense with more intensity and were more aggressive on the boards. We just looked sharper defensively."

MacTavish sees Buchanan as a powerhouse before the season is over.

"The one real thing that I notice they lack at this point is a floor leader," he said. "Last year Walt (Vanderbush) was the floor leader. The raw talent is there. It's just a question of getting the talent to jell into the new coach's system."

It was a spurt late in the first quarter which put Buchanan on top for good. Trailing 10-6, the Bucks reeled off 10 straight points and never trailed after that.

The Buchanan lead was 37-26 at halftime and reach 44 points on several occasions in the second half, the last at 58-44.

Lakeshore made one serious run at Buchanan in the final quarter. Behind 58-46 at the start of the final period, Lakeshore came back to within 61-55 with 5:21 left.

But three straight Lakeshore turnovers, and a pair of fast-break Buck baskets, kept the victory.

"It comes down to one simple thing," MacTavish said. "When we made a run at them in the fourth quarter, they were in a man-to-man defense. We were getting good shots, but they switched to a zone. When they changed to a zone, we had trouble adjusting to it.

"Shooting had been one of our good suits. But we just didn't make them, they were getting the ball and going the other direction."

Buchanan finished with a 45-37 board edge. Mo Kyles pulled down 14 rebounds, while Frazier had 11 and Busby eight. Jager finished with 11 and Mason six for Lakeshore.

The Bucks turned the ball over 21 times, nine in the fourth quarter, while the Lancers had 23 turnovers, just six coming in the second half.

Lakeshore's junior varsity team ran its record to 4-1 with a 52-44 victory over Buchanan. Scott Andrews and Joe Shafer each scored 13 points and Dave Goodwin added 12. Ronnie Williams tossed in 13 and Alan Ward 12 for the Bucks.

Curtis' Basket At Buzzer Beats Decatur

Watervliet Wins Thriller

By JOHN VANDEN HEDE

Sports Editor

WATERVLIET — Watervliet had plenty of heroes here Tuesday night, but it was Pat Curtis who came to the fore when it counted most.

The senior hit a desperation 20-foot jump shot from the top of the free throw circle at the final buzzer to give the Panthers a spine-tingling 69-67 non-league basketball triumph over Decatur.

The victory extended Watervliet's winning streak this season to six straight...the school's best start since way back in the 1954-55 campaign. It also erased memories of three losses to the Raiders last season, including elimination in the Class C district tournament. Curtis' runningmate at guard, Chuck Brock, was another Watervliet standout while leading his team with 18 points.

"He's what makes the team go," declared first-year Panther coach Gene Bednarowski. "You don't worry too much with Brock bringing the ball up the floor and feeding it to his teammates. And he played a fine defensive game, too, on (Kurt) Wiese."

The other three Watervliet starters were also in double figures, with center Jim Smola netting 12 and forwards Jon Hinkelman and Tom Hutchinson adding 11 and 10, respectively.

Hutchinson also led his team in rebounding with 11 and drew special praise from his coach. "I thought Tom Hutchinson came alive tonight," declared Bednarowski. "That was his finest game."

Decatur's Wiese, the leading active scorer in southwestern Michigan, took game high honors in scoring and rebounding with 19 in each department.

Wiese tallied 11 of his points in the last quarter while hitting a perfect five-for-five from the field, keeping Decatur in the game.

Wiese's runningmate at guard, Dave Cerven, added 17 points, while center Jim Smola had 15 and forward Steve Gruendyk 10. The other Raider starter, forward Dave Mroczek, contributed 11 rebounds.

The whole game was as tight as the final score, with never more than seven points separating the teams (the largest second half spread was just four points).

Decatur led 16-11 after the first quarter, but the game was deadlocked 28-28 at halftime. The Raiders were back on top 45-44 after three periods.

There were seven ties and 12 exchanges of the lead over the final two quarters.

A steal by Brock led to a basket by Hutchinson and a 67-64 Watervliet lead — the biggest margin of the second half — with 1:31 left to play.

Buckets by Wiese and Mroczek then knotted the score at 67-67 with 21 seconds remaining.

Watervliet worked for the last shot, but almost didn't get it away, as the ball was juggled as the clock ticked down. But Curtis gained control and launched the winning shot.

"That was just a desperation shot," declared Bednarowski. "I was afraid they were going to call traveling."

Watervliet posted slim shooting edges, hitting 31 of 73 field goals (42 per cent) and seven of 12 free throws (58 per cent). Decatur meshed 29 of 77 from the floor (38 per cent) and nine of 16 at the lines (56 per cent). Decatur had a 49-46 rebounding edge, and both teams made 15 turnovers.

Brock connected on eight of 14 and Hutchinson five of 10 for Watervliet, while Cerven hit seven of 14 and Wiese nine of 18 for Decatur.

Watervliet hit a deadly 11 of 18 while pulling out the victory in the last quarter.

"We got lazy," declared Decatur coach Tom Gibson. "I know we are better than that. We backed off the press and gave them too many shots they shouldn't have had."

"We are just not disciplined at all...and I guess that falls on my shoulders."

Gibson said Watervliet played "good enough to win by 10. If it wasn't for us being lucky, we wouldn't have even been in the ball game at the end. We got lucky and picked up a lot of loose trap underneath."

But Bednarowski still thought Decatur was plenty tough. "That's by far the best team we've faced," he declared. "Decatur is fast."

Decatur will now carry a 2-2 record into Friday's SAC game at Lawton. Watervliet, meanwhile, will return to the Red Arrow conference with a home against against Berrien Springs...a team Bednarowski calls a "sleeping giant."

Decatur did win Tuesday night's junior varsity preliminary 58-41. The Little Raiders, now 2-2, got 15 points from sophomore Tim Cerven, the fifth brother to play for Decatur, and 14 tallies from freshman Steve Overley, the fourth and last of the Overley brothers. Jeff Parker scored 16 and Bryan Epple 12 for the 1-5 Watervliet jayvees.

Late Surge Helps Valley To Victory

DOWAGIAC — River Valley hitized Dowagiac in the final quarter to pull away and earn an 81-53 Blossomland victory here Tuesday night.

The Mustangs outscored the Chiefs 27-11 in the final to up their league mark to 2-1 and overall record to 3-2.

"It was real close for three quarters...we were down only by six points with 1:12 left in the third period," noted Dowagiac Coach Larry Crandall. "We had the ball out-of-bounds but turned it over and Valley scored."

"Overall I was real proud of the kids' effort. We held in there. In the fourth quarter I think we got worn down physically and also started to make quite a few mental mistakes."

"This was a typical River Valley team...well-disciplined, played good defense and didn't make many turnovers."

John White paced the Mustangs with 20 points while Gary Schaffer tallied 18 and Werner Maak 13.

Kim Mulder was again a bright spot for the Chiefs with 11 points and 19 rebounds. Larry McLaughlin and Brian Reist both added 12 points.

Dowagiac, 0-3 in the league and 1-4 overall, connected on 23 of 62 shots for 37 per cent while hitting seven of 14 free throws. Valley was a sizzling 35 of 70 for 50 per cent and 11 of 18 at the foul lines.

The Mustangs held a 39-37 board edge.

Dowagiac won the junior varsity game.

Irish Topple Reeling Hoosiers

Knight, Batton Power Undefeated Notre Dame

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

A "four-corner offense" put the Indiana Hoosiers on the ropes and a "zone" delivered the knockout punch.

That is what it took for Notre Dame to beat the reeling defending national basketball champions 78-65 Tuesday night.

The defeat was the third straight for the No. 16 Hoosiers, their longest losing streak in five years.

Toby Knight, who came off the bench and scored a career-high 23 points, paced the Irish, 6-0. Dave Batton scored 18 points.

All-American Kent Benson led Indiana with 18 points. Benson

did not score during nearly 13 minutes at the start of the game.

Indiana committed 22 turnovers in the first half.

"Notre Dame is a very quick team," Indiana Coach Bobby Knight added. "Duck Williams has quick hands and quick feet."

In other college basketball games Tuesday night, Tom Cutler scored 14 points, leading Western Michigan to a 65-56 victory over Toledo; Alton Byrd fired in 17 points, handed out 10 assists and grabbed eight rebounds, sparking Columbia to a 90-82 decision over Manhattan; Clemson routed Buffalo 98-67 as Wayne "Tree" Rollins and Stan Rome combined for 42 points; Blair Martineau pumped in 28 points, pacing Utah State over Utah 92-90.

Also, Tom Schneebarger scored a career-high 23 points, helping Air Force beat Regis College 79-64; Edgar Jones' 21 points led Nevada-Reno past North Dakota State 101-94, and Greg Ballard tossed in 17 points and grabbed 12 rebounds, leading Oregon to a 61-51 victory over Cal State-Fullerton.

In a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia, Marty Stahurski's two free throws and a clutch steal started an 8-0 streak that propelled Temple over Navy 55-54 and Princeton defeated Villanova 77-74 as Bob Kleinert made 12 of 12 free throws.

At Madison Square Garden in New York, Duke beat Connecticut 64-59 in overtime in the opener of a doubleheader as Jim Spanarkel and Mike Grimsley scored 20 points apiece. In the second game, Fordham defeated Brown 84-80 in overtime behind Tom Kavanagh's 19 points.

TOUGH DEFENSE: Bill Paterno (55) of Notre Dame tries to drive past Jim Robertson (43) of Indiana in college basketball action in South Bend Tuesday night. The Irish posted their sixth win in a row by downing the Hoosiers 78-65. (AP Wirephoto)

Finley Goes To Court Thursday

CHICAGO (AP) — Charley Finley's federal court battle to get $3.5 million from baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who blocked his attempt to sell three of his Oakland A's stars for that amount, opens Thursday.

Finley, the A's owner, is suing Kuhn because the commissioner voided the deals, saying they were not in the best interests of baseball.

Last June, Finley tried to sell outfielder Joe Rudi and relief pitcher Rolfe Fingers to Boston for $1 million each and pitcher Vida Blue to the New York Yankees for $1.5 million.

All were unsigned at the time. Blue since has signed with the A's. But Rudi and Fingers became free agents after the 1976 season and signed last month with the California Angels and San Diego Padres, respectively. Instead of $2 million, Finley got nothing for them.

Even if he is awarded damages, Finley probably will be in the unusual position of having to pay some of that money to himself.

Baseball's owners voted at their summer meetings in Phoenix last August to accept the philosophy of protecting Kuhn financially against lawsuit losses. Finley and Gusie Busch of the St. Louis Cardinals were the only owners to vote against the proposal.

The owners then voted 21-3 to apply the principle of indemnification to Finley's suit against Kuhn. Jerrold Hoffberger of the Baltimore Orioles joined the dissenters. Expansion teams Toronto and Seattle did not have votes.

If Finley wins the case, he also would receive court costs and, perhaps, a punitive award.

One-Two Buck Scoring Punch Knocks Out Lancers

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

BUCHANAN — Buchanan's one-two punch may have delivered the knockdown punch to Lakeshore's Blossomland conference title hopes here Tuesday night.

Gerald Busby tossed in 22 points and Greg Frazier added 21 as the Bucks held off the Lancers 77-65. Though the loss was just the second in three league games for Lakeshore, Lancer coach Lloyd MacTavish believes his team can not afford to lose anymore.

"We are in a must-win situation Friday to stay in contention for the conference," MacTavish said. "We're going to have to execute and make the transition better from offense to defense."

MacTavish is hoping the Lancers, 1-4 overall, can avoid the knockout punch Friday at River Valley.

Buchanan also got double figures scoring from Kevin Vanderbush with 12 points and Mo Kyles with 11. The Bucks have now beaten Lakeshore six straight times.

Center Tom Jager topped the Lancer scoring attack with 16 points. Larry Toth chipped in with 14. Odell Brister had 12 and Mike Mason came off the bench for 10 points.

The win was the second straight for Buchanan after a pair of season-opening setbacks. And first-year Buck coach Jon Bohannon can see improvement in his team with every game.

"We're improved but man do we have a long way to go," Bohannon said. "Better shot selection is the main thing we're working on. Still we got super shooting. It's hard to find fault with a ballplayer when the shot goes in."

Buchanan, now 2-1 in Blossomland conference play, blistered the nets on 31 of 66 shots from the floor for 47 per cent. The Bucks were uncanny in the second half, finding the range on 16 of 26 attempts from the field (62 per cent).

Though yielding 55 points, Bohannon was also pleased with the Buck defense. Lakeshore needed 71 shots for its 25 baskets, a poor 35 per cent.

"It was our best defensive effort all year," he explained. "It was a very physical game and the kids maintained their composure very well. We played defense with more intensity and were more aggressive on the boards. We just looked sharper defensively."

The Buchanan lead was 37-26 at halftime and reach 44 points

Lakeshore made one serious run at Buchanan in the final quarter. Behind 59-46 at the start of the final period, Lakeshore came back to within 61-55 with 5:21 left.

But three straight Lakeshore turnovers, and a pair of fast-break Buck baskets iced the victory.

The Bucks turned the ball over 21 times, nine in the fourth quarter, while the Lancers had 23 turnovers, just six coming in the second half.

Lakeshore's junior varsity team ran its record to 4-1 with a 52-44 victory over Buchanan. Scott Andrews and Joe Shafer each scored 13 points and Dave Goodwin added 12. Ronnie Williams tossed in 13 and Alan Ward 12 for the Bucks.

back in the 1954-55 campaign. It also erased memories of three losses to the Raiders last season, including elimination in the Class C district tournament.

Curtis' runningmate at guard, Chuck Brock, was another Watervliet standout while leading his team with 18 points.

"He's what makes the team go," declared first-year Panther coach Gene Bednarowski. "You don't worry too much with Brock bringing the ball up the floor and feeding it to his teammates. And he played a fine defensive game, too, on (Kurt) Wiese."

The other three Watervliet starters were also in double figures, with center Jim Weaver netting 12 and forwards Jon Hinkelman and Tom Hutchinson adding 11 and 10, respectively.

Hutchinson also led his team in rebounding with 11 and drew special praise from his coach. "I thought Tom Hutchinson came alive tonight," declared Bednarowski. "That was his finest game."

Decatur's Wiese, the leading active scorer in southwestern Michigan, took game high honors in scoring and rebounding with 19 in each department.

Wiese tallied 11 of his points in the last quarter while hitting a perfect five-for-five from the field, keeping Decatur in the game.

Wiese's runningmate at guard, Dave Cerven, added 17 points, while center Jim Smola had 15 and forward Steve Groendyk 10. The other Raider starter, forward Dave Mroczek, contributed 11 rebounds.

The whole game was as tight as the final score, with never more than seven points separating the teams (the largest second half spread was just four points).

Decatur led 16-11 after the first quarter, but the game was deadlocked 28-28 at halftime. The Raiders were back on top 45-44 after three periods.

There were seven ties and 12 exchanges of the lead over the final two quarters.

A steal by Brock led to a basket by Hutchinson and a 67-63 Watervliet lead — the biggest margin of the second half — with 1:11 left to play.

Buckets by Wiese and Mroczek then knotted the score at 67-67 with 21 seconds remaining.

Watervliet worked for the last shot, but almost didn't get it away, as the ball was juggled as the clock clicked down. But Curtis gained control and launched the winning shot.

"That was just a desperation shot," declared Bednarowski. "I was afraid they were going to call traveling."

Watervliet posted slim shooting edges, hitting 31 of 73 field goals (42 per cent) and seven of 12 free throws (58 per cent). Decatur meshed 29 of 77 from the floor (38 per cent) and nine of 16 at the lines (56 per cent). Decatur had a 49-46 rebounding edge, and both teams made 15 turnovers.

Brock connected on eight of 14

and Hutchinson five of 10 for Watervliet, while Cerven hit seven of 14 and Wiese nine of 18 for Decatur.

Watervliet hit a deadly 11 of 18 while pulling out the victory in the last quarter.

"We got lazy," declared Decatur coach Tom Gibson. "I know we are better than that. We backed off the press and gave them too many shots they shouldn't have had."

"We are just not disciplined at all...and I guess that falls on my shoulders."

Gibson said Watervliet played "good enough to win by 10. If it wasn't for us being lucky, we wouldn't have even been in the ball game at the end. We got lucky and picked up a lot of loose crap underneath."

But Bednarowski still thought Decatur was plenty tough. "That's by far the best team we've faced," he declared. "Decatur is fast."

Decatur will now carry a 2-2 record into Friday's SAC game at Lawton. Watervliet, meanwhile, will return to the Red Arrow conference with a home against against Berrien Springs...a team Bednarowski calls a "sleeping giant."

Decatur did win Tuesday night's junior varsity preliminary 58-41. The little Raiders, now 2-2, got 15 points from sophomore Tim Cerven, the fifth brother to play for Decatur, and 14 tallies from freshman Steve Overlay, the fourth and last of the Overlay brothers. Jeff Parker scored 16 and Bryan Epple 12 for the 1-5 Watervliet jayvees.

Late Surge Helps Valley To Victory

DOWAGIAC — River Valley blitzed Dowagiac in the final quarter to pull away and earn an 81-53 Blossomland victory here Tuesday night.

The Mustangs outscored the Chiefs 27-11 in the final to up their league mark to 2-1 and overall record to 3-2.

"It was real close for three quarters...we were down only by six points with 1:12 left in the third period," noted Dowagiac Coach Larry Crandall. "We had the ball out-of-bounds but turned it over and Valley scored."

"Overall I was real proud of the kids' effort. We held in there. In the fourth quarter I think we got worn down physically and also started to make quite a few mental mistakes.

"This was a typical River Valley team...well-disciplined, played good defense and didn't make many turnovers."

JoJo White paced the Mustangs with 20 points while Gary Schaffer tallied 18 and Werner Maak 13.

Kim Mulder was again a bright spot for the Chiefs with 19 points and 19 rebounds. Larry McLaughlin and Brian Reist both added 12 points.

Dowagiac, 0-3 in the league and 1-4 overall, connected on 23 of 62 shots for 37 per cent while hitting seven of 14 free throws. Valley was a sizzling 35 of 70 for 50 per cent and 11 of 18 at the foul lines.

The Mustangs held a 39-37 board edge.

Dowagiac won the junior varsity game.

Irish Topple Reeling Hoosiers

Knight, Batton Power Undefeated Notre Dame

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

A "four-corner offense" put the Indiana Hoosiers on the ropes and a "zone" delivered the knockout punch.

That is what it took for Notre Dame to beat the reeling defending national basketball champions 78-65 Tuesday night.

The defeat was the third straight for the No. 16 Hoosiers, their longest losing streak in five years.

Toby Knight, who came off the bench and scored a career-high 23 points, paced the Irish, 6-0. Dave Batton scored 18 points.

All-American Kent Benson led Indiana with 18 points. Benson

did not score during nearly 13 minutes at the start of the game.

Indiana committed 22 turnovers in the first half.

"Notre Dame is a very quick team," Indiana Coach Bobby Knight added. "Duck Williams has quick hands and quick feet."

In other college basketball games Tuesday night, Tom Cutter scored 14 points, leading Western Michigan to a 65-56 victory over Toledo. Alton Byrd fired in 17 points, handed out 10 assists and grabbed eight rebounds, sparking Columbia to a 90-62 decision over Manhattan; Clemson routed Buffalo 98-67 as Wayne "Tree" Rollins and Stan Rome combined for 42 points; Blair Martineau pumped in 28 points, pacing Utah State over Utah 92-80.

Also, Tom Schneberger scored a career-high 28 points, helping Air Force beat Regis College 79-64; Edgar Jones' 21 points led Nevada-Reno past North Dakota State 101-94, and Greg Ballard tossed in 17 points and grabbed 12 rebounds, leading Oregon to a 61-51 victory over Cal State-Fullerton.

In a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia, Marty Stahurski's two free throws and a clutch steal started an 8-0 streak that propelled Temple over Navy 55-54 and Princeton defeated Villanova 77-74 as Bob Kleinert made 12 of 12 free throws.

Finley Goes To Court Thursday

CHICAGO (AP) — Charley Finley's federal court battle to get $3.5 million from baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who blocked his attempt to sell three of his Oakland A's stars for that amount, opens Thursday.

Finley, the A's owner, is suing Kuhn because the commissioner voided the deals, saying they were not in the best interests of baseball.

Last June, Finley tried to sell outfielder Joe Rudi and relief pitcher Rollie Fingers to Boston for $1 million each and pitcher Vida Blue to the New York Yankees for $1.5 million.

All were unsigned at the time. Blue since has signed with the A's. But Rudi and Fingers became free agents after the 1976 season and signed last month with the California Angels and San Diego Padres, respectively. Instead of $2 million, Finley got nothing for them.

Even if he is awarded damages, Finley probably will be in the unusual position of having to pay some of that money to himself.

Baseball's owners voted at their summer meetings in Phoenix last August to accept the philosophy of protecting Finley financially against lawsuit losses. Finley and Gussie Busch of the St. Louis Cardinals were the only owners to vote against the proposal.

The owners then voted 21-3 to apply the principle of indemnification to Finley's suit against Kuhn. Jerrold Hoffberger of the Baltimore Orioles joined the dissenters. Expansion teams Toronto and Seattle did not have votes.

If Finley wins the case, he also would receive court costs and, perhaps, a punitive award.

Some Big Guns Returning To Class C Powerhouses

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
Although graduation disbanded many of Michigan's Class C high school basketball teams of much of their shooting power, there are big guns left on some fine teams.

State champion Buchanan lost all-star Ken Garrett and has already lost two games this season, so there could easily be a new king on the Class C throne in March.

But some of the other highly-ranked teams from last winter look like powers again, including Unionville-Sebewaing (No. 2 in the final Associated Press Class C poll), Byron Center (No. 3), Negaunee (No. 4), Capac (No. 5), Bay City All Saints (No. 10), White Cloud (No. 11), Michigan Center (No. 12) and Norway (No. 16).

Other teams to watch include Detroit Lutheran West, which has dropped from Class B to C and has 6-3 all-star Rick Brauer back, and Pontiac Catholic, a state quarterfinalist last year, plus, Williamston, Saginaw SS, Peter & Paul and Shepherd.

Unionville-Sebewaing, which lost to Negaunee in the tournament semifinals last March, has three experienced players back, including 6-7 Paul Treiber.

Byron Center has only one starter back from last year's team which went 22-1, but 6-6 Mike Nyland is a good one...especially in the rebounding department. Nyland is getting support from products of a junior varsity team which also lost just once last season.

Negaunee, a loser to Buchanan in last year's state finals, has only John Vitro back from last season's 23-2 team. And challenging Negaunee to become the top Upper Peninsula Class C squad is Norway, which has three starters returning from an 18-5 squad.

Capac has Dave Lewis and Jim Tonne as returning starters from a 19-2 team and Bay City All Saints features 6-8 junior Jeff Szczepanski, who averaged 20.4 points per game as a sophomore. All Saints was the state champ in 1974 and 1975 and stood at 166-22 previous to this year in eight seasons under coach Lefty Franz.

Another team with an impressive record in recent years is White Cloud. It went 62-6 over the past three years and has four starters back from last season's 22-2 team, including Tom Lesko, Phil Williams, Brian Stroven and Bill Reigel, the son of the White Cloud coach.

Pontiac Catholic rates as a power again with three starters back, including guard Anthony Barnard, who averaged 21.0 points per game last season.

Williamston features Chuck Wesdek, who is now averaging about 21 per game, while Shepherd has five starters back, including Dave Caschen and Jim Salisbury, standouts on this fall's unbeaten football team. And Peter & Paul has three starters back — Cass Wilson, Mike Burns and Dave Bland — and a transfer student.

Others receiving mention in a statewide newspaper survey were Michigan Center, Traverse City St. Francis, Grand Rapids Forest Hills Northern, Beaverton and Center Lane St. Clement — all ranked last season — plus Bad Axe.

Frankenmuth, Harbor Beach, Westwood, Coleman, Addison, East Jackson, Hudson, Kalamazoo Hackitt, Kalamazoo, Portland, Fowlerville, Orchard Lake St. Mary, Detroit St. Andrew, Shelby and Muskegon Okridge.

There are no returning all-stars in Class C this year, other than Lutheran West's Brauer. Vince Voigt made it as a junior a year ago with Morley-Stanwood, but he has since moved to Class B Grandville.

RAIDER ROCKED: Decatur player Steve Groendyk receives attention from Raider coach Tom Gibson after being felled in second quarter collision Tuesday night at the Watervliet gym. Groendyk sat out a few minutes after the injury, but he returned to action to finish with 10 points and eight rebounds. But Decatur lost the non-league basketball game to Watervliet 60-67. ## Lepley's Injury Costly In Blue Devils' Loss

SCHOOLCRAFT — A shoulder injury to 8-3 forward John Lepley may have cost

Lawton a victory here Friday night.

Lepley injured himself in the fourth quarter after scoring 32 points and pulling down 15 rebounds. Lawton went on to drop a 77-70 overtime decision to Schoolcraft.

"Lepley's injury hurt a lot," Lawton coach Bill Shaw said. "We also had to pull our center (Mike) Webber out for a while with a back injury."

Pouring in 16 of 30 shots from the floor, Lepley helped Lawton to a 42-34 halftime lead. But Schoolcraft came back to tie the score at 68-68 in regulation. The game was no match in overtime with the hosts outscoring the Blue Devils 8-2.

"We had our opportunities but just didn't capitalize," Shaw said.

Sophomore Craig Hupp added 16 points and Webber had 11 for Lawton, now 0-4.

Doug Ryskamp paced Schoolcraft with 22 points, while Mark Vargo had 14.

Lawton hit on just 27 of 71 from the floor for 38 per cent. Schoolcraft meshed 28 of 73 for 38 per cent.

The Blue Devils held a 42-40 board edge with Webber adding 12 to Lepley's total.

Lawton turned the ball over 22 times in only 16 for Schoolcraft. Schoolcraft also won the junior varsity game 57-36.

Otsego Downs Redskins

OTSEGO — Breaking open a close game in the final quarter, Otsego got by Paw Paw 58-51 in a Wolverine basketball game here Tuesday night.

The loss kept the Redskins from taking over first place in the Wolverine race. Both Paw Paw and Otsego are 2-2 in both league play and overall.

Leading just 42-31 entering the final period, Otsego broke the game open by outscoring Paw Paw 16-1.

Jim Luoma paced the winners with 17 points and Joe Stout added 16. Each tallied four points in the decisive final quarter.

Howard Miller and Willy Gibson each tossed in 12 and George Crouse and Joli Ghastin added 10 apiece for Paw Paw.

The difference in the game was offensive rebounding. Otsego converted 50 per cent of its offensive boards into points, while the Redskins score on only 35 per cent.

Otsego hit on 25 of 59 from the floor for 42 per cent, while Paw Paw found the range on 22 per cent.

The Redskins held a commanding 35-22 rebounding edge with Crouse, Craig LaPine and Don Stull pulling down eight carcass apiece for Paw Paw.

Paw Paw turned the ball over just four times.

The Redskins did win the junior varsity game 70-66 with Gordy Meyers pouring in 28 points and Fred Snell adding 22.

Giants Give McVay Two-Year Contract

PLEASANTVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — John McVay reflected for a moment on how far he had come and where he had come from, then decided: "What makes this so different is that I know there's going to be another season."

For McVay, there are going to be at least another two seasons with the National Football League's New York Giants. That is a half-season more than the World Football League gave him — or gave itself for that matter.

The Giants said Tuesday they have signed the 45-year-old McVay to a two-year contract as head coach, eliminating the "interim" which preceded his title during the latter half of the 1975 season, when he helped turn the club around.

McVay's only previous head coaching experience in the pros started in 1974 when he guided the Memphis Southmen to the WFL's best record, 17-3.

Earlier this year, Bill Arnsparger, hired away from Miami's Super Bowl champions, was fired as Giants' head coach and went back to the Dolphins. And McVay was elevated to interim head coach.

"Things were really bad when the change was made," said Andy Robustelli, director of operations. "The team was in danger of coming apart. But John held it together."

The players began playing with enthusiasm, with ferocity, with a winning attitude, and attributed it to McVay. The fans, who had booed the players mercilessly, began cheering them again. And at the end of the season last Sunday, most of the players said they wanted McVay back in 1977.

Robustelli said the team waited until the season was over to talk with McVay about keeping him on because "we had never sat down and talked about the kinds of changes he wanted to make, about his coaching philosophy. You don't try to do things like that during the season."

Monday, McVay met with Robustelli and the Maras. Williamson and his son Tim, the club's vice-president and treasurer.

"We wanted John to know exactly what he was getting into," the elder Mara said. "It was possible he had thrust into a situation he didn't fully understand. We wanted to make sure he knew our organization, our ideas, our plans, and how he fit into them."

Obviously, McVay fit in very well. "The vote was unanimous to give John the job," Mara said.

Johnson Receives 150th Win In Bangor Victory

"The Win was a milestone for Bangor Coach Norm Johnson as the veteran mentor registered his 150th coaching victory. The game was likely the last played in the old Viking gym. Bangor hopes to play in its new gym the first part of January.

The game was a back-and-forth battle all the way. Bangor missed three one-and-one situations and a two-shot intentional foul chance in the last minute before Lowder finally cashed in. Bloomingdale had two chances at the potential tying basket but the shots were hurried and never came close to the hoop.

"Bloomingdale played a more aggressive half-court press than I expected," commented Johnson, starting his 11th year as Viking coach. "They fouled a lot but their aggressiveness kept us off balance. We could never find our offensive groove."

Ross contributed 18 points.

The Cardinals, 8-3 for the season, got 14 points from Dan Rowlison and 10 from Greg Riddle.

Bangor, which won its third straight in a 4-2 season's record, outscored the Cards 13-1 from the foul lines for the margin of victory. The Vikings meshed 15 of 28 and the Cards made 11 of 28 and the Cards made 11 of 28.

The Vikings made 21 of 36 field goals for 48 per cent. Bloomingdale 27 of 70 for 38 per cent. Bloomingdale held the rebounding advantage, 38-27.

Bangor won the jayvee game 51-48 in overtime and the freshmen contest 37-26.

Marcellus Posts Win

Constantine, now 2-3 this season, had Ray Neff with 18 points and Craig Alvey with 14.

Constantine won the junior varsity preliminary 58-52.

I WANT FOREMAN: World heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali tells World Boxing Council president Jose Sulaiman of Mexico City that he would like nothing better than giving former champ George Foreman a return match as the two met in Las Vegas Tuesday afternoon. ## WBC To Sanction Ali-Foreman Bout

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali says he wants to give former titleholder George Foreman a shot at the title, and official World Boxing Council sanctioning of the bout is expected to be announced in Mexico City Friday, says WBC President Jose Sulaiman.

Ali met Tuesday with Sulaiman, asking for WBC sanction, and the group's president said he sees no problems, especially since Foreman is the WBC's top-ranked contender.

"I want to give him (Foreman) back the opportunity just as I have done with many others," said Sulaiman, repeating Ali's words. "Then he started saying 'I want Foreman, and I want him any time.'"

Last Saturday, the WBC voted to send Ali an ultimatum — fight Foreman by next May 31, or the title would be declared vacant.

Ali has agreed to the defense. One of Ali's legal counsels, Spiros Anthony, said that before the Foreman bout, Ali would fight a tuneup, against a yet-to-be-named opponent.

"We're still looking for the best deal we can get," Anthony said.

But that opponent will not be South Africa's Mike Schutte, Sulaiman said.

"He (Ali) said that he would never fight a South African in South Africa because that would mean he would be treasoning his people," Sulaiman said, relating his conversation with the champion. "The only time he would do that would be when the apartheid, the racial discrimination, is over in that country — never before."

Reports earlier Tuesday had all but precluded the chances of contender Earnie Shavers getting a shot at Ali. Promoters talked of nothing but an Ali-Foreman match, but Anthony said Ali would definitely fight once before entering the ring against Foreman.

The opponent for such a bout could be Shavers, who won a nationally televised fight against Roy "Tiger" Williams last Saturday.

Shavers generally is regarded as the top choice because he is ranked sixth by the WBC and has not fought Ali.

The next move apparently will be up to Foreman.

Pay Cut For Orr?

TORONTO (AP) — Bobby Orr's lawyer says the lame Chicago Black Hawks star may have to take a pay cut if Hawks' attendance does not improve.

Alan Eagleson, his attorney, said that if Chicago's attendance does not improve from the 10,000 to 12,000 range, he will review Orr's salary with the Hawks.

"Bobby said from the start that if he couldn't play and help the team, he wanted to review the salary picture," Eagleson said. "If the attendance in Chicago doesn't improve, he doesn't want to be part of a big financial loss for the team, especially if he isn't playing regularly."

Orr, who signed a five-year, $8 million contract last summer after playing out his option with the Boston Bruins, has played in only 12 National Hockey League games this season because of recurring problems with his left knee.

WBC To Sanction Ali-Foreman Bout

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali says he wants to give former titleholder George Foreman a shot at the title, and official World Boxing Council sanctioning of the bout is expected to be announced in Mexico City Friday, says WBC President Jose Sulaiman.

Ali met Tuesday with Sulaiman, asking for WBC sanction, and the group's president said he sees no problems, especially since Foreman is the WBC's top-ranked contender.

"I want to give him (Foreman) back the opportunity just as I have done with many others," said Sulaiman, repeating Ali's words, "Then he started saying 'I want Foreman, and I want him any time.'"

Last Saturday, the WBC voted to send Ali an ultimatum — fight Foreman by next May 31, or the title would be declared vacant.

Ali has agreed to the defense. One of Ali's legal counsels, Spiros Anthony, said that before the Foreman bout, Ali would fight a tuneup, against a yet-to-be-named opponent.

"We're still looking for the best deal we can get," Anthony said.

But that opponent will not be South Africa's Mike Schutte, Sulaiman said.

"He (Ali) said that he would never fight a South African in South Africa because that would mean he would be treasoning his people," Sulaiman said, relating his conversation with the champion. "The only time he would do that would be when the apartheid, the racial discrimination, is over in that country — never before."

Reports earlier Tuesday had all but precluded the chances of contender Earnie Shavers getting a shot at Ali. Promoters talked of nothing but an Ali-Foreman match, but Anthony said Ali would definitely fight once before entering the ring against Foreman.

The opponent for such a bout could be Shavers, who won a nationally televised fight against Roy "Tiger" Williams last Saturday.

Shavers generally is regarded as the top choice because he is ranked sixth by the WBC and has not fought Ali.

The next move apparently will be up to Foreman.

Pay Cut For Orr?

TORONTO (AP) — Bobby Orr's lawyer says the lame Chicago Black Hawks star may have to take a pay cut if Hawks' attendance does not improve.

Alan Eagleson, his attorney, said that if Chicago's attendance does not improve from the 10,000 to 12,000 range, he will review Orr's salary with the Hawks.

"Bobby said from the start that if he couldn't play and help the team, he wanted to review the salary picture," Eagleson said. "If the attendance in Chicago doesn't improve, he doesn't want to be part of a big financial loss for the team, especially if he isn't playing regularly."

Orr, who signed a five-year, $3 million contract last summer after playing out his option with the Boston Bruins, has played in only 12 National Hockey League games this season because of recurring problems with his left knee.

Gratton's Strategy Works For Rangers

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — There had been two New York Rangers in the penalty box for 70 seconds while the New York Islanders put the pressure on Rangers goalie Gilles Gratton.

There were some very tired Rangers players on the ice when, finally, the Islanders' Clark Gillies lifted his own rebound over Gratton for his second goal of the game and a 3-1 lead at 8:06 of the second period.

Gratton, who had been hit in the left knee by Gillies' first shot, lay motionless on the ice while the Islanders celebrated. He remained there long after the cheering had stopped.

An injury? Sure. But it became apparent after a while that something else was going on. As each moment passed, all the Rangers — including Gratton — frantically regained their wind. After that, it was a different hockey game and the Rangers rallied for a 4-4 tie Tuesday night, as far as we're concerned, we lost a point tonight," said Islanders defenseman Denis Potvin, who set up Lorne Henning's shorthanded goal in the second period. It was Henning's fifth goal of the season and his third while the Islanders were shorthanded.

Gratton was executing perfectly. That "injury" move may have saved the tie.

In the other National Hockey League games Tuesday night, the Minnesota North Stars and the Philadelphia Flyers tied 3-3, the Los Angeles Kings beat the Washington Capitals 4-2, and the Buffalo Sabres downed the Vancouver Canucks 6-3.

Tim Young scored twice in the final two minutes, the last with just 19 seconds remaining into the North Stars' net empty, giving Minnesota its tie with Philadelphia.

Tom Williams scored twice and Rogie Vachon excelled in goal, leading Los Angeles past Washington.

Cutter Star For Broncos

KIAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — A 14-point effort by Tom Cutter led defending Mid-American Conference champion Western Michigan to a 65-56 victory over Toledo in the league opener Tuesday night.

The Rockets opened a 14-7 lead early in the game, and held a 36-34 advantage at the half. But Western outscored Toledo 13-2 in the first eight minutes of the second half and jumped to a 47-38 lead.

Cutter, a senior center, also had four assists, blocked four

Ted Williams of the Rockets took game scoring honors with 18 points.

Toledo, which defeated basketball powerhouses Missouri and Indiana early in the season, now owns a 4-2 record. Western Michigan has a 5-1 mark.

Trip To Minors Wakes Up Aero

From ASSOCIATED PRESS Don Larway may have needed a rude awakening to wake him up.

Larway, who was shipped to the Central League for a couple of games over the weekend, returned to the Houston Aeros Tuesday night and scored two goals in an 8-3 World Hockey Association triumph over the slumping Phoenix Roadrunners.

Elsewhere, the New England Whalers downed the Quebec Nordiques 3-1 and the San Diego Mariners whipped the Edmonton Oilers 6-1.

"It was a rude awakening," Larway said of his brief demotion. "There are a lot of differences down in the minor leagues, especially as far as finesse is concerned."

Gordie Howe and Cam Connor also scored two goals as the Aeros stretched their regular-season home unbeaten streak to 16 games, a WHA record, and extended Phoenix' losing streak to eight games.

Tom Webster snipped a 1-1 tie with his 15th goal of the season on a power play midway through the third period and Dale Snedens tallied an insurance goal, his first of the season, two minutes later. Dan Bolduc gave New England a 1-0 lead in the opening period and Quebec's Serge Bernier tied it in the second stanza.

Joe Norris and Don Burgess each had two goals and an assist. Goals by Norris, Norm Ferguson and Kevin Morrison gave the Mariners a 3-0 lead in the first period. Norris made it 4-0 early in the second period before Burgess netted his two goals.

Despair Turns To Joy

DOVER, Del. (AP) — William Smith says he knows how it feels to run the emotional gamut of despair to joy in just a few days.

Smith, a 26-year-old resident of Ocean City, Md., claims he is due $8,000 from Delaware's Touchdown II Football lottery, which was canceled last Saturday then reinstated this week by a ruling of the state attorney general.

Payments for claims of $100 or less were available at lottery agents starting today, but larger winnings must be filed through the state lottery office in Dover.

"It was like horrors, you know, then pleasant dreams," Smith said Tuesday night.

He said he was due $8,000 for a $5 bet on one card in which he picked correctly all 12 games listed in Touchdown and another $1,500 from three cards in which he picked 10 games and bet $1, $2 and $3. The balance, he said, would come primarily from bets on four cards in which he bet seven and eight games.

Smith said he would file his claims at the lottery office today or Thursday but it likely would be several days before the lottery office processed the tickets and could verify the winnings.

Lottery records showed only two Touchdown cards in which players were able to pick all 12 teams correctly, but they did not include better names since they only needed to identify themselves when filing for winnings.

One of those $1 game cards was on a maximum $10 bet and won $12,000. The other was a $5 bet with a $6,000 prize.

Last weekend, Lottery Director Peter Simmons said he decided to refund players' money rather than follow through with the game, and pay off bets because of what Simmons said was undue influence by gamblers who criticized the lottery's betting lines in newspaper articles.

Then Atty. Gen. Richard Wier Jr. ruled Monday night that the lottery office did not have sufficient proof of gambling influence to call off payment on bets. The lottery then agreed to pay some $67,000 to holders of 862 winning tickets on National Football League games last weekend.

Gratton's Strategy Works For Rangers

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — There had been two New York Rangers in the penalty box for 70 seconds while the New York Islanders put the pressure on Rangers goalie Gilles Gratton.

There were some very tired Rangers players on the ice when, finally, the Islanders' Clark Gillies lifted his own rebound over Gratton for his second goal of the game and a 3-1 lead at 8:06 of the second period.

Gratton, who had been hit in the left knee by Gillies' first shot, lay motionless on the ice while the Islanders celebrated. He remained there long after the cheering had stopped.

An injury? Sure. But it became apparent after a while that something else was going on: As each moment passed, all the Rangers — including Gratton — rested; regained their wind. After that, it was a different hockey game and the Rangers rallied for a 4-4 tie Tuesday night as far as we're concerned, we lost a point tonight," said Islanders defenseman Denis Potvin, who set up Lorne Henning's shorthanded goal in the second period. It was Henning's fifth goal of the season and his third while the Islanders were shorthanded.

Gratton was executing perfectly. That "injury" move may have saved the tie.

In the other National Hockey League games Tuesday night, the Minnesota North Stars and the Philadelphia Flyers tied 3-3, the Los Angeles Kings beat the Washington Capitals 4-2, and the Buffalo Sabres downed the Vancouver Canucks 6-3.

Tim Young scored twice in the final two minutes, the last with just 19 seconds remaining into the North Stars' net empty, giving Minnesota its tie with Philadelphia.

Tom Williams scored twice and Rogie Vachon excelled in goal, leading Los Angeles past Washington.

Cutter Star For Broncos

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — A 14-point effort by Tom Cutter led defending Mid-American Conference champion Western Michigan to a 65-56 victory over Toledo in the league opener Tuesday night.

The Rockets opened a 14-7 lead early in the game, and held a 36-34 advantage at the half. But Western outscored Toledo 13-2 in the first eight minutes of the second half and jumped to a 47-38 lead.

Cutter, a senior center, also had four assists, blocked four shots and stole the ball from Toledo four times. Western's Herman Randle added 12 points to the Broncos' attack.

Ted Williams of the Rockets took game scoring honors with 16 points.

Toledo, which defeated basketball powerhouses Missouri and Indiana early in the season, now owns a 4-2 record. Western Michigan has a 5-1 mark.

Trip To Minors Wakes Up Aero

From ASSOCIATED PRESS Don Larway may have needed a rude awakening to wake him up.

Larway, who was shipped to the Central League for a couple of games over the weekend, returned to the Houston Aeros Tuesday night and scored two goals in an 8-3 World Hockey Association triumph over the slumping Phoenix Roadrunners.

Elsewhere, the New England Whalers downed the Quebec Nordiques 3-1 and the San Diego Mariners whipped the Edmonton Oilers 6-1.

"It was a rude awakening," Larway said of his brief demotion. "There are a lot of differences down in the minor leagues, especially as far as finesse is concerned."

Gordie Howe and Cam Connor also scored two goals as the Aeros stretched their regular-season home unbeaten streak to 16 games, a WHA record, and extended Phoenix' losing streak to eight games.

Tom Webster snapped a 1-1 tie with his 15th goal of the season on a power play midway through the third period and Dale Smedsmo tallied an insurance goal, his first of the season, two minutes later. Dan Bolduc gave New England a 1-0 lead in the opening period and Quebec's Serge Bernier tied it in the second stanza.

Joe Norris and Don Burgess each had two goals and an assist. Goals by Norris, Norm Ferguson and Kevin Morrison gave the Mariners a 3-0 lead in the first period. Norris made it 4-0 early in the second period before Burgess netted his two goals.

Rapid-Fire Series Of Surprises Jolt To NBA

 AP Sports Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — This was supposed to be a year of stability for the National Basketball Association, but two months into the season things are more hectic than ever. The stunning deal involving Bob McDoo, the league's top scorer each of the past three seasons, is only the most recent of a series of wacky developments in a sport which was supposed to be maintaining a low profile for a while.

Last year was the big one for off-court developments. The merger was consummated, ending nine years of often-heated conflict between the NBA and the upstart American Basketball Association. What's more, a long-term agreement was reached with the players association, erasing the prospect of lengthy litigation. "I'm looking forward to getting out of my office and watching some basketball this winter," Commissioner Larry O'Brien said before the start of the season, echoing the sentiment of fans around the league.

All was peace and harmony as the 22 NBA teams headed for their preseason training camps in late August. It didn't last long. A rapid-fire series of surprises has set the sport on its ear. In just two months, consider the following developments: Julius Erving, the catalyst to the merger, the heart and soul of the New York Nets franchise and perhaps the most magnetic player in the game, refuses to report to the Nets in a contract dispute and is finally sold to Philadelphia for some $3 million. Philadelphia draws record crowds wherever it goes, but Nets fans react angrily and Coach Kevin Loughery observes that while $3 million is nice, it can't play forward. Moses Malone, who should be a junior in college, is traded by Portland to Buffalo, then one week later is shuffled off to Houston — his fifth pro team, at the tender age of 22. John Havlicek, the essence of

"Celtic Pride," stages a brief preseason holdout before signing. Paul Silas, the rugged rebounder and defensive bulwark, stages an extended holdout — and is dealt to Denver. Ted Auerbach reunites UCLA stars Sidney Wicks and Curtis Rowe in Boston, purchasing Wicks from Portland and obtaining Rowe from Detroit in the three-way deal involving Silas. Just as things are starting to look up in Beantown, Dave Cowens, Boston's fiery center, walks into the Celtics offices one day, says his passion for the game has been sapped and requests an indefinite leave of absence. He may be back in uniform later this season, he may be back next season, he may never be back. Pete Maravich, the peerless Pistol of the New Orleans Jazz, says Cowens did what he was thinking of doing two weeks earlier — packing it all in. Soon thereafter, however, Maravich says he's happy once again and no longer thinking about quitting. Movin' Marvin Barnes is sentenced by a Providence, R.I., judge to one year in jail for a probation violation, but is given time to work out an alternative to incarceration. In addition, he still faces charges in Detroit stemming from a gun incident. An NBA single-game attendance record was set in New Orleans Oct. 26, when 27,383 turned out to see Erving and the Philadelphia 76ers play the Jazz in the Superdome. At the other end of the spectrum, only 73 fans braved blizzard conditions to buy tickets at the gate for a game in Buffalo which drew a total crowd of 904. Larry Costello, the only coach the Milwaukee Bucks have ever had, is forced to resign one month into the season and replaced by Don Nelson, whose total coaching experience consisted of 18 games as Costello's assistant. Wayne Embry also resigns but agrees to stay on until the end of the season as a lame duck general manager. The Atlanta franchise, regularly drawing crowds of less than 3,000 to the Omni, is reportedly up for sale and may be shifted. And finally there is McDoo, the NBA scoring champion the past three years and the essence of the Buffalo club, dealt to the New York Knicks for $3 million and reserve John Givelli following protracted negotiations that had become embarrassing to the league as well as the players and teams. It's a stunning sequence of events, one which most likely is not yet complete. After all, if clubs can deal away players of the caliber of Erving and McDoo, anything is possible.

Borg's Fiancee Now Unsure Of Asylum

NEW YORK (AP) — Mariana Simionescu is an athlete without a forum. The 20-year-old rising tennis star confirmed last month that she was seeking refuge in the United States from her native Romania. Now she is not so sure. Like Czechoslovakian defector

Martina Navratilova, she had everything going for her. She was ranked the No. 2 women's tennis player in her country. She is young, attractive, ambitious, the envy of many as the fiancée of Swedish tennis idol Bjorn Borg. She is charming when she speaks English, with traces of her native tongue still apparent. Miss Navratilova appeared to have squandered her first year in the States living it up off court, diverted by the baubles and bright lights of the Western World. But Miss Simionescu says she has been deterred by her indecision as to whether to sever ties with Romania. "I'm not here. I'm not there. I'm flying. I just don't know what to do," she said Tuesday. "Bjorn and I probably will live in the United States," she said, "but I'm not sure I want political asylum. I'm going to have some very good offers which will allow me to do what I want to do in Romania. "But again, I'm not 100 per cent sure." One of the offers is to play in the Federation Cup for her country, and nationalism is something instilled by all Eastern European nations. Her mother also still is in Bucharest, although her father now is in Hilton Head, S.C., where she and Borg spend part of their time together. Whether her allegiances remain with Romania or switch to the United States, her ambition is to be among the top 20 women tennis players in the world. "I only have 27 places to go," she said of her current ranking of No. 47. Miss Simionescu spoke at a luncheon sponsored by Virginia Slims, which for 1977 has built a $1.25 million series of tournaments. The circuit grew out of a $5,000 event in Houston staged for players six years ago who were unhappy with their lot as step-children of the men's tour.

NO STAGE: Mariana Simionescu, 20-year-old fiancee of tennis great Bjorn Borg, listens to questions during an interview Tuesday in New York. She is like an actor without a stage since confirming recently she would seek refuge in the U.S.

Lions' Laslavic Now Recovering

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Lions middle linebacker Jim Laslavic is recovering from surgery for both ligament and cartilage damage in his knee. Laslavic, 25, who has been the Lions' regular at middle linebacker for three years, was injured in the second half of Saturday's 20-17 loss to Los Angeles. He had surgery Sunday. Laslavic is the Lions' seventh player this season to have surgery. Six of the players have had knee injuries.

Rapid-Fire Series Of Surprises Jolt To NBA

By ALEX SACHARE
 AP Sports Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — This was supposed to be a year of stability for the National Basketball Association, but two months into the season things are more hectic than ever.

The stunning deal involving Bob McAdoo, the league's top scorer each of the past three seasons, is only the most recent of a series of wacky developments in a sport which was supposed to be maintaining a low profile for a while.

Last year was the big one for off-court developments. The merger was consummated, ending nine years of often-heated conflict between the NBA and the upstart American Basketball Association. What's more, a progressive, long-term agreement was reached with the players association, erasing the prospect of lengthy litigation.

"I'm looking forward to getting out of my office and watching some basketball this winter," Commissioner Larry O'Brien said before the start of the season, echoing the sentiment of fans around the league.

All was peace and harmony as the 22 NBA teams headed for their preseason training camps in late August. It didn't last long.

A rapid-fire series of surprises has set the sport on its ear. In just two months, consider the following developments:

Julius Erving, the catalyst to the merger, the heart and soul of the New York Nets franchise and perhaps the most magnetic player in the game, refuses to report to the Nets in a contract dispute and is finally sold to Philadelphia for some $3 million. Philadelphia draws record crowds wherever it goes, but Nets fans react angrily and Coach Kevin Loughery observes that while $3 million is nice, it can't play forward.

Moses Malone, who should be a junior in college, is traded by Portland to Buffalo, then one week later is shuffled off to Houston — his fifth pro team, at the tender age of 22.

John Havlicek, the essence of

"Celtic Pride," stages a brief preseason holdout before signing. Paul Silas, the rugged rebounder and defensive bulwark, stages an extended holdout — and is dealt to Denver.

Red Auerbach reunites UCLA stars Sidney Wicks and Curtis Rowe in Boston, purchasing Wicks from Portland and obtaining Rowe from Detroit in the three-way deal involving Silas.

Just as things are starting to

Pete Maravich, the peerless Pistol of the New Orleans Jazz, says Cowens did what he was thinking of doing two weeks earlier — packing it all in. Soon thereafter, however, Maravich says he's happy once again and no longer thinking about quitting.

Movin' Marvin Barnes is sentenced by a Providence, R.I., judge to one year in jail for a probation violation, but is given time to work out an alternative to incarceration. In addition, he still faces charges in Detroit stemming from a gun incident.

An NBA single-game attendance record was set in New Orleans Oct. 26, when 27,383 turned out to see Erving and the Philadelphia 76ers play the Jazz in the Superdome. At the other end of the spectrum, only 73 fans braved blizzard conditions to buy tickets at the gate for a game in Buffalo which drew a total crowd of 994.

Larry Costello, the only coach the Milwaukee Bucks have ever had, is forced to resign one month into the season and replaced by Don Nelson, whose total coaching experience consisted of 18 games as Costello's assistant. Wayne Embry also resigns but agrees to stay on until the end of the season as a lame duck general manager.

The Atlanta franchise, regularly drawing crowds of less than 3,000 to the Omni, is reportedly up for sale and may be shifted.

And finally there is McAdoo, the NBA scoring champion the past three years and the essence of the Buffalo club, dealt to the New York Knicks for $3 million and reserve John Gianelli following protracted negotiations that had become embarrassing to the league as well as the players and teams.

It's a stunning sequence of events, one which most likely is not yet complete. After all, if clubs can deal away players of the caliber of Erving and McAdoo, anything is possible.

Borg's Fiancee Now Unsure Of Asylum

NEW YORK (AP) — Mariana Simionescu is an athlete without a forum.

The 20-year-old rising tennis star confirmed last month that she was seeking refuge in the United States from her native Romania.

Now she is not so sure.

Lake Czechoslovakian defector

Martina Navratilova, she had everything going for her. She was ranked the No. 2 women's tennis player in her country. She is young, attractive, ambitious, the envy of many as the fiancée of Swedish tennis idol Bjorn Borg. She is charming when she speaks English, with traces of her native tongue still apparent.

Miss Navratilova appeared to have squandered her first year in the States living it up off court, diverted by the baubles and bright lights of the Western World. But Miss Simionescu says she has been detoured by her indecision as to whether to sever ties with Romania.

"I'm not here. I'm not there. I'm flying. I just don't know what to do," she said Tuesday.

"Bjorn and I probably will live in the United States," she said, "but I'm not sure I want political asylum. I'm going to have some very good offers which will allow me to do what I want to do in Romania.

"But again, I'm not 100 per cent sure."

One of the offers is to play in the Federation Cup for her country, and nationalism is something instilled by all Eastern European nations. Her mother also still is in Bucharest, although her father now is in Hilton Head, S.C., where she and Borg spend part of their time together.

Whether her allegiances remain with Romania or switch to the United States, her ambition is to be among the top 20 women tennis players in the world.

"I only have 27 places to go," she said of her current ranking of No. 47.

Miss Simionescu spoke at a luncheon sponsored by Virginia Slims, which for 1977 has built a $1.25 million series of tournaments. The circuit grew out of a $5,000 event in Houston staged for players six years ago who were unhappy with their lot as step-children of the men's tour.

NO STAGE: Mariana Simionescu, 20-year-old fiancée of tennis great Bjorn Borg, listens to questions during an interview Tuesday in New York. She is like an actor without a stage since confirming recently she would seek refuge in the U.S.

Brinkman Manages Tigers' Farm Club

DETROIT (AP) — Ed Brinkman, a former shortstop for Detroit, will manage the Tigers' Class AA farm club in Montgomery, Ala., the American League team said Tuesday.

Brinkman, 34, played for the Tigers from 1971 through 1974. He will replace Les Moss, who led the Montgomery Rebels of the Southern League to two consecutive pennants. Moss has been named manager of Detroit's Class AAA minor league team in Evansville, Ind.

Former Evansville Manager Fred Hatfield will coach third base for the Tigers next season. Brinkman won a Gold Glove award in 1972. In that season, he played 72 consecutive errorless games and finished with a .990 fielding percentage — best ever for a Tiger shortstop.

The Tigers obtained Brinkman, as well as Aurelio Roderiguez and Joe Coleman, in a 1970 trade that sent pitcher Denny McLain to the Washington Senators. Brinkman spent eight seasons with Washington.

Brinkman finished his playing career in 1975 with the New York Yankees. He has a .224 lifetime batting average in 1,845 major league games.

Lancers Romp

Mike Mervenne tossed in 20 points and Mark Anstey added 16 Monday night as Lakeshore's freshmen basketball team ripped Buchanan 71-46 at the Lancer Gym. Lakeshore is now 4-0.

Jazz Cut Rookie

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The New Orleans Jazz has cut its roster to 11 players by waiving rookie guard Andy Walker, who averaged 3.3 points per game in 10 contests this year.

Wants More News

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — CBS anchorman Walter Cronkite says network news programs should be expanded even though it would be impossible to get the public "to sit still long enough to get the news it needs."

VIET CONGRESS OPENS
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Vietnam's Communist party opened its first full congress since 1960 today, and Secretary-General Le Duan called for a triple revolution in science, production and cultural and ideological affairs.

NEW YORK (AP) — Soaring coffee prices have prompted officials of at least two supermarket chains to suggest that their customers switch to other beverages to try to bring costs down.

The action is being taken by the nine Justrite stores in Kansas City, Mo., and the Price Chopper chain in Albany, N.Y.

Spokesmen at stores in other areas of the country said they did not plan to encourage any formal boycott, but expected that consumers would revolt without any urging.

Recent increases have boosted prices to about $3 a pound at the wholesale level. Retail prices still are under $5 a pound in most areas — partly because merchants are selling cheaper, existing supplies and partly because they are using coffee as a "loss leader" to get customers into their stores.

Market Keeps On Climbing

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices moved higher again today as Tuesday's closing rally spilled over into early trading.

After the opening trades, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up two points.

Advancing issues took an early lead over declines on the New York Stock Exchange.

Indications that oil-rich Saudi Arabia will seek a six-month freeze on oil prices at this week's meeting of oil exporting countries and statements from President-elect Carter that the U.S. is actively trying to moderate any increase have fed Wall Street's hopes for a favorable OPEC decision on oil prices.

Lower interest rates which are a potential boost for the economy are also a factor helping the market, investors said.

Early prices of stocks included Pacific Gas & Electric, up 1/4 to 23 3/4; Occidental Petroleum $3.60 preferred, up 1/8 to 72 1/2; and Pan American World Airways, ahead 1/8 to 55 1/2.

On Tuesday, the Dow Jones average rose 6.39 to 950.63.

The NYSE composite index showed a gain of 24 at 56.39 and advancing issues held a narrow lead over declines among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Turnover reached 25.13 million shares.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was ahead .37 at 103.73.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Three Ways To Buy Municipal Bonds

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. I'm a bit confused about all the recent municipal bond excitement. Can't I do just as well buying these bonds myself — just as I have for years?

A. You are undoubtedly referring to the sudden spate of advertising which followed the passage of the recent tax law making possible the managed municipal bond mutual fund.

Individual municipal bonds have been bought and sold and held by investors in high tax brackets for a long, long time. Then, in recent years, the municipal bond unit trust became popular. This is a fixed package of municipal bonds put together, most often, by a large banking house or brokerage firm, and then sold in small "bites" to individual investors.

In most cases, a buying commission is charged, but no management fee thereafter, because there is no management, per se. What you do get is safekeeping, coupon clipping, a monthly interest check, supervision of redemptions, maturities, etc. In other words, you put in $10,000 and receive a monthly tax-free interest check and your portion of the proceeds as individual bonds in the unit are paid off.

The new municipal bond mutual fund includes a large management fee because the portfolio is going to be managed. This effort is aimed at buying and selling bonds to protect the best interests of the shareholders and, to a large degree, to keep the fund reflective of current money market trends. There is a continuing management fee although there is often no buying commission.

I'm not "selling" any of these three systems for naming municipal bonds... anymore than I would argue that you should or should not hire professionals to tend your garden. All I can suggest is that if you are in a high income tax bracket and want tax-free income spend a little time studying the various methods of owning municipals. And then make your own decision. And in the process — be sure to hold on to your common sense.

I haven't heard of any yet, but some wise guy comes along promising you a 10, 12, 15 per cent return from his municipal fund, send him packing. The laws of risk vs. return have not been repealed!

Q. We're worried about the big price drop in Briggs. It was above $9 once.

A. You're overlooking a 2-for-1 split earlier this year.

Q. I've borrowed on life insurance, paying 5 per cent interest. Should I cash in the policy and buy new coverage at age 56? How should I invest $25,000 proceeds from the sale of a house?

A. If the money you borrowed is earning more than 5 per cent and is in a reasonably safe investment, you are money ahead. Cancelling out old insurance and buying new policies at age 56 can prove expensive. Go slowly on this one.

And finally, what is this $25,000 supposed to do?

DETROIT (AP) — As the auto industry reported its strongest sales pace for an early December in seven years, General Motors Corp. on Tuesday predicted record U.S. car and truck sales in 1977.

In contrast to trimmed forecasts issued recently by other automakers, GM Chairman Thomas A. Murphy said he was raising his estimate 250,000 units to nearly 4.8 million domestic and imported sales next year.

The current record of 4.6 million vehicles came in 1973 and was followed by a severe two-year recession.

Murphy also announced a record $3 billion in capital expenditures planned for 1977, up 25 per cent from an estimated $2.4 billion spent for facilities and tools this year.

"We have made this commitment to growth because we are convinced the prospects for the economy and the automobile industry in the year ahead are very favorable," he said. "Our confidence has not been diminished at all, nor has the consumer's confidence, which is all important."

Meanwhile, the four U.S. automakers reported car sales during the Dec. 1-10 period totaled 211,528, up 1 per cent from a year ago. The daily rate of 21,503 units was the highest for the period since 1968.

"It's not a spectacular performance, but it's good for this time of year and shows considerable improvement over the daily tempo we'd expect," said one industry analyst.

Ironically, GM, which has been leading the industry's recovery, reported a 1 per cent decline in early December sales from a year ago, its first period decline since August 1975. GM blamed the drop on a Chevrolet dealer contest a year ago which produced strong sales, adding that sales in the full month would be "considerably better" than last year.

Ford Motor Co. reported a 5 per cent sales gain for the period, its first increase since mid-September, when it was struck for 28 days by the United Auto Workers.

Chrysler Corp., which reported a 9 per cent increase, said Tuesday it was revising its assembly schedules for January to increase light duty truck and sport utility model production. It also said it would close two plants the week of Jan. 3 to balance inventories of its Volare and Aspen models.

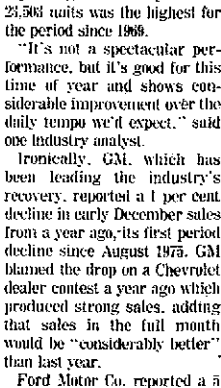

American Motors Corp. posted a 23 per cent sales decline for the early December period. Small-car specialist AMC, which has been in a deep slump all year, said Gremlin and Pacer sales in the past month have gone up 19 per cent over the previous month because of a $253 price cut and rebates.

For the year-to-date, industry sales are up 22 per cent from 1975. Chrysler is up 31 per cent, GM 27 per cent and Ford 13 per cent, while AMC was off 24 per cent.

Murphy said domestic and foreign vehicle sales in the United States this year would total 13.3 million, up 20 per cent from 1975. He predicted car sales next year would be 11.25 million and trucks 3.5 million, compared with estimated 1976 sales of 10.1 million cars and a record 3.2 million trucks. He said import car sales this year would total about 1.5 million and would be about the same in 1977.

Ford this week cut its 1977 sales forecast by 300,000 units to 14.3 million, citing low interest in small cars and shortages of big ones. Chrysler previously lowered its car sales estimate by 200,000 units.

Bank Names Manager For Branch

EUGENE IRELAND
New Eastgate manager

NILES — Eugene R. Ireland of Berrien Springs, a vice president of the First National Bank of Southwestern Michigan, Niles, has been named manager of the bank's branch at the Eastgate shopping center here. The firm has announced.

He succeeds Richard D. Nintz, who managed the branch since 1969. Nintz has accepted an assignment in the branch operations department, the firm said.

Ireland served as manager of the bank's Berrien Springs branch from 1961 to 1975.

The banking firm also announced that two of its trust department officers have received professional designations from finance industry organizations.

James H. Larko has been named a chartered financial analyst following three years of study and comprehensive examinations. The designation, awarded by the Institute of Chartered Financial Analysts, is for people professionally engaged in investment management and investment securities research analysis. Larko is an investment officer for the bank.

Terry P. Garner, a trust operations officer, has been notified by the Indiana State Board of Public Accountancy that he has satisfactorily completed requirements for the CPA designation. The requirements include passing an examination and three years' experience in public accountancy.

Bill Could Reduce Electricity Costs

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill to give a financial boost to Michigan utilities and generate cheaper electricity for customers of city-owned power companies has won House approval.

Sponsored by state Sen. James DeSana, D-Wyandotte, the bill passed the House 51-11 Tuesday. The Senate is expected later this week to agree with House amendments to the original bill.

The measure would allow Michigan's 42 municipal utilities to join together to build generating plants, or to buy into plants owned by privately owned utilities, including nuclear power plants.

Don Potter, a lobbyist for the Michigan Electric Association, said there is "no question" that the new arrangements would keep electric prices down. The arrangements between companies are currently prohibited.

Supporters said municipal utilities would benefit from the bill by joining together and using a single large plant rather than several, more expensive smaller ones. Privately owned companies like Detroit Edison and Consumers Power would prosper if city utilities bought chunks of their partially completed plants, providing the funds to finish the facilities.

Two nuclear plants have run into construction hitches because of financial problems. Consumers is looking for buyers into its Midland plant and Edison already has sold 20 per cent of the capacity of its Enrico Fermi 3 plant at Monroe to electrical cooperatives.

Opponents of the bill tried vainly to write in an amendment to bar city utilities from buying into nuclear plants, warning the public health risks of nuclear power are too great. That amendment failed 60-24.

City utilities must likely to benefit from approval of the bill include Holland, which is planning to buy a portion of Consumers Power's Campbell 3 plant near South Haven. Holland's own generating plant is having problems meeting its demand, said Potter.

The Lansing Board of Water and Light also is eyeing a chunk of Consumer's still-incomplete Midland nuclear plant.

Under that type of arrangement the municipal utility would, for example, pay 20 per cent of the construction and maintenance costs of the plant, and get 20 per cent of the power produced by it. It would pay no taxes on its portion of the plant and would likely be able to sell the power it bought at a lower cost than the power it generates itself.

Other municipal utilities plan to join together to build a single generating plant, Potter said, including Marshall, Coldwater, Sturgis, Hillsdale and Union City.

BH Plant Picketing Continues

Striking members of the International Association of Machinists Local 2140 continued picketing today at the two plants in Benton Harbor of Michigan Standard Alloys, Inc.

According to Edwin Mendel, vice president of the company, the local's 230 Michigan Standard Alloys workers went on strike Monday at midnight after turning down a new contract.

Mendel said the company and the union's negotiating committee had reached agreement on a new contract. As far as the company is concerned "there aren't any issues" involved in the strike because a tentative agreement had already been reached, Mendel said.

Union officials couldn't be reached for comment this morning. However, an unidentified man who called this newspaper and said he was a member of the local said issues in the strike are wages, cost of living and other benefits.

Plants on Arthur Mendel road and Milton street remain open and "running," with all supervisors still at work, said Mendel. "We're letting anyone (union members) come in and work," he said. He said he doesn't know if any union members crossed the picket line to work in the factories.

Second Man Accused Of Break-In

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — A second man charged with breaking and entering a Sister Lakes restaurant early Monday was arraigned Tuesday in Seventh District court here.

Virgil E. Holloman, 17, route 2, Box 339, Watervliet, was jailed in lieu of $7,500 bond after demanding examination on the charge. A Dec. 21 hearing was ordered.

On Monday, Johnny Lee Brown, 18, route 2, 90th avenue, Hartford, demanded examination on the same charge and was jailed after failing to post $3,500 bond. His hearing was also set for Dec. 21.

Van Buren sheriff's deputies said a 16-year-old boy will also be petitioned into juvenile court on a charge of breaking and entering in connection with the case.

Deputies said cash estimated at $25 was believed to have been taken from the P and J restaurant, M-152.

Deputies said Holloman, Brown, and the juvenile will also be questioned in connection with Monday break-ins reported at the Sister Lakes elementary school and fire hall. About $1,300 was reported taken from a desk at the school, and an undetermined amount of change from a beer machine at the fire hall, deputies said.

In another case, Ricky Hysell, 21, Sodus, demanded examination on two counts of uttering and publishing no account checks. The allegedly no account checks were for $71 on June 20, 1975 in Hartford, and $80 on July 1, 1975 in Paw Paw. He was ordered held after failing to post bond totaling $5,000. Hearings on the charges were scheduled for Dec. 20.

Benton Teen Asks Hearing

Eric Lewis, 18, of 2040 Red Arrow highway, Benton township, demanded examination Tuesday in Berrien Fifth District court on a charge of larceny from a motor vehicle Dec. 6.

Lewis is accused of stealing a wheel off a car owned by Mike Silva at 2059 Red Arrow highway in Benton township. Lewis was released on $1,500 bond.

Scott M. Raschke, 18, of 2818 Sandra terrace, St. Joseph township, pleaded guilty to charges of driving under the influence of intoxicants and attempting to flee and elude police and was placed on pre-sentence investigation. St. Joseph city police said Raschke was arrested early Tuesday after a three-mile high-speed chase. He was released on personal recognizance bonds totaling $2,000.

Eugene Tucker, 46, of 1125 Broadway, Benton Harbor, was sentenced to five days in jail and fines and costs of $210 or 45 days in jail total for driving with a suspended license, second offense, Dec. 13 in Benton township.

Gary Lee Myers, 29, of 2125 Lewis drive, Niles, was sentenced to three days in jail for contempt of court on a probation violation — failure to pay fines and costs on a sentence of driving while license suspended in 1978. He was also given a three-day sentence on the original charge, which will run concurrently with the contempt sentence.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Two Pick Wrong Car For Help

Benton township police said two young men who flagged down a patrol car early today saying they had car trouble got a ride to the township police department where they were booked on a total of four charges.

Police said the incident began about 3:30 a.m. when a gas station attendant reported two men who stopped for gas allegedly stole a quart of motor oil from a stand by the gas pumps.

Patrolman James Windsor said George Gonzales, attendant at Sutton's Enco, 2680 M-139, provided a description of the pair, their car and wrote down the car's license plate number.

Windsor reported he was later flagged down a few blocks away by two men who were similar to the description of the pair at the station. They reported car trouble, Windsor said.

A computer check showed one of the men was wanted by township police on two felony warrants.

Booked on warrants charging breaking and entering and larceny from a person, both stemming from last February, and on a charge of larceny (motor oil) was Lonnie Lee Wigfall, 19, who police said gave only an address of Catherman street, Benton township.

Booked on a charge of larceny (motor oil) and drunk and disorderly was Randy K. Bowman, 18, of 1256 Blossom lane, Benton township.

Police said a quart can of motor oil was seized from the car.

Benton Harbor police said burglaries were reported at two Cross street homes Tuesday.

A console television, value $400, was reported stolen from the Mary Foster home at 172 Cross. At 150 Cross, the Marion Sandin residence, a camera and portable television, all valued at $250, were reported stolen.

Another theft reported to Benton Harbor police Tuesday was a CB radio, two suits, two pair of pants and three shirts, all valued at $565, from the car of A.E. Gordon, 31 Third street, Berrien Springs, parked in a lot near the intersection of Broadway and Pipestone street.

Benton township police said two watches and a pellet gun, all valued at about $200, were reported stolen from the home of Don James, 1136 North Euclid avenue.

Tiant's Folks Die Within 3 Days Of Each Other

MILTON, Mass. (AP) — On a warm August night in 1975, thousands of baseball fans stood and cheered as Luis E. and Isabel Tiant, parents of Boston Red Sox pitcher Luis Tiant, stood and took a bow.

Tiant's father and mother,

companions for 36 years, died within three days of each other. Both were 72. The elder Tiant died Friday following a brief illness. His wife died Monday of a heart attack.

The couple received permission from Cuban Premier Fidel Castro to come to Boston in August, 1975 and see their son. They arrived in time to watch the Red Sox ace win the opening game of the World Series against Cincinnati.

The elder Tiant, a former pitcher in the Mexican League, threw out the first ball.

And on that night, nearly 1 1/2 years ago, the Cuban couple "did more for international peace and goodwill than all the diplomats put together," said the Rt. Rev. John Day in his eulogy. The eulogy, and part of the funeral Mass at St. Elizabeth's Church, were delivered both in Spanish and English.

Luis Tiant and his wife stood in the front row of the wood-beamed church as the two caskets, draped in white embroidered silk, were carried up the aisle. The light colored pills and vestments of the priests were symbols of the joy of the resurrection.

Among those attending the funeral were Red Sox Vice President and General Manager Dick O'Connell, state Treasurer Robert Crane and Tiant's agent, attorney Bob Woolf.

NL Stars Carrying Streaks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs' Bill Madlock, who repeated as batting champion this year, is among several National League players who will be carrying winning streaks into the 1977 baseball season.

Philadelphia's Mike Schmidt has won three straight home run titles. Cincinnati's Pete Rose has led the league in runs scored and doubles for the past three years, and the Los Angeles Dodgers' Davey Lopes has won the stolen base title two years in a row.

In official 1976 statistics released by the league office Saturday, it also was noted that second baseman Dave Cash has led in at-bats three straight seasons, totaling 666 with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1976. Cash became a free agent after the season and signed with the Montreal Expos.

Madlock's .339 batting average made him the league's first repeat winner since Rose won in 1968 and 1969. Schmidt slammed 38 homers, edging the New York Mets' Dave Kingman, who hit 37 despite missing 39 games. Schmidt also led in total bases with 361.

Rose totaled 130 runs and 42 doubles. He also led the league in hits, with 215, going over the 200 mark for the eighth time. Ty Cobb reached 200 hits for nine seasons, a major league record. Lopes stole 63 bases in 1976 when he played in only 117 games. The previous year, he stole 77.

Instant Replay Campaign Starts

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — J.R. Derbes is looking for a million people who do not like the officiating in the National Football League.

He wants them to sign a petition calling for sideline instant replays to help officials on close calls. His plan also features an on-the-spot vote by competing coaches on whether a borderline call should be allowed to stand.

NFL officials McNally and Kensil said they told Derbes that his plan really contained nothing new but that they would consider it along with various other instant replay suggestions that are under study.

That is when Derbes decided to go to the fans. He said he was contacting women's groups in New Orleans, asking them to distribute his petitions nationwide within their various structures.

They both laughed at him, so he is taking his scheme to the public, he said. He said he is enlisting the aid of fans across the country, hoping to get his million signatures in time for the NFL meetings in March.

"On each side of the field, there'd be a TV monitor in front of the coach's bench," Derbes explained. "Each coach could view the instant replay and be allowed so many challenges per quarter."

"The idea is to give the coaches a chance to agree or disagree. Should they disagree, the referee would consult the instant replay. He'd still have the final say-so."

Derbes, 50, is involuntarily retired, the victim of heart trouble and emphysema. His campaign to revamp NFL officiating began Dec. 5 in Foxboro, Mass., after an official's decision gave New England one of four touchdowns it scored against the New Orleans Saints.

Pete Grogan fumbled at about the five-yard line, and the ball bounced into the end zone ahead of him. The Saints recovered, but the officials signalled touchdown, making the score 20-6. The Patriots went on to win 27-6.

Tiant's Folks Die Within 3 Days Of Each Other

MILTON, Mass. (AP) — On a warm August night in 1975, thousands of baseball fans stood and cheered as Luis E. and Isabel Tiant, parents of Boston Red Sox pitcher Luis Tiant, stood and took a bow.

Tuesday, some 200 friends watched as two bronze-colored coffins were placed side by side at Milton Cemetery.

Tiant's father and mother, companions for 36 years, died within three days of each other. Both were 72. The elder Tiant died Friday following a brief illness. His wife died Monday of a heart attack.

The couple received permission from Cuban Premier Fidel Castro to come to Boston in August, 1975 and see their son. They arrived in time to watch the Red Sox ace win the opening game of the World Series against Cincinnati.

The elder Tiant, a former pitcher in the Mexican League, threw out the first ball.

And on that night, nearly 1½ years ago, the Cuban couple "did more for international peace and goodwill than all the diplomats put together," said the Rt. Rev. John Day in his eulogy. The eulogy, and part of the funeral Mass at St. Elizabeth's Church, were delivered both in Spanish and English.

Luis Tiant and his wife stood in the front row of the wood-beamed church as the two caskets, draped in white embroidered silk, were carried up the aisle. The light-colored palls and vestments of the priests were symbolic of the joy of the resurrection.

Among those attending the funeral were Red Sox Vice President and General Manager Dick O'Connell, state Treasurer Robert Crane and Tiant's agent, attorney Bob Woolf.

Two teammates attended: catcher Carlton Fisk, accompanied by his wife and daughter; and infielder Rick Burleson.

NL Stars Carrying Streaks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs' Bill Madlock, who repeated as batting champion this year, is among several National League players who will be carrying winning streaks into the 1977 baseball season.

Philadelphia's Mike Schmidt has won three straight home run titles. Cincinnati's Pete Rose has led the league in runs scored and doubles for the past three years, and the Los Angeles Dodgers' Davey Lopes has won the stolen base title two years in a row.

In official 1976 statistics released by the league office Saturday, it also was noted that second baseman Dave Cash has led in at-bats three straight seasons, totaling 666 with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1976. Cash became a free agent after the season and signed with the Montreal Expos.

Madlock's .339 batting average made him the league's first repeat winner since Rose won in 1968 and 1969. Schmidt slammed 38 homers, edging the New York Mets' Dave Kingman, who hit 37 despite missing 39 games. Schmidt also led in total bases with 306.

Rose totaled 130 runs and 42 doubles. He also led the league in hits, with 215, going over the 200-mark for the eighth time. Ty Cobb reached 200 hits for nine seasons, a major league record.

Lopes stole 63 bases in 117 games. He played in only 177 games. The previous year, he stole 77.

Instant Replay Campaign Starts

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — J.R. Derbes is looking for a million people who do not like the officiating in the National Football League.

He wants them to sign a petition calling for sideline instant replays to help officials on close calls. His plan also features an on-the-spot vote by competing coaches on whether a borderline call should be allowed to stand.

NFL officials McNally and Kensil said they told Derbes that his plan really contained nothing new but that they would consider it along with various other instant replay suggestions that are under study.

That is when Derbes decided to go to the fans. He said he was contacting women's groups in New Orleans, asking them to distribute his petitions nationwide within their various structures.

They both laughed at him, so he is taking his scheme to the public, he said. He said he is enlisting the aid of fans across the country, hoping to get his million signatures in time for the NFL meetings in March.

"On each side of the field, there'd be a TV monitor in front of the coach's bench," Derbes explained. "Each coach could view the instant replay and be allowed so many challenges per quarter."

"The idea is to give the coaches a chance to agree or disagree. Should they disagree, the referee would consult the instant replay. He'd still have the final say-so."

Derbes, 50, is involuntarily retired, the victim of heart trouble and emphysema. His campaign to revamp NFL officiating began Dec. 5 in Foxboro, Mass., after an official's decision gave New England one of four touchdowns it scored against the New Orleans Saints.

Pete Grogan fumbled at about the five-yard line, and the ball bounced into the end zone ahead of him. The Saints recovered, but the officials signalled touchdown, making the score 20-6. The Patriots went on to win 27-6.
